HOLDUP MAN CORNERED BY POLICE TAKES POISON, DIES

LEAVES NOTE TO HIS WIFE

"If What I Am About to Do Fails I Want You to Know It Will End a Very Happy Life With You."

Surrounded by policemen who were about to take him prisoner in South St. Louis this afternoon, a holdup man took poison and died almost instantly.

His body was identified at the morgue as that of Andrew de Nardi, 30 years old, of 4203 Cleveland avenue. To his wife, Muriel, who identified the body, he had left a note, found in his pocket, which concluded: "In the event that what I am about to do fails, I want you to know it will end a very happy life with you. Forgive me.

"ANDREW."

Surrounded in Yard.

Fifteen policemen, assembling rapidly in response to a burglar alarm turned in by an alert young woman and broadcast over the police radio, ran De Nardi to earth in a yard in 3400 block of Grand avenue, a few minutes after he had robbed an insurance company employe of $250 at Grand boulevard and Potomac street.

Victim of the holdup was Lawrence Pleimann of 7310A Minnesota avenue, an assistant cashier of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. Pleimann left the branch office at 3469 South Grand boulevard, at 3 o'clock, with $250 in cash and some checks, to be deposited in the Lafayette-South Side Bank.

"At the office door a man walked up to me with a pistol in his hand," he told policemen. "'Give me the money and do exactly as I tell you,' he said. He took the money from my hand and told me to walk south to Potomac street, just a few doors.

Woman Caught Signal.

"As we passed the Western Union office at 3473 South Grand boulevard the young woman manager was in the window. I made as much of a gesture as I dared to show her I was in trouble, and she caught the signal.

"Meanwhile, the holdup man had put his pistol in his pocket. He kept behind me and made me walk west in Potomac street. As we got to the alley west of Grand boulevard he said, 'Now, you run west as fast as you can go. I'm going up the alley.'

"He headed up the alley north from Potomac street, and I ran after him. He turned and fired two shots at me. Then I followed him at a greater distance, but I managed to keep him in sight.

"He turned west in Fairview avenue, the street north of Potomac, went west a half block, then out across a yard in the 3400 block of Grace avenue, the next street to the west.

"I saw him go to the back door of a house and apparently he asked for some water. A man brought a glass to the door and he drank it. Whether he took the poison then, or a few minutes later, I don't know. I could hear the police sirens as he ran down the steps into the back yard again."

Policemen quickly surrounded the shed to which the holdup man retreated. They shouted for him to surrender.

He came out unarmed. The policemen surrounded him.

"What's your name?" one of them demanded.

"This thing is bad enough as it is," the prisoner replied. "I will not give you my name."

Then he collapsed. He was put in an automobile and started for City Hospital.

Gives His Name to Police.

"Better tell us your name, son," one of the policemen said, as the machine started away.

"My name is Andrew De Nardi," he replied, in a weak voice. "I live at 42——." He fell back unconscious and was dead when the machine arrived at City Hospital.

Woman Tells Her Story.

The alarm had been given by Miss Thelma Buerger, 4259 Louisiana avenue, branch manager in the Western Union office.

"I knew something was wrong the minute I caught sight of Mr Pleimann," she said. "Usually he waves and smiles as he passes the Firm Solvent, Petition Says, but Receivers Are Named Because Partners Can't Agree on Way to Wind Up Business.

Suit for dissolution of the partnership of Mark C. Steinberg & Co., and appointment of a receiver, was filed in Circuit Court today by Steinberg.

The petition states assets of the concern are substantially in excess of liabilities and asks the appointment of a receiver because Steinberg and his eight partners have been unable to agree on a method of dissolution although they have agreed to discontinue the business and dissolve it. It is further stated that the concern is solvent.

Defendants named in the suit are the other partners, Paul E. Peltason, J. S. McCourtney, Gordon Scherck, Charles H. Patton, Hunter Breckenridge, Irwin R. Harris, John Grunik Jr. and Robert A. Waddell. However, it asserts, Steinberg will be "entitled to practically the entire net worth of the estate, because he owns the majority interest."

The mutual accounts of the partners, the petition continues, are long, involved and complicated, and a receiver is necessary in order to ascertain the nature of the accounts and to prevent losses." Another reason set up for the receivership is that the concern "has a multiplicity of creditors who are threatening to sue and such suits would result in unreasonable delays and losses."

The petition was immediately referred to Circuit Judge Hall, who appointed Steinberg and Milton H. Tucker, an attorney, as joint receivers under $50,000 bond. Judge Hall also appointed Seneca C. Taylor, the attorney who filed the suit, counsel for the receivers.

The brokerage company, one of the largest in the city, holds memberships in the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Stock Exchanges. It has offices in the Boatmen's Bank Building, in East St. Louis and in the Jefferson Hotel.

Investigator Gives Quick-Realization Figure for Match King's Assets.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 28. Prof. M. Fehr, investigating the tangled affairs of Ivar Kreuger, the Swedish match king who killed himself in Paris, said yesterday Kreuger's personal estate could be valued at only 400,000 kroner (about $78,400) at a quick realization. Kreuger was once rated one of the wealthiest men in the world.

He said the receivers would try to wind up the affairs of Kreuger & Toll. And associated companies slowly to conserve all possible assets.

Meanwhile Kreuger & Toll and associated companies have asked for an extension of the Government moratorium on their obligations from May 1 to May 31, pending completion of the investigations.

Negotiations between the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation and the L. M. Ericsson Co., have resulted in a preliminary agreement, according to the newspaper Nya Daglight, which assures the continuance of the Swedish company.

PILOT WHO SHOOK MOTOR FROM PLANE TO GET MEDAL

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28. — The first air mail pilot's medal for heroism will go to Mal B. Freeburg, who flies between Chicago and St. Paul. The presentation will be by President Hoover at a date to be selected.

On April 12, shortly after leaving Minneapolis, a motor of Freeburg's tri-motored plane shook loose and tangled up with the landing gear. Freeburg kept the plane aloft with the two remaining motors, flew to the Mississippi River, and by maneuvering shook the third motor into the river and then landed with eight passengers and mail.

Some time ago, flying the night mail between Minneapolis and Chicago, Freeburg discovered a railroad bridge on fire, and having passed a passenger train only a few miles back, turned his plane and went back by circling low over the engine and signaling with his landing lights, Freeburg caused the engineer to stop the train.

Among the passengers on the train that night was Bobby Jones, who just a few hours before had won the national open golf championship.

TIFFIN, O., April 28.—Baby Ginter, 11-year-old Pomeranian, was buried today at a cost of $1000. Frank Callahan, wealthy owner of Grand Circuit race horses, ordered scores of floral pieces for the funeral in the gardens of his estate. The body of his dog was placed in a $400 bronze casket and workmen built a concrete vault.

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL PASSED, SENT TO PRESIDENT

House Votes to Restore to Congress the Power to Change Import Duties.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Democratic tariff bill restoring to Congress all power to alter import duties was finally passed and sent to the President today by the House.

The vote on final passage was 202 to 171.

The House agreed to Senate amendments to the measure after an hour of debate in which the Republicans assailed the bill as without merit and predicted it would be vetoed by President Hoover.

Acting Chairman Crisp of the Ways and Means Committee said the bill would lead the way to lessening the tariff barriers of the world and would restore to Congress the right to fix rates on imports.

Ragon, (Dem.), Arkansas, declared that "the Republicans say they have a bulwark in the White House against this bill; they should have had one against the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill."

The bill was passed by the Senate, 42 to 30. Senate amendments accepted included a provision to prevent changes in duties recommended by the Tariff Commission from going into effect automatically in the event Congress fails to act.

The measure requests President Hoover to initiate a movement for an international economic conference with a view to lowering excessive tariff duties and eliminating discriminatory and unfair trade practices and other barriers affecting international trade and preventing retaliatory measures and economic wars.

REGAINS FLIGHT RECORD, ENGLAND TO AUSTRALIA

C. W. A. Scott Makes Trip in Eight Days, 20 Hours and 49 Minutes.

PORT DARWIN, Australia, April 28.—C. W. A. Scott landed here at 10:22 a. m. today after a flight from Lympne, England, in which he recovered his record for flights between England and Australia by beating the record of J. A. Butler five hours and 40 minutes.

Scott's time for the flight was eight days, 20 hours and 49 minutes. Butler's time, which was a slight improvement over the former record held by Scott for the 13,187 miles, was nine days, two hours and 29 minutes. Butler's flight was ended on Nov. 9 last year.

Scott was very tired when he landed amid the cheers of an enthusiastic crowd at the Litchfield Airdrome. He said he was "through with record-hunting" and wouldn't try for any more of them. He would go back to England, he said, "on a comfortable steamship." He faced strong head winds all the time during the last few days, he said, and crossed the shark-infested Timor Sea in the teeth of a terrific gale.

$4,234,561 CUT IN CITY BUDGET FOR COMING YEAR

Appropriation Bill Presented to Aldermen Is 14 Per Cent Less Than That of 1931-32.

SLASHES MADE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS

Some Employes Likely to Be Discharged—Bill Introduced Fixing Tax Rate at $2.74.

The annual appropriation bill, presented to the Board of Aldermen at its midday meeting today, fixes the total city budget for 1932-33 at $26,921,429.19, a reduction of $4,234,561.87, or 14 per cent, from last year's total of $31,155,991.06.

With the budget bill was introduced the bill fixing the tax rate for all purposes, city, state and schools, for 1932-33, at $2.74 on $100 valuation. The past year's rate was $2.71. President Neun of the board at once announced he would oppose any increase over last year's rate, and asked the board to stand with him. Neun said that he, as a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, opposed fixing the rate at $2.74, but was voted down by Mayor Miller and Comptroller Nolte.

The division of the tax rate is: Municipal purposes, exclusive of three fixed levies, $1.27; Public Library, 4 cents; Art Museum, 2 cents; Zoo, 2 cents, these items being the same as last year; city bond interest and sinking fund, 39 cents, 2 cents more than last year; schools, 85 cents, 2 cents less than last year; state, 15 cents, 3 cents more than last year.

To Hold Daily Hearings.

Deputy Comptroller Gunn, who was at the meeting of the board, said the Aldermen had no authority to change the rate for bond interest and sinking fund, which it was found necessary to increase. The only item they could change, he said, would be the $1.27 for general municipal purposes. If they reduced this by 3 cents, he estimated, the resultant decrease in revenue would be $357,000, and this would have to come out of the city departments subject to budget control, which have already been cut an verage of 17.5 per cent. School funds are not included in the city budget.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Aldermen will hold public hearings on the budget for several days, at 2 p. m., these meetings having begun today. The board also will meet daily.

Appropriations for all activities supported by municipal revenue, including the Police Department, and excluding the Water Department, bond interest and sinking fund, amount this year to $18,907,883.70. This is a decrease of $3,863,023.61, or 17.5 per cent from last year's corresponding appropriations, which amounted to $22,771,807.31.

Vacations Without Pay Favored.

This decrease, which the Board of Estimate and Apportionment deemed necessary to meet reductions in revenue resulting from the 10 per cent cut in real estate assessments and from other causes, will have to be met by the various departments through reductions in their costs, the nature of the cuts to be determined by each department head. Some employes probably will be discharged, though employes and department heads generally favor the plan of vacations without pay, and the stagger method of work, rather than reduction of the number of workers.

The standardization bill, prepared by the Efficiency Board and submitted to the Aldermen with the budget, makes no general cut in salaries of city employes. It contains 54 changes in hourly rate of pay for mechanics, the changes being in accord with the prevailing standards of pay, and 10 reductions of monthly wages, an estimated saving in all of $4000 a month.

Police Cut Own Budget.

The Police Department, which is not under budget control, the city being required to appropriate the full amount of its requirements, took a reduction of $359,500 from its last year's appropriation, by action of the Police Board. The police appropriation this year is $5,094,400, as compared with last year's appropriation of $5,453,900, of which the department spent $5,264,873, the balance reverting to the city treasury.

A large increase in the cost of elections and registration, over that of last year, was unavoidable, this being presidential election year, with a primary and four-day general registration, and next spring's primary and election being also in-

JURY STILL OUT IN TRIAL OF 4 FOR HAWAIIAN MURDER

DEFENDANTS GO TO PEARL HARBOR

Darrow Closed With Golden Rule Plea—Prosecutor Said Defense Was Based on Sentiment.

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, April 28. — At 10:20 a. m. today (2:50 p. m. St. Louis time), 18 hours after the case had been placed in its hands, no verdict had been reported by the jury trying Lieut. T. H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, A. O. Jones and E. J. Lord for the murder of Joseph Kahahawai. The victim is said to have confessed a criminal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie, the Lieutenant's wife.

The four defendants, who had dinner in a Honolulu hotel last night, waited there until after the jury was locked up, then returned to Pearl Harbor last night.

Early Verdict Not Expected.

Circuit Judge Skinner Davis went to the Judiciary Building early, but neither he nor any other court official expected a verdict soon. The general opinion on the street seemed to be that there would be a disagreement. This explained the lack of a crowd at the courthouse.

Judge Davis issued orders for the dispersal of any crowd which might gather around the Judiciary Building.

Judge Charles S. Davis instructed the jury that it could find the defendants, except Massie, guilty of second degree murder, guilty of manslaughter, or not guilty. As to Massie, the Judge said the verdict might be any one of these, with a possible verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity in addition.

A separate verdict for each of the defendants was ordered. Judge Davis also ruled that evidence regarding the assault on Mrs. Massie could be considered only as it related to Massie's mental state.

As to the defense contention Massie's mind went blank when he confronted the Hawaiian with a pistol and heard him confess, Judge Davis instructed that if a plea of insanity had been introduced, the burden of proof was on the prosecution to show the naval officer sane.

Can't Consider Attack on Wife.

The Judge warned the 12 men that "no man may take the law into his own hands, and the alleged fact that the deceased ravished the wife of one of the defendants cannot be considered."

To justify a second degree murder verdict, Judge Davis ruled, the jury would have to conclude the prosecution had proved the four persons killed Kahahawai and that they had intended to kill him.

However, the Judge said it would be necessary for the prosecution to have proved premeditation if it had shown the defendants entered into an agreement, the reasonable consequence of which was the slaying.

It was ruled all defendants could be convicted of second degree murder or manslaughter if the jury found that they conspired on Jan. 7 last, the day before the abduction and slaying, to kill, to threaten with a pistol or kidnap Kahahawai, providing it determined that the killing was the result of such conspiracy.

Judge Davis said if the jury decided Massie killed Kahahawai and was insane at the moment, and had not planned the killing, then none of the defendants could be convicted unless the prosecution had proved a conspiracy to do things, the reasonable consequences of which would be Kahahawai's death.

The penalty for second degree murder, the charge on which the four were brought to trial, is 20 years to life imprisonment. Manslaughter calls for a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison.

On the jury are five men of American descent, three Chinese, one Dane, one Portuguese, one German and one Hawaiian.

Darrow's Final Plea.

An intense plea in support of the insanity defense of Lieut. Massie and in behalf of the unwritten law, made by Clarence Darrow, and a fiery demand by Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley for conviction of the four defendants, preceded the instructions.

Darrow, who is in his seventy-fifth year, argued the events preceding the abduction and killing were not the work of the accused and that therefore they could not be blamed. He asked the jurors to apply the golden rule.

HOW CAPONE GOT DUCKS FOR HIS SOUP KITCHEN

Witness Says Grocery Chain Supplied Fowls to Avoid Short-Weight Prosecution

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Testimony that grocery chains were required to furnish food for "Scarface" Al Capone's soup kitchen in exchange for dismissal of short-weight charges was given yesterday at the trial of two former city officials on charges of conspiracy.

Witnesses also testified that the defendants, Daniel A. Serritella, former City Sealer, and his chief assistant, Harry Hochstein, collected thousands of dollars from groceries. Serritella now is a State Senator.

Evidence on the soup kitchen at which Capone is said to have fed 10,000 men through the winter of 1930-31, was given by Miss Helen Hoffman, secretary for a grocery chain. She said Serritella ordered the company to donate 100 ducks for "baskets to the poor" at Christmas in 1929. The ducks were delivered to Philip d'Andrea, Capone bodyguard, and a few days later the Capone soup kitchen gave a duck dinner for the unemployed, she said.

Serritella once told her, Miss Hoffman said, that her company paid him $6000 a year for not prosecuting short-weight charges. When the company received a court summons for short weighing, Miss Hoffman said, it would be taken to Serritella or Hochstein and nothing further would be heard of it.

L. M. Connors, branch manager of another chain of groceries, said his company was forced to contribute to Serritella's political campaigns "in order to escape prosecution" on "trumped up short-weight charges."

SENATE DECLARES BANKHEAD ENTITLED TO HIS SEAT

Vote Is 63 to 19; Appeal by Head of Investigating Committee Fails.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Senate today declared John H. Bankhead entitled to his seat as Senator from Alabama.

A last-minute appeal to refuse to accept Bankhead had been made by Senators Hastings (Rep.), Delaware, chairman of the committee which investigated the charges of irregularities that had been brought by former Senator Heflin (Dem.), Alabama. But, by 63 to 19, the Senate turned Hastings down and then voted 64 to 18 to recognize Bankhead as Senator.

Yesterday Bankhead held the floor for an hour and a half defending himself against charges that had been made against him in a speech of more than five hours the day before in the Senate by Heflin.

PLANNING NEXT MOVE IN EXCHANGE INQUIRY

Counsel for Senate Committee to Submit Recommendations; Bankers May Be Called.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Continuing to work in secret, the steering committee in charge of the Senate's stock market investigation instructed its counsel, William A. Gray, today to submit his recommendations for carrying on the inquiry.

Gray conferred with the committee for an hour and a half. Chairman Norbeck announced the committee would meet again tomorrow or the next day.

No agents are employed and no plan mapped out yet.

No mention was made, Norbeck said, of his threat to call bankers before the committee and require them to show why they have not extended further credit under the liberalized credit laws passed by Congress.

Norbeck charged the banks with thwarting the will of President Hoover and Congress, and with extensive hoarding. He based the accusation largely on the great shrinkage in the total of loans on securities made by Federal Reserve member banks during recent weeks. From March 9 to April 20 they show a continuous decline amounting in all to $309,000,000. In contrast during the past three weeks, he said, the reserve system has "manufactured credit wholesale."

His statement carried the definite threat that if "these banks keep on forcing liquidation and refuse credit made available to them" he would recommend that the Banking Committee, making the stock investigation, go into this angle fully.

"If this liquidation continues," he said, "we must find out what part the bankers are playing in forcing down the value of American property to 'junk' prices. The bear raiders are bad enough; the bankers should not help them."

The shrinkage in loans he added, "proves that part of the supply of securities which has been causing the decline in all the security markets has been coming from these banks; and it is apparent that the action of the commercial banks in this respect is a major contribution to the present lack of confidence and crippled condition of business.

Secret planning was resumed by the committee today in preparation for further hearings, and there was an expectation agents would be dispatched to New York to go through brokerage house records without any previous announcement.

INSURGENTS STRIKE OUT $64,000,000 IN SAVINGS

Once More Ignore Its Leaders, House Group Defeats Economy Bill Provision Eliminating Saturday Half Holidays,

HOOVER FURLOUGH PROPOSAL DEFEATED

Chairman McDuffie Demands of His Colleagues; "Are You Going to Kick Out This Program and Do Nothing?"

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—United insurgents again wrested House control from party leaders today, struck effectively at the omnibus economy bill, then attacked the Hoover payless furlough plan for Federal workers.

With an enthusiasm born of previous victories, the coalition knocked out of the measure a provision to eliminate Saturday half holidays for Federal workers.

The vote on the amendment sponsored by Representative McCormack (Dem.), Massachusetts, was 141 to 118 by tellers. This item had been estimated to save $9,000,000 in 1933. It brought to $64,000,000 the total of expected savings struck from the $200,000,000 retrenchment measure.

By a vote of 176 to 159, the Hoover furlough plan for Federal employes was rejected.

An amendment by Representative Cooper, (Rep.) Ohio, to decrease the salaries of Congressmen from $10,000 to $8000 was defeated by a vote of 144 to 35.

Representative Ramseyer of Iowa, Republican member of the Economy Committee, offered it as a substitute for the riddled McDuffie 11 per cent pay cut plan.

The Hoovert plan is estimated to save about $82,000,000 as compared with the $12,000,000 saving left in the McDuffie proposal after the successful insurgent raid of last night which increased the exemption from $1000 to $2500.

Naval Supply Bill Passed.

Earlier, the House responded to the plea of Chairman Byrns of the Appropriations Committee not to approve the Darrow amendment to the $326,000,000 naval supply bill calling for $1,000,000 for a hospital at Philadelphia. The vote was 122 to 111.

The bill was passed and sent to the Senate without a record vote after the House had approved committee reductions of $14,000,000 in the budget estimates.

By a vote of 198 to 20, the House rejected a motion by Representative Schafer (Rep.), Wisconsin, to send the navy bill back to the Appropriations Committee for a general 10 per cent reduction.

During the day the House approved the Economy Committee's proposals to reduce permanently to $10,000 each the annual salaries of members of the Shipping Board, the Federal Reserve Board, Interstate Commerce Committee Tariff Commission, Farm Board and Board of Mediation.

It also accepted a proposal to permit President Hoover, the Cabinet officers and members of the Supreme Court, whose salaries are fixed by the Constitution, to return any portion of their compensation to the Federal treasury.

Cut in U. S. Judges' Pay.

A provision to cut salaries of all Federal Judges to $10,000, unless fixed by the Constitution, was approved.

Salaries of members of the International Joint Commission (United States and Canada) were reduced to $5000 each from $10,000. After Ramseyer had explained the provisions of the Hoover furlough plan, Chairman McDuffie turned to the House and said: "Yesterday you stampeded and cut out $55,000,000. Today you come and take $9,000,000 more. What are you going 'o do with this program? Kick it out an ddo nothing in the way of economy? I agree with the President's principle of saving Government funds but he goes at it the wrong way."

Revolting for the second time this session against the party leaders, a majority of the Representatives at a turbulent session last night slashed into the provision for cutting salaries and wages of Government employes and exempted all pay up to $2500 from the 11 per cent reduction. To prevent further inroads on the retrenchment plan, Chairman McDuffie of the

Lineup of Delegates in Doubt, as They Are Not Bound by Result of Preferential Primary.

'BAG OF BOODLE' FOR EX-GOVERNOR

Two Philadelphia Officials Charge Huge Expenditures for Votes and Threaten Contests.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—Latest unofficial figures from 6249 districts of the 8181 in the State, in Tuesday's primary, gave Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt a lead in the Democratic presidential preference voting of 22,737 over former Gov. were Roosevelt 98,468, Smith 75,731.

The cumbersome ballot and many Republican contests which impelled the tellers to count that party's votes first held up information as to how far Smith had made inroads on the 60 to 70 delegate votes which Roosevelt expected to win.

Pennsylvania has 76 votes at Chicago, 68 cast by as many district delegates and 8 cast by 16 delegates at large.

From the list of 50 of the 68 district Democratic delegates whose election was established today, Roosevelt followers claimed 33 to 17 claimed by Smith's supporters.

Delegates Not Bound.

In the race for delegates-at-large, "harmony" candidates, who had promised to support the popular choice, held the lead and anti-Roosevelt candidates trailed. Roosevelt headquarters claimed seven and one-half votes of the eight to be cast by these delegates. The preferential expression does not bind even those delegates who agreed to be guided by it.

The figures include virtually complete returns from Philadelphia and Pittsburg, where Smith was thought to have his principal strength.

The charge that supporters of Smith spent "a bag of boodle" to win delegates for him in this city was made yesterday by County Commissioner John O'Donnell and Registration Commissioner Thomas E. McDermott.

The two officials, who are supporting the presidential candidacy of Roosevelt, announced they would contest the election of Smith delegates in several of the seven Congressional districts.

Statement of Accuser.

"Reports have come to me," O'Donnell said, "that the New York crowd supporting Al Smith sent in huge sums of money for no other purpose than to elect men who will block the candidacy of Gov. Roosevelt.

"This is in the face of the fact that Smith never will be a candidate at the Chicago convention. Smith will withdraw as soon as he thinks he has eliminated Gov. Roosevelt.

"The amount of money spent in this city ranged from $5 to $15 a vote, I am told."

The Republicans nominated United States Senator James J. Davis for a second term over the opposition of the dry Gen. Smedley D. Butler, nominated Representative Louis T. McFadden, critic of President Hoover, to a second term from the Fifteenth Congressional District and defeated various Philadelphia candidates who tried to buck the William S. Vare organization.

Michigan Republicans Vote for Prohibition Referendum.

By the Associated Press.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 28.—Amid charges of "pussyfooting" voiced by supporters of outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment, the Republican State convention yesterday adopted a resolution favoring resubmission of the question to the states.

The convention pledged the Michigan delegation to the national convention to President Hoover's renomination.

A roll call showed 847 votes for a prohibition referendum and 545 for absolute repeal. As adopted the resolution said that "while the eighteenth amendment is not primarily a party issue," the Republican party is "always willing to let the people express their wishes." It called for a referendum on submission of the amendment to a constitutional convention.

Kentucky's Pledge Assures Hoover of More Than Majority.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28.—Enough votes to renominate President Hoover at Chicago in June appeared certain as a result of the pledge of Kentucky's 25 to him at the Republican State convention here yesterday. Counting instructed, pledged and claimed votes, he will have 22 more than the necessary majority.

The State's delegation was instructed to work and vote for Hoover and Vice President Curtis. Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National Committee, was chosen by the delegation as its chairman.

Says Smith Campaign Cost Less Than $3000 in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, April 28.—Frank J. Donahue, chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Massachusetts, said yesterday in a telegram to P. M. Abbott, executive secretary of the Al Smith Presidential League of California, that the Smith campaign in this State cost less than $3000 "against $150,000 spent by our opponents." Smith won the Massachusetts delegation in Tuesday's primary.

Donahue also told Abbott the presidential fight had just begun; that Smith's principal opponent had not yet won the delegates of a single state, outside the South, which would vote Democratic in November, and that the eyes of the country were on California which holds its presidential primary May 3.

Roosevelt-Smith Fight in Connecticut Today.

By the Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 28.—Delegates to the Democratic State convention where supporters of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith expect to wage a hard fight for Connecticut's 16 delegates to the national convention, will be chosen today in Statewide primaries.

Thomas J. Spellacy, former National Committeeman and leader of the Smith forces, predicted that at least 500 of the 968 delegates to the State convention would be favorable to the presidential candidacy of the former New York Governor.

Six of the eight counties were asserted to be favorable to Roosevelt by Archibald McNeil, whose post as National Committeeman will also be at stake in today's primaries.

Election of Roosevelt Delegates Assured in Alaska.

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 28.—The election of the Franklin D. Roosevelt pledged delegation to the Democratic national convention headed by John W. Troy, chairman of the Territorial Democratic Committee, appeared assured today as returns continued to come in from Tuesday's primary.

With six votes at the convention, both contesting slates of delegates were pledged to the New York Governor. The delegation to the Republican convention is avowedly pro-Hoover.

office, but this time he was worried, and solemn.

"The way he nodded to me would have told anybody he was in trouble. Without even thinking it over I grabbed the telephone, asked the operator to call the police and then got out on the corner to direct the first officers. They were there almost immediately, and I told them to go west on Potomac street."

Other policemen found his pistol, a 25-caliber automatic, where he had dropped it in the yard. He had about $200 in his pockets and the remainder of the loot he had dropped near the pistol. The note found in his pocket was as follows:

"Dear Muriel: For the past few weeks I have tried to prepare you for this. All my papers are at home. I know that what I am about to do is wrong, but I have to have money to carry on. I've tried to borrow from my friends, but I have been unsuccessful. My intention was to repay John Hancock as soon as I was able. I couldn't bear to go to prison. Please try to understand and forgive. In the event that what I am about to do fails I want you to know it will end a very happy life with you. Forgive me."

Mrs. De Nardi told police she and De Nardi had been married four years. He had operated an artificial flower and novelty shop and had been in discouraging financial circumstances for many months, she said. They had no children, but two of her children by a former marriage lived with them at the Cleveland avenue address.

W. K. KAVANAUGH, ADVOCATE OF DEEP WATERWAY, DIES

William Kerr Kavanaugh died of pneumonia last night at his home, 4721 Westminster place, within a year of realizing a dream of 25 years—the deep waterway to be completed from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Mr. Kavanaugh, who came to St. Louis in 1878 as a $25-a-week clerk in the State National Bank, rose to national prominence in the coal industry and the waterways movement. He was president of the Southern Coal, Coke & Mining Co. and had been president of the Wiggins Ferry Co., St. Louis Transfer Railway Co., and East St. Louis Connecting Railway Co. He organized and headed the old Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway Association, which first focused national attention on connected and uniform improvement of the great Mississippi system.

He was "a river man" from boyhood. Born in 1860 at Sweet Springs, Mo., he entered the business of shipping railroad ties on the Missouri from St. Aubert to Kansas City on the death of his father, when he was 16. In the first year he made $2300. Then his uncle, a Methodist minister in St. Louis and a brother of Bishop Kavanaugh of Kentucky, persuaded him to come to St. Louis and take the clerkship.

Helped the Deaf.

His father, Richard Kavanaugh, had been afflicted with deafness and for a time had taught in the Missouri School for the Deaf at Fulton. Years later the son was appointed a member of the board governing the school, with the outspoken approval of organizations for the deaf. Every summer, when he owned Kennett Castle, built at a cost of $125,000 before the Civil War and landmark on the Mississippi 42 miles below St. Louis since 1854, he took a group of the deaf there as his guests for the season.

In 1897 Mr. Kavanaugh was one of a committee which went before Congress to urge a 9-foot channel from St. Louis to Cairo, Ill. Seven years later he and W. F. Saunders were told by an apathetic Congressman that waterways sentiment lacked unity and organization and from that suggestion grew the old Deep Waterway Association and, ultimately, the powerful Mississippi Valley Association, uniting the waterway groups of 26 states.

Mr. Kavanaugh was joined in the movement 25 years ago by James E. Smith, president of the old Business Men's League, who had just returned from Europe an enthusiastic convert to waterways, and together they stood out as national leaders of the movement.

How the System Has Developed.

They talked 14-foot channels in the days when the Deep Waterway Association induced Presidents Taft and Roosevelt to make Mississippi cruises, but boat design has advanced with channel improvement to make such depth a luxury. Nine feet suffices now. Boats already are plying the Lakes-to-the-Gulf route to Peoria, and 9-foot channels have been completed or authorized throughout an inland system of nearly 15,000 miles.

As chairman of the Chamber of Commerce River Committee and an officer of the Mississippi Valley Association, Mr. Kavanaugh, because of the cool judgment which was perhaps his outstanding gift, has remained a deciding factor in major questions of waterways policy. His old comrade, James E. Smith, is ranking Advisory Board member of the Inland Waterways Corporation, which operates the Federal barge lines.

Mr. Kavanaugh was educated at Westminster College, where his father was an instructor. In 1890 he married Edna Boggs Kavanaugh of Pittsburg. A divorce in 1914 was followed six years later by his marriage to Mrs. Cora Shupp Mullikin of Chicago, who survives. He is survived also by two children of the first marriage, Josiah Boggs Kavanaugh of Chicago and Mrs. Sarah Alban of London.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Singleton Memorial Chapel of St. John's M. E. Church, with interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Economy Committee forced an adjournment.

Passage of some sort of economy bill still is expected, but few think it will resemble the draft built up in two months of study by the special committee, partly in co-operation with President Hoover and his aids.

At the beginning of the fight, Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, moved to strike out the restriction on the number of amendments to be offered. This was approved overwhelmingly, without a record vote.

Finally a liberalized rule of procedure was adopted with 100 Republicans and 119 Democrats voting for it, for a total of 219, while 75 Republicans and 88 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor, a total of 164, voted no.

It was agreed that there should be two hours of general debate followed by consideration of amendments and that the measure be attached to the $20,000,000 legislative supply bill carying funds for the salaries of members of Congress.

GOVERNORS VISIT SHRINES, CALL ON HOOVER TONIGHT

At Tomb of Washington, Pinchot Says U. S. Has Lost Liberty Gained by First President.

By the Associated Press.

MOUNT VERNON, Va., April 28.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, speaking at the tomb of George Washington, today said Americans had lost the liberty "gained by Washington, made super by Lincoln and applied to modern problems by Roosevelt."

"But today there is no Washington to lead us against autocracy—against the suffering that goes with tyranny—against Government without consent of the governed," he said. "There is no Lincoln to free modern slaves. There is no Roosevelt to warn us of the tyranny created by concentrated wealth—a concentration our Government has the right and the means to stop, but which, instead, it has promoted by every means in its power."

Pinchot, speaking before Governors who attended the annual conference at Richmond, said there was nothing new to be said about Washington after 133 years of praise from a grateful people, and he struck vigorously at modern conditions he held to be antagonistic to Washington's ideals.

"The ruthless exploiting of wage-earners and farmers—the unequal division of profits that dried up purchasing power and was the main cause of the depression—taxation that released the over-rich at the expense of the average man and woman—the system which allows stock gamblers to amass huge fortunes without a stroke of useful work—all these things are shameful examples of how we have lost the liberty Washington won."

Caulfield Pays Tribute to Mother of Washington.

By the Associated Press.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., April 28.—Governors of more than 20 American commonwealths joined today in a tribute to Mary, mother of George Washington praised by Gov. Henry S. Caulfield of Missouri as typifying the finest example of American motherhood.

A wreath was placed on the tomb of the mother of the first President by Gov. Ibra Blackwood of South Carolina, at the conclusion of the memorial services.

From the memorial exercises the Governors went to Kenmore, home of Betty Fielding Lewis, sister of Washington, for luncheon as guests of the Kenmore Association. There Gov. Richard Russell of Georgia planted a tree on the lawn of the old mansion in honor of Mrs. Vivian Minor Fleming, a native Georgian, president of the Kenmore since it was founded in 1922.

The Governors arrived in this historic city, known to the boy Washington, at 10:30 o'clock and were received at the old law offices of President James Monroe by Mrs. Gouveneur Hoes and her son, Lawrence, descendants of the former President and owners of the shrine.

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York received an ovation at the Monroe shrine, where he placed a wreath on the Monroe tablet and participated in the cutting of a cake to mark the 174th anniversary of the former President.

Gov. John G. Pollard of Virginia read a telegram from President Hoover expressing the President's admiration for Monroe and saying "The Monroe Doctrine had a very benign effect on the whole Western Hemisphere and was a service to our country of far-reaching value."

Henry Ford, who with Mrs. Ford was here today on a tour of historic gardens, did not accompany the Governors but was extended an nivitation to attend the luncheon at Kenmore.

The life of Mary Ball Washington calls to mind the debt owing to mothers, not only by their children, but by the whole world, Gov. Caulfield said.

"All mothers are makers of men," he said. "As the twig is bent, so is the tree inclined. In his earliest years man's character is formed. Mothers shape the destiny of men.

"This mother of the nation's greatest son is credited by all with having exercised a marked influence in forming his character. Washington acknowledged his indebtedness to her for all his moral, intellectual and physical training, and to her he gave credit for all his achievements and success."

At 8 o'clock the Governors will attend a formal dinner at the White House and will be greeted by President Hoover, who yesterday in Richmond urged a redistribution of taxation and reduction in Federal, state and local expenditures.

UTILITY'S ASSETS WRITTEN UP $18,300,000, EXPERT SAYS

Tells Trade Commission Northern States Power Swelled Book Value of Holdings.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28. — The transfer to the books of the Northern States Power Co. in 1928 of assets of its Wisconsin companies was described today at a Federal Trade Commission hearing. O. K. Ogle, commission accountant, testified that the assets transferred, property rights and franchises, had been increased in book value without any addition to actual holdings.

The transfer was described by Ogle as constituting $6,589,615 of a total gross writeup in the system of $18,378,207. Of the $6,598,615 item transferred from the Wisconsin companies' books to those of the Northern States, $3,642,370 was added to the depreciation account leaving a net writeup on this item of $2,947,245.

TWO KILLED BY TARGET SHOT FROM PLANE BY MACHINE GUN

Object Falls on Ground Firing Squad at Fort Riley, Kan., When Cable Is Severed.

By the Associated Press.

FORT RILEY, Kan., April 28.—Sergt. Charles Cross and Private Laverne D. Mitchell were fatally injured yesterday when a target suspended from an airplane fell on them after its cable was severed by machine gun fire. Mitchell and Cross were members of a practice group which was firing at the target as it was carried about 80 feet above a hill on which the group was located.

Cross, about 35 years old, and Mitchell, about 28, were both married. They were members of Troop B, Second Cavalry.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Tammany Hall is trying to find some way of stopping the Seabury investigation of New York City affairs. John F. Curry, Tammany chief, took counsel yesterday with the minority (Democratic) members of the Hofstadter committee of the Legislature to consider what might be done to block the investigation of Mayor Walker.

Three Democratic members of the committee asked Attorney-General John J. Bennett Jr. for an opinion on whether Samuel Seabury, committee counsel, legally can withhold from them the records of testimony taken at private hearings. They were told to make a formal request in writing.

Democratic leaders would keep Seabury from producing in public sessions such disclosures as the testimony that the Fageol Motors Co., an Ohio corporation, contributed to Mayor Walker's first campaign fund and that State Senator John A. Hastings had been on the payroll of the Equitable Bus Corporation at a salary of $1000 a month.

None of the Democrats participating in yesterday's deliberations—Senators John J. McNaboe, John J. Dunnigan, Louis A. Cuvillier and Irwin Steingut, among others—would comment, but it was said that no action would be taken until after an executive meeting of the Hofstadter committee tomorrow. It is hoped to have the opinion of the Attorney-General by that time.

The investigation was attacked from another angle yesterday when the New York County grand jury returned a perjury indictment against Louis H. Willard, the committee's star witness against Bronx Commissioner of Public Works William J. Flynn. Willard accused Flynn of driving his (Willard's) wife to suicide, himself to the verge of suicide and of ruining his business through misuse of official power. Flynn charged that Willard perjured himself in swearing that he had never practiced law in Rochester, N. Y., without a license.

HOOVER TO GO TO RAPIDAN CAMP

Will Spend Week-end With His "Medicine Ball Cabinet."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Hoover decided today to go Saturday to his Rapidan fishing camp in the Virginia Mountains for what one of his aids said would be "his first real rest in seven months."

Accompanying the President will be Mrs. Hoover and members of his "medicine ball cabinet," who gather daily on the south lawn of the White House for early morning exercise. They will fish, hike, ride or just sit on the porch—anything but work. The party probably will leave here early Saturday and return late Sunday.

DEFENDANT DENIES PART IN FRAUD IN "ST. LOUIS LLOYDS"

Man Accused of Misuse of Mails Says He Did Not Know Firm Was Not Incorporated.

The case of James B. Kent, ee-lance securities salesman, charged with mail fraud in the promotion of St. Louis Underwriters, Inc., in which investors lost $28,000, is scheduled to go to a jury in Federal Judge Davis' court late today.

Kent concluded his testimony in his own defense this morning, maintaining he did not know the inner details of the company's organization; was not aware that it was not even incorporated, and sold no stock.

Kent declared he was hired as a salesman by Charles W. Good, now serving a two-year prison term for his part in the promotion of the mpany.

"Told About Big Names."

"I had known Good about three years," he testified. "In hiring me he told me that Phil A. Bennett and Hiram Lloyd, former Lieutenant Governors of Missouri, were to be officers and directors and said the company would operate like Lloyds of London, insuring almost everything.

"I was hired only as a salesman to help raise a $50,000 incorporation fund. I was to get 15 per cent subscriptions I sold. I had no other interest in the company and no stock was promised to me. My commissions should have been $1500, but I got only half that much although I paid my own expenses.

"Good told me that if the organization was not perfected the subscribers would get their money back, minus expenses incurred. I informed all our subscribers to that effect. I was advised by a lawyer to get the subscribers' signatures to a list stating they were merely subscribing to a pre-corporation fund, and were not buying any stock.

"Good did most of the talking. I never represented at any time that the company was incorporated. I met Bennett and at one time ted as his chauffeur on a trip to Kansas City. On another occasion I accompanied Bennett to Coulterville because he wanted to know if customers there were satisfied."

Denials by Bennett, Lloyd.

As Government witnesses, Bennett and Lloyd have testified that they were asked to become officers and directors of the company, but declined to be allied with it until details of incorporation were completed. Bennett added that he had conferred several times with other en who had been invited to beme officers.

Concluding his direct testimony, Kent declared he signed no receipts for stock payments and that he left Good's employ before a complaint was received from a subscriber.

"I went to New York," he said, "and when I returned, during the summer of 1930, I was surprised to hear that something was wrong. I never saw a stock certificate at that time and had no reason to suspect anything was wrong. I looked up Good. He told me the company had been incorporated and everything was all right."

Kent was a witness in the recent investigation of the sale by former Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener of $18,000 in bonds stolen from e Farmers' and Merchants' Bank Hannibal last October. Kent introduced the former prosecutor to the broker in Decatur, Ill., who bought the securities and later discovered they were stolen.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Tammany Hall is trying to find some way of stopping the Seabury investigation of New York City affairs. John F. Curry, Tammany chief, took counsel yesterday with the minority (Democratic) members of the Hofstadter committee of the Legislature to consider what might be done to block the investigation of Mayor Walker.

Three Democratic members of the committee asked Attorney-General John J. Bennett Jr. for an opinion on whether Samuel Seabury, committee counsel, legally can withhold from them the records of testimony taken at private hearings. They were told to make a formal request in writing.

Democratic leaders would keep Seabury from producing in public sessions such disclosures as the testimony that the Fageol Motors Co., an Ohio corporation, contributed to Mayor Walker's first campaign fund and that State Senator John A. Hastings had been on the payroll of the Equitable Bus Corporation at a salary of $1000 a month.

None of the Democrats participating in yesterday's deliberations—Senators John J. McNaboe, John J. Dunnigan, Louis A. Cuvillier and Irwin Steingut, among others—would comment, but it was said that no action would be taken until after an executive meeting of the Hofstadter committee tomorrow. It is hoped to have the opinion of the Attorney-General by that time.

The investigation was attacked from another angle yesterday when the New York County grand jury returned a perjury indictment against Louis H. Willard, the committee's star witness against Bronx Commissioner of Public Works William J. Flynn. Willard accused Flynn of driving his (Willard's) wife to suicide, himself to the verge of suicide and of ruining his business through misuse of official power. Flynn charged that Willard perjured himself in swearing that he had never practiced law in Rochester, N. Y., without a license.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Hoover decided today to go Saturday to his Rapidan fishing camp in the Virginia Mountains for what one of his aids said would be "his first real rest in seven months."

Accompanying the President will be Mrs. Hoover and members of his "medicine ball cabinet," who gather daily on the south lawn of the White House for early morning exercise. They will fish, hike, ride or just sit on the porch—anything but work. The party probably will leave here early Saturday and return late Sunday.

DEFENDANT DENIES PART IN FRAUD IN "ST. LOUIS LLOYDS"

The case of James B. Kent, free-lance securities salesman, charged with mail fraud in the promotion of St. Louis Underwriters, Inc., in which investors lost $28,000, is scheduled to go to a jury in Federal Judge Davis' court late today.

Kent concluded his testimony in his own defense this morning, maintaining he did not know the inner details of the company's organization; was not aware that it was not even incorporated, and sold no stock.

Kent declared he was hired as a salesman by Charles W. Good, now serving a two-year prison term for his part in the promotion of the company.

"Told About Big Names."

"I had known Good about three years," he testified. "In hiring me he told me that Phil A. Bennett and Hiram Lloyd, former Lieutenant Governors of Missouri, were to be officers and directors and said the company would operate like Lloyds of London, insuring almost everything.

"I was hired only as a salesman to help raise a $50,000 incorporation fund. I was to get 15 per cent of subscriptions I sold. I had no other interest in the company and no stock was promised to me. My commissions should have been $1500, but I got only half that much although I paid my own expenses.

"Good told me that if the organization was not perfected the subscribers would get their money back, minus expenses incurred. I informed all our subscribers to that effect. I was advised by a lawyer to get the subscribers' signatures to a list stating they were merely subscribing to a pre-corporation fund, and were not buying any stock.

"Good did most of the talking. I never represented at any time that the company was incorporated. I met Bennett and at one time acted as his chauffeur on a trip to Kansas City. On another occasion I accompanied Bennett to Coulterville because he wanted to know if customers there were satisfied."

Denials by Bennett, Lloyd.

As Government witnesses, Bennett and Lloyd have testified that they were asked to become officers and directors of the company, but declined to be allied with it until details of incorporation were completed. Bennett added that he had conferred several times with other men who had been invited to become officers.

Concluding his direct testimony, Kent declared he signed no receipts for stock payments and that he left Good's employ before a complaint was received from a subscriber.

"I went to New York," he said, "and when I returned, during the summer of 1930, I was surprised to hear that something was wrong. I never saw a stock certificate at that time and had no reason to suspect anything was wrong. I looked up Good. He told me the company had been incorporated and everything was all right."

Kent was a witness in the recent investigation of the sale by former Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener of $18,000 in bonds stolen from the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Hannibal last October. Kent introduced the former prosecutor to the broker in Decatur, Ill., who bought the securities and later discovered they were stolen.

JURY IS STILL OUT IN TRIAL OF 4 FOR HAWAIIAN MURDER

listeners, Darrow reviewed in detail how Mrs. Massie was bruised and beaten in the attack; how the ordeal had preyed on Massie's mind and how ugly rumors about Mrs. Massie's character sprang up after a jury had disagreed as to the guilt of five men accused by her.

Darrow attacked the witness stand appearance of Dr. Joseph Catton, prosecution alienist, who contradicted defense testimony that Massie was insane the moment of the tragedy. He also attacked the prosecution for bringing into the case Massie's testimony of how he and his wife, then Miss Thalia Fortescue, had been accused of kidnaping in Patchogue, L. I., five years ago when they found a baby in a perambulator and trundled it down the street as a prank. Then he defended Massie's story of the killing.

At one point Darrow forgot the name of one of the defendants. He turned to Kelley and asked what it was.

"Don't you know?" Kelley asked.

"Yes, but it has popped my mind," said the aged Chicago criminal lawyer.

"It's Lord," Kelley supplied.

"Lord—that's right," said Darrow, turning back to the jury.

Arguing that the defendants had become enmeshed in a web of circumstances not of their own making, Darrow said:

"I want to call your attention to whether there was a reason over which they had no control—Massie's mind. I listened to Dr. Catton spinning his story in his own mind like a spider, for what he could get out of it.

"We contend that for months Massie's mind was affected by all that was borne upon him—grief, sorrow, trouble, day after day, week after week and month after month. What do you think would have happened to any one of you under the circumstances? We judge other people by ourselves."

Referring to the beating and assaulting of Mrs. Massie, Darrow said: "She didn't have anything to do with it. But you can't find a more cruel experience in all literature."

Assails State Alienist.

Darrow reiterated Massie had not been mentally responsible, asserting that in the midst of his trouble he had spent his days on duty and his night's nursing Mrs. Massie. Then Darrow agan assailed Dr. Catton.

"He said Massie was not insane, but in another case he testified a man was insane who killed his wife when caught committing adultery. That time the other man got there first to hire him. He is like a spider waiting for a fly—absolutely impartial and ready to take the first one that comes along."

Darrow told how the rumors about Mrs. Massie's character had spread after the jury disagreement in the case of Kahahawai and four other men accused of the attack, and of the rumor it was Massie and not Kahahawai who had broken her jaw.

"I wonder what fate has against this family, anyway," he said. Darrow brought tears to the eyes of Mrs. Fortescue and many women in the audience when he referred to her with:

"Here she is, waiting to go to the penitentiary. If she goes, with this husband and these faithful boys, it won't be the first time a prison has been sanctified by its inmates.

"And when people come to your beautiful isle the first place they shall want to see will be the penitentiary. And men will marvel and wonder at the cruelty of man and at the injustice that has been done. If these defendants are sent to prison it will place a blot on these fair islands that not all the waters of the Pacific can wash away."

Darrow contended that the fatal shot "only happened" and that it was not a reasonable consequence. "It's one thing," he said, "to write law books about what a man should do and quite another to say what you would do when faced with such a picture as Massie saw," when he allegedly heard Kahahawai confess attacking Mrs. Massie. "I ask you," said Darrow, "to put yourselves in his place, and man can judge in no other way."

In concluding, Darrow proclaimed his kindliness toward all races, and directed a special remark to the three Chinese on the jury. He said he never had known the Eastern races, "but they have their place in the sun."

With brevity and fire Kelley whirled into his final argument.

"You have been presented with a defense of sympathy, not of insanity," he said. "If you are going to decide this case on passion, then tell me and I'll be silent."

Kelley asserted Massie had taken his wife, against her desires, to a dance the night of the attack, and that the naval officer was responsible for it all.

"They sacrificed that girl," Kelley shouted, pointing to Mrs. Massie, "for his ego and made a Roman holiday for the crowd that disgraced this court with applause last week."

Kelley hinted disbelief in Massie's admission that he held the pistol which killed Kahahawai, and said: "He couldn't hide behind the skirts of his mother-in-law, nor behind the two sailors who helped him. The best you can say for him is that he lied like a gentleman."

Kelley asserted all Hawaii was on trial in the present case, referring to the investigations and Federal action that followed the outbreak of public sentiment here after the slaying.

Shortly before the jury retired the 12 men were observed through a window of the jury room, pacing up and down.

Instead of returning to the Pearl Harbor naval station as had been their custom, the defendants spent the night at a downtown hotel.

Darrow announced last night this would be the last case of any importance he expects to enter. He said that when his work was done here he and Mrs. Darrow planned to remain in Hawaii a week or so for a vacation.

CHARGES ILLEGAL OPERATIONS IN 5 OKLAHOMA DEATHS

Prosecutor Says Two State University Students Were Among Victims — Two Doctors Sought.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., April 28.—The disclosure that five girls have died here recently as the result of alleged criminal operations was made today by County Attorney Lewis R. Morris, investigating the deaths of two University of Oklahoma students. The students, Mrs. Frank Lee, 17-year-old secret bride of a university athlete, and Virginia Lee Wyckoff, 21, died here a few days ago.

Dr. Richard E. Thacker, charged with murder in the recent death of Miss Robbie Lou Thompson, 21-year-old telegraph company employe, has disappeared. Police throughout the country will be asked to search for him.

Another physician named by relatives of one of the dead students will be questioned.

Morris said that, before the death of the college girls, his office was working on two other similar cases. His early investigation, he said, revealed that several city homes were being used as hospitals. He estimated a "ring of at least 12 doctors" were performing the operations.

An investigator was assigned to check a report that six university students submitted to blood transfusions in an attempt to save one of the students who died. This was an effort to learn the circumstances under which the girls were taken to hospitals.

Dr. W. B. Bizsell, president of the university, located at Norman, said he was "determined to get to the bottom of the matter." School authorities are co-operating with State and county authorities in the inquiry.

WABASH RAILROAD FINED $100 FOR VIOLATING SHIPPING LAW

"I Hope U. S. Gets Back at Least That Much of $7,100,000," Lawyer Says.

The Wabash Railroad, which has borrowed $7,100,000 from the United States through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was fined $100 today by Federal Judge Faris for a minor technical violation of interstate commerce regulations.

"Very well, your honor," said Homer Hall, counsel for the railroad, which is in receivership, "I hope the Government eventually gets at least $100 of the money it has lent us."

Judge Faris bowed. "Small favors thankfully received," he replied.

The case involved a shipment of six tubercular cattle to National Stockyards on the East Side from Udell, Ia. The railroad's agent in Iowa neglected to stamp on the way bill the information that the cattle were tubercular, but discovered his omission and sent the cattle inspector's certificates to the stockyards where they arrived before the cattle.

BLIMP MAKES STOP HERE

The blimp, "Volunteer," owned by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., landed at Lambert-St. Louis Field at 11 a. m. today en route from Los Angeles, Cal., to New York. Local Goodyear officials were on hand to greet Pilot V. L. Smith, who carried a letter from the Mayor of Los Angeles to Mayor Miller urging attendance at the Olympic games this summer.

The blimp departed 35 minutes later.

WATCHMAN KILLS HIMSELF

James Roberts, 43 years old, a watchman, shot and killed himself in the bedroom of his home, 4328 Laclede avenue, yesterday, after attracting his mother's attention to his act by saying: "I'm going to do it in front of you."

Shortly before in a conversation with his father, he indicated he was fearful of losing his job.

LINDBERGH BABY SEARCH SEEMS TO BE AT STANDSTILL

By the Associated Press.

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 28. — The Lindbergh kidnaping mystery stretched on toward the end of its second month without a solution today. Although Norfolk intermediaries trying to get the baby back indicated fresh ground for hope the investigation was apparently at a standstill today.

Meanwhile Salvatore Spitale and Irving Bitz, two New York "go-betweens" named weeks ago by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to deal with the kidnapers, withdrew from the case. Their lawyer, Abraham Kesselman, said in New York that the $50,000 ransom payment made by Col. Lindbergh prompted their withdrawal. He added that neither man had any idea who the kidnapers are.

"Spitale pleaded with Col. Lindbergh not to pay this $50,000 through Dr. Condon," the lawyer said. The payment was made April 2 in a Bronx cemetery by Dr. John F. Condon, acting for Lindbergh.

John Hughes Curtis, chief of three Norfolk intermediaries in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, was reported out of the city again today.

Curtis yesterday brought back word from another secret mission that a number of obstacles had been overcome in the negotiations.

Curtis had been gone since Sunday. He is believed to have traveled abroad the yacht Marcon.

Curtis said there "was nothing" to the report that Col. Lindbergh had been in Virginia last week to make a contact with kidnapers, or that the flyer had planned to meet with him on a boat off the Virginia coast in an effort to complete the negotiations. Admiral Burrage refused to answer questions concerning the reports.

Activities of the negotiators have increased greatly during the last 10 days. Only a few hours after his return from a five-day trip last week, accompanied by Dean Dobson-Peacack, Curtis slipped away on another secret mission Friday night. He returned aboard the Marcon Sunday afternoon only to depart again that night.

STICKER LICENSES FOR AUTOS

A bill introduced today by Alderman Kaufmann would enable motorists whose city license tags are lost or stolen to obtain duplicate tags upon presentation of a receipt and payment of 75 cents.

Alderman Eilers expects to introduce a bill changing the license emblem from a metal tag to a windshield sticker. Such emblems cannot be stolen unless the windshield or automobile is stolen, Eilers points out, and he says the stickers can be supplied at a saving to the city of about $3000 for the 170,000 licenses required. Chicago and University City use stickers.

PLUMBER ENDS LIFE IN SHOP

Christ F. Dempsey, 64 years old, was found dead of gas poisoning in his plumbing shop at 2725 Lafayette avenue yesterday afternoon. A rubber tube attached to an open gas jet was held in his mouth.

Dempsey left a note saying he feared he was losing his mind. He lived alone in the rear of his shop.

REAL ESTATE MAN KILLS HIMSELF IN FOREST PARK

Relatives of Roger R. Loebner, 42, Attributes Act to Financial Troubles — Leaves Note to Wife.

Roger R. Loebner, 42 years old, a real estate and insurance agent, 715 Westgate avenue, University City, shot and killed himself in Forest Park yesterday. Relatives attribued his act to financial worries.

The body, with a wound in the head, was found in a comfort station near Government and Des Peres drives by Frank Boehm, 4456 Laclede avenue, who heard the shot. A pistol was beside the body.

On the back of a check found in Loebner's pocket was a message to his wife, Evelyn, reading:

"I love you dearly, but I cannot stand it longer. Be brave. God be good to my son. Amen. 3 p. m. 4-27-32."

The son Loebner mentioned is 19 months old.

Loebner formerly operated from offices in the Louderman Building. Recently he moved to other quarters. In addition to the widow and son, Loebner is survived by his mother, three brothers and a sister.

BLOWS OUT ELECTRIC LIGHT AND RELIGHTS IT WITH MATCH

Research Engineer Illustrates Talk to Rotarians With Labortory Experiments.

Dr. Phillips Thomas, research engineer of the Westinghouse laboratories, spoke this noon at a joint meeting of the Rotary Club and Electrical Board of Trade, on the subject "Electrons at Work and at Play."

His talk was illustrated by experiments with laboratory equipment which enable him to blow out an electric light and illuminate it again with a match, or to make the revolving blades of an electric fan appear to stand still so that letters on them were distinct. He demonstrated a new magnetic alloy so sensitive that two strips of it adhere to each other when held in the direction of the earth's magnetic field.

Dr. Thomas spoke last night at a meeting of the industrial electric engineers section of the Electrical Board of Trade and the Society of Automotive Engineers. Tomorrow he will speak at Washington University.

SUIT AGAINST MAN WHO ASKED FOR RECEIVER

$50,000 Damages Sought for Action Against Manco Realty Company.

Suit for $50,000 damages, filed yesterday by Manne Brothers Furniture Co. and Manco Realty Co. against Ernest A. Docter, 2937 Sullivan avenue, alleges Docter and others filed a receivership suit against the Manco Co. for "the sole purpose of gain and profit to themselves."

When asked for a statement, Docter said the receivership suit was "some kind of error." "I did not want that suit for a receiver," he said. "See Ralph Giessow, my attorney, for a statement."

The receivership suit filed by Docter was dismissed for him about the time depositions were to have been taken in the law offices of Greensfelder & Grand, of counsel for the Manne interests. It is alleged in the damage suit that the receivership suit was filed without probable cause in utter disregard of the rights of the defendants.

In that suit Docter alleged he was the owner of a bond issued by the Manne interests and that the company had defaulted in various respects under the terms of a deed of trust against the Manne Building, 5615 Delmar boulevard. This is denied in the damage action, it being set forth that no defaults existed. It is also denied that Docter owned any of the Manne bonds.

Harold G. Giessow said his law firm, Giessow & Giessow, had previously represented Docter, who is a retired mail carrier, and his family, and on March 8 Docter and members of his family retained the law firm to protect their bonds holdings in St. Louis properties, turning over $15,000 in bonds, including some bonds on the Manne Brothers building. Docter, Giessow said, executed power of attorney to the law firm authorizing any necessary suits to protect the bonds, whereupon the law firm filed the receivership suit. This was dismissed, Giessow explained, when the law firm learned that the Manco Realty Co. would meet the mortgage requirements as to delinquent taxes.

Giessow added that it was his understanding that Docter and his family purchased the Manne bonds of the defunct Fidelity Bond & Mortgage Co. and had owned them for a long time.

FALLS FROM 6TH FLOOR FIRE ESCAPE, IS KILLED

Mrs. Edith Cohn, 59, Victim of Accident at Forest Park Hotel.

Mrs. Edith Cohn, 59 years old, was killed last night in a fall from a fire escape on the sixth floor of the Forest Park Hotel, 4910 West Pine boulevard, where she lived with her husband, Max.

Hotel employes found the body at 8 o'clock in a court yard 70 feet below the platform from which she fell. Cohn, a salesman for a garment concern, was unaware of his wife's death until summoned to the courtyard. He explained that a few minutes earlier, while he was playing solitaire and listening to a radio program, his wife left the apartment to put waste paper in a refuse can in a closet adjoining the fire escape platform, which overlooks the east court.

Examination of the platform disclosed a heel from one of Mrs. Cohn's shoes wedged in the grating, which forms the floor. Her eyeglasses, with one lens smashed, lay on the grating. Police report that three sides of the platform are inclosed, and the fourth is guarded by a three-foot railing, over which Mrs. Cohn fell.

Cohn told police that his wife had enjoyed good health, and was in good spirits last evening.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending arrival of a daughter, Mrs. Milton Mark, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Cohn was identified with Jewish charities.

SAYS HOOVER ONCE APPROVED SALE OF GRAPE BY-PRODUCTS

Vineyardists' Director Tells of Conference When President Was Commerce Secretary.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28. — Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists Association, disclosed yesterday that President Hoover, while Secretary of Commerce, tentatively approved the grape industry rehabilitation plan including the marketing of grape by-products.

"I conferred with Mr. Hoover on the broadest aspects of the program, and the reference to grape by-products was merely an incident of the conversation," Conn said. "The discussion did not go into specifically sale of concentrated grape juice, which is only one of many grape by-products.

"Mr. Hoover realized the plan promised to be the salvation of the grape industry, and he encouraged it personally, but advised me to ascertain first that it was entirely legal. He advised me to confer with Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, then Assistant United States Attorney-General in charge of prohibition and tax cases. Mrs. Willebrandt at that time had no idea she would later become counsel for Fruit Industries, Ltd. She expressed the personal opinion that the grape industry program was entirely legal, which view the Department of Justice has held for 12 years."

COACH IN RAIL WRECK CRASHES INTO HOUSE

Grand Trunk Engineer and Fireman Killed—Two in Crushed Dwelling Hurt.

By the Associated Press.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 28.—Engineer James Groves and Fireman Schinning, both of Battle Creek, Mich., were scalded to death and two other persons were injured when the Maple Leaf passenger train of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Chicago-bound from Montreal, was derailed here today. No passengers were hurt.

Bodies of the engineer and fireman were found in the locomotive cab.

A baggage car plunged off a high embankment into a house. Five-year-old Marshall Bradburn and his father, who were asleep in the house were injured, but not seriously. The boy was in bed in the back of the house, his parents in front. The baggage car demolished the back of the house and workers had to fight their way through the wreckage to reach the child. Mrs. Bradburn was not injured.

Authorities investigating the crash admitted they were taking cognizance of a recent difficulty over extension of track elevation.

Chief of Police John B. Kuespert, a veteran railroader, said, "I am convinced that the train hit something."

The cause of the derailment was not immediately ascertained. Railroad officers are investigating.

Trainmen said an open or split switch or a faulty flange on the locomotive might have caused the derailment.

The train had slowed down through the city and was nearing the union station for a stop when the locomotive suddenly left the rails and turned over. The baggage hung over the embankment at a precarious angle. The next baggage car, however, left its trucks car directly behind uncoupled and and piled into the house.

Of the nine cars in the train only the two Pullmans and one day coach carrying passengers remained on the rails or upright, three baggage men were in the third baggage car directly behind the one that hurtled off the embankment. Although their car was derailed and turned on its side, they were only shaken up.

CURRAN SAYS DRY LAW'S BACK IS BROKEN IN PENNSYLVANIA

Wet Leader Comments on J. J. Davis' Defeat of Gen. Butler.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, said yesterday:

"The decisive derfeat of Gen. Smedley Butler (for the United States senatorial nomination) in Pennsylvania breaks the back of prohibition in the strongest Republican State in the Union.

"Butler is a bone-dry Pinchot product and the campaign was fought on this issue. Dry leaders said that the Pennsylvania contest would be the crucial fight for prohibition. I thought so too.

"Now what are the Republicans going to do about it? It is time for some people to watch their step. Two years ago, Hemphill, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, lost that Republican State by less than one per cent of the total vote."

Butler was defeated for the nomination by United States Senator James J. Davis.

TWO HELD IN OHIO EXPLOSION ADMIT ROBBING POSTOFFICE

CHICAGO, April 28.—Edward Wallace and Frank Wilson, suspected by the police in the explosion that wrecked the new Ohio State House Building at Columbus last April, were being returned to Columbus today to face auto theft charges.

The police said both confessed yesterday to blowing the safes of two Ohio postoffices, but no complaint had been lodged against them for these robberies. An accomplice they named was being sought at Columbus.

Want 6 "plies"★ at a Low Price?

HERE is a tire that needs no introduction to several million car owners who have proved its sturdy value and honest wear on the road.

But even to old friends, the price is NEWS. And get this fact—these tires are built by Goodyear—marked with the Goodyear name and house flag—sinewed by that famous Goodyear cord material, Supertwist.

All of which means that these Goodyear Pathfinders can give you more for your money than tires ever gave before, and that is saying a whale of a lot.

If the tread on your tires is getting bald—if the rubber is getting thin—don't flirt with trouble and take chances of skids. You can get a whole set of tires at such prices as these and hardly miss the money.

Read the sample prices shown here—remember they buy Goodyears.

Doesn't that make you ask yourself: "Why buy any second-choice tire when FIRST-choice costs no more?"

★ SIX "PLIES"

—of the six layers of cord fabric under the tread in this tire, two do not run from bead to bead—they are really "breaker strips", and that's what we call them, although some tire-makers call them extra plies

HANGAR AND 9 PLANES BURN AFTER EXPLOSION

Former German War Pilot Hurt Severely at Roosevelt Field.

By the Associated Press.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., April 28.—Fire destroyed a hangar and nine airplanes at this field today, with a loss of $185,000.

The hangar, formerly known as the John Hay Whitney hangar and later designated as hangar A, was consumed by flames in less than an hour following an explosion of undetermined cause shortly after 9 a. m.

Carl Schneider, former German war pilot, was taken to a hospital at Mineola with severe burns. He and John D. Egurre, who also was burned, but not so badly, were the only persons in the hangar at the time of the explosion. Both are mechanics.

The fire departments from four nearby Long Island cities were of no avail against the flames fed by gas fumes from the burning planes. The hangar, supposedly fireproof, with concrete walls, quickly crumbled.

Schneider was working at the time on the $50,000 amphibian plane Pegasus, owned by Whitney. It and another smaller plane owned by Whitney were destroyed. Also among the burned planes was one valued at $20,000 owned by George Kent Jr., Jericho, N. Y.

The last fire at Roosevelt Field was slightly more than a year ago, when flames, suspected to have been of incendiary origin, swept through six hangars, destroying nine planes and causing damage estimated at $100,000.

STATE TAKES OVER 100 MILES OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY ROADS

40.74 Miles Under Contract Now or Will Be Placed This Summer.

Announcement was made by the State Highway Department today of a supplementary road system for St. Louis County, covering about 100 miles of main thoroughfares. It will be taken over by the State under the "farm-to-market" road provision of the 1928 State bond issue. Concrete pavements will be used except for a few instances of high-type bituminous macadam.

Included in the supplementary system are 40.74 miles under contract for paving now or to be placed under contract this spring and summer; 15 miles recently paved with concrete; 20 miles of existing bituminous macadam and 24 miles or more to be improved next year or thereafter. This year the State will have $472,000 available to pay the county for roads to be taken into the supplementary system.

There are, in effect, 14 routes in all sections of the county to be included in the supplementary layout. They are designed to facilitate movement of traffic, in coordination with the existing and proposed main State roads and the major county highway plan adopted last year.

LACLEDE CHARGES UNION ELECTRIC CO WITH CONSPIRACY

Power & Light Co. Alleges L. H. Egan's Suit Is Attempt to Evade Service Board's Order.

Conspiracy by Union Electric Light & Power Co. and its parent company to circumvent the orders of the Missouri Public Service Commission is charged by the Laclede Power & Light Co. in a petition filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The Laclede Company seeks the dismissal of a suit filed by Louis H. Egan, president of Union Electric, who asked for a receiver for the stock of the Laclede Power Co. which is held in a voting trust.

The suit follows a long fight by Union Electric to buy or otherwise control the Laclede Power, which is a comparatively small competitor for electrical business in St. Louis.

Laclede's petition alleges the real party at interest in Egan's suit is the Union Electric Co., that it is seeking by this means to gain a voice in the affairs of Laclede Power which was denied it by the Public Service Commission. The commission, as has been told, recently denied the application of Union Electric for authority to purchase and hold 3330 shares of Laclede stock—about 26 per cent of that outstanding. Under the State law a public utility may not own more than 10 per cent of the stock of another utility without authority from the commission.

Charges Conspiracy.

The Laclede company alleges that for the Court to grant Egan's petition would be to accomplish by indirection that which the Commission refused to sanction as contrary to public policy, and that Union Electric and the North American Co. and their officers have entered into a conspiracy for this purpose.

The petition relates the circumstances of the purchase of 2440 shares of Laclede stock by the Securities Investment Trust of Massachusetts, which paid for it with a check for $4000 and a demand note for $407,140, as told by officers of the North American Co. in depositions and reported in Monday's Post-Dispatch.

It is charged that this stock and 890 other shares were bought by the North American interests with the intention of obligating Union Electric to take them over at cost plus "lavish bonuses and commissions to brokerage firms," the total cost to be $712,620.

Says the Consumer Would Pay.

The Laclede company charges "it was the purpose of this conspiracy to saddle the customers of Union Electric with payment of this sum," and that it was Union Electric's intention to purchase all the Laclede Power stock and create a monopoly by which it could charge such rates as would enable it to recover "these illegal payments."

Egan petitioned for a receiver for the stock on the ground that in refusing to recognize his nomination as a director the trustees violated the terms of the trust agreement. The stock voted for him, 3330 shares of 13,183 outstanding, is represented by voting trust certificates owned by interests connected with the North American Co., holding company for Union Electric, one share standing in Egan's name.

Judge Hall today transferred the suit to Judge Nortoni's court on the petition of the Laclede company for a change of venue, supported by an affidavit of its president, E. P. Gosling, alleging Judge Hall was prejudiced. It was set for hearing May 11.

Dearmont Gets Indorsement.

MAN AND WOMAN SEIZED FOR FAKE SOLICITATIONS

Clayton Resident Gave $50 to "Sheriffs' and Police Officers' Association."

A man and woman are being held by police pending an investigation of solicitations made recently for a non-existent organization, the "Sheriffs' and Police Officers' Association."

Mrs. Dwight B. Blossom, 6375 Alexander drive, Clayton, reported she had given a $50 check to a man who said he was "Sergt. Sullivan," a member of the association and a St. Louis police officer. The check was deposited to the account of a woman customer of a West End bank, and, through her, police found the man they arrested.

He and the woman denied soliciting for the association, and he said he had won the check in a dice game. A notebook containing Mrs. Blossom's name and names of other persons, followed by notations of $5 to $50, was found in his possession. He told police he had been an authorized solicitor for a mission on North Broadway.

ROOSEVELT IN TRIBUTE TO GEORGE WASHINGTON

Says U. S. Needs More of First President's Realism Based on Experience.

By the Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., April 28.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, in a George Washington oration here last night, said the United States now might well view again Washington's honor, purity and unselfish devotion.

"At this hour when the purposes of civilization are challenged, when unrest is apparent, when new problems and new valuations call for new leadership, it is well for America to view again the honor, the purity and the unselfish devotion of him who became the keystone in the making of the nation, and who rightly won the imperishable title of Father of His Country," Roosevelt declared.

He spoke befor the National Governors' Conference.

Washington, Roosevelt said, met one great critical challenge after another by a calm appraisal of the facts and an ever-refreshed knowledge social and economic condition of the people of his country—"all the people, high, middle and low."

Quotes Washington on Agriculture.

Quoting Washington as having said: "It will not be doubted that, with reference either to individual or national welfare, agriculture is of primary importance—in proportion as nations advance in population and other circumstances of maturity, this truth becomes more apparent, and renders the cultivation of the soil more and more an object of public patronage," Roosevelt said:

"What a pity that recent national leadership and, therefore, recent national thought, has so little heeded that precedent."

"Our styles," Roosevelt continued, "may change, our means of unity are ever transformed by mechanical invention, and by increasing knowledge. To the roads and waterways of his (Washington's) age and generation are now added railroads, air transportation, the telegraph and telephone, the radio and portentious and enormously valuable national interest, giant electrical power. To surround new means of national usefulness with proper safeguards and legitimate assistance is the way of a statesmanship that depends upon knowledge and facts, rather than theory and prejudice.

"We need education, justice, foreign relations, all cut to the pattern of modern necessity, but above all, unity in the spirit and form of Washington's common sense—a unity based upon a deep and sympathetic knowledge of differences: for knowledge puts away fear, and fear is the fathr of disunion."

Manufacturing and Agriculture.

He said Washington never committed himself to a governmental policy of encouraging only manufacturing, but constantly pointed out that manufacturing should be considered as an aid to what he conceived to be the dominant economy of the country—agriculture.

Washington was described as a man who reasoned directly from what he saw to what he thought ought to be done by the Government "not disturbing his mind by mere efforts to reconcile conflicting schools of economic theory."

"It is some such matter of fact attitude that modern statesmen might apply in greater measure to public problems," Roosevelt said. "To concern ourselves less with theory and more with a realism based on the hard lessons of experience, is to serve well the memory of Washington and also the fundamental interests of popular government."

5000 APPEALS FOR HELP TO REOPEN BLIND BROOM SHOP

Clergymen and Business Men Sign Request; $30,000 Needed, $10,000 Pledged, So Far.

About 5000 letters appealing for funds to insure the reopening of the St. Louis broom shop for the blind, which closed April 1 because the State's appropriation had been exhausted, have been mailed over the signatures of Bishop Scarlett, Rabbi Isserman, the Rev. Dr. John W. MacIvor, Louis H. Waltke, Frank C. Rand and August A. Busch.

The Missouri Commission for the Blind, which operates the shop, has obtained about $10,000 in pledges and contributions. It is estimated $30,000 will be required to reopen it and operate it until the next appropriation becomes available Jan. 1, 1933. In the meantime, the blind broom makers and their dependents are dependent upon charity.

The letter outlines the situation which forced the closing of the shop and states that almost every large city in the country except St. Louis supports and subsidizes workshops for the blind.

GOV. LA FOLLETTE OPPOSES GLASS BANKING MEASURE

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., April 28. — In a telegram addressed to Governors of 25 States, Gov. Philip La Follette of Wisconsin, yesterday urged opposition to the Glass banking bill before the United States Senate on the ground that it constitutes a serious threat to state banks generally and "the entire system of independent banking."

The states to which the communication was sent, La Follette said, are those which prohibit establishment of branch banks and those which have no branches in operation at the present time.

HEAD OF FARM BOARD URGES EXPORT CREDITS

Stone Favors Plan to Sell U. S. Accumulated Wheat and Cotton Abroad.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Credit expansion and funds to finance sale of Farm Board wheat and cotton abroad were advocated before the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday by Chairman Stone of the Farm Board.

At the hearing were representatives of farmers' organizations — the National Grange, Farmers' Union and Farm Bureau Federation.

Stone defended his board's actions. To blame the board for the decline in agricultural prices, while "all other prices have gone down in proportion," is unfair, he said. He asked that nothing be done to weaken the agricultural marketing act.

Senator Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma, in a formal statement, predicted that an agreement would be soon reached on the many proposals before the committee. He said he expected approval to be given to the Federal Reserve Board's policy of urging member banks to buy government bonds with reserve notes, and said he thought the banks would be urged to increase their purchases, now running around $100,000,000 a week.

Indications were that the committee would approve the resolution of Senator McNary (Rep.), Oregon, chairman, providing $100,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to finance the sale of board wheat and cotton to foreign countries.

Indorsing this measure, Stone said inquiries already received indicated that export sales of between 15,000,000 and 25,000,000 bushels of wheat and from 500,000 to 1,000,000 bales of cotton could be arranged before the current crop year ends, if the credit fund is provided.

Referring to the Federal Reserve program, Stone said if it were "courageously and steadily follows," it "should tend to check credit contraction, restore business confidence, improve business activity, increase employment and so lend to a gradual increase in commodity prices."

FARMER-LABORITES PICK NATIONAL TICKET

Frank E. Webb of California for President; Jacob S. Coxey for Vice-President.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., April 28.—Frank Elbridge Webb of San Francisco, was nominated for the presidency by the Farmer-Labor party last night. His running mate is Mayor Jacob S. Coxey of Massillon, O.

Webb headed the party ticket in 1928. Coxey led the march of the unemployed on Washington during the second Cleveland administration.

Webb was nominated by the party convention after a fight to have himself accredited as the delegate from California. Chairman Roy Harrop of Council Bluffs, Ia., had ruled that Webb had not presented credentials accrediting him as the California delegate and denying him the right to cast that State's 25 votes.

Thirty minutes before the night session adjourned, Webb succeeded in having himself accredited and was thus empowered to cast California's 25 votes, which represented the margin of Webb's victory.

Others proposed for the nomination were Coxey; Thomas Mooney, labor leader, now serving a prison sentence in California on a bombing charge, and Harrop.

The convention adopted platform attributing present economic conditions to the gold standard and calling for the placing of the banking and currency system in the hands of Federal, State and local governments.

A guaranteed profit to farmers, unemployment insurance, abolition of the Federal Farm Board and issuance of enough legal tender to pay the veterans' bonus in full were also advocated.

AUTO VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

Man Killed at Twelfth and Hickory Was Frank Schemmelpfennig.

The body of a man killed by an automobile at Twelfth and Hickory streets yesterday morning was identified at the morgue as that of Frank Schemmelpfennig, 58-year-old laborer, 1516 Menard street. Identification was made last night by relatives.

Schemmelpfennig was struck by an automobile driven by Ferdinand Knoedelseder, 5421 Alabama avenue, while crossing Twelfth street at 5 a. m. on his way to work.

DEARMONT RAKES TOM PENDERGAST AND BOSS RULE

Cites "Ruthless Domination" of Democratic State Convention by Kansas City Group.

Political boss control of government was portrayed as an shameless menace to decent government and as inevitably leading to corruption, by State Senator Russell L. Dearmont, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, at a campaign meeting last night in Kirkwood attended by about 500 St. Louis County Democrats.

In a 30-minute conclusion of a two-hour speech, Dearmont vigorously denounced Tom Pendergast of Kansas City and candidates subservient to boss control.

"This is a serious question," he said, "and its seriousness justifies its deep consideration by you and by every Democrat—in fact, by every voter in Missouri.

"The question presented in this campaign is: Are the Democrats willing to surrender to one man control of the entire party organization and control of every function of the State government?

Boss Rule and Corruption.

"Missouri has been singularly free from boss control, but it is not a new thing in the history of political parties in this country. There have been State bosses in both parties in many states and boss control of party organization and through it of government has meant just one thing, and that is corruption in government.

"I have not the slightest doubt that the Democrats of Missouri will repudiate the boss. They will insist on keeping the control of their party and of their government in themselves.

"More than a year ago the boss in Kansas City told the Democrats whom they must nominate for Governor. Only a few weeks ago he brought more than 5000 of his minions to our State convention in St. Louis. They ruthlessly thrust aside those interested in good government and the party welfare, and dominated that convention.

"No Democrat, whatever his party service or whatever his merit, could go as a delegate to the Democratic national convention unless he surrendered completely to boss dictation.

"I have discussed this subject in several speeches. I have brought it forcibly to the attention of the voters, and I have been waiting for my opponent, the man the boss wants to put in the executive chair in Jefferson City, to say what he thinks about boss-controlled government.

Cites Wilson's Silence.

"He has remained mute. In his position he could do nothing else. The master not only rules through his subjects, but he speaks through such of his subjects as he chooses. So my opponent has remained silent.

"The voice that has been raised is that of the chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Jackson County, and he has not talked about bossism. He has talked about a lot of other things. He has sought to divert public attention from the boss by attacking me.

"I have even been advised by some of my friends to propose that I will quit telling the truth about the boss if his representatives will quit telling lies about me. But I will not do that. I am going to keep up this fight all over the State of Missouri. It is the biggest thing in this campaign, the most important issue, and I shall not be diverted.

"This Kansas City chairman-proxy for my opponent did say that my opponent wore no man's collar. I can almost agree with that statement after seeing the boss at the State convention and also seeing my opponent. I judge that one of the boss's collars would make about three whole suits for my opponent.

"Because of my speeches on this subject, the Kansas City chairman has charged me with being a party bolter, charged me with being the best Republican in the State. I have no fear of that charge. I am a Democrat because I believe in the principles of the party. My party record is clean and always will be.

Party Record in Kansas City.

"But what of the party record of the boss organization in Kansas City? It brings out a huge vote and runs the primary up there, but where is it in the election? The Democrats lost Jackson County in the 1920 presidential election, lost it in the 1924 election by a bigger vote, and lost it in the 1928 election by still a bigger vote.

"St. Louis and St. Louis County cast 78,000 more Democratic votes than do Jackson County and Kansas City. Are you people going to let that little group up there control you? Are you going to let the tail wag the dog?

"You are vitally interested in this question locally. Many of you, though you live in St. Louis County, have your business interests in St. Louis, and are in St. Louis many hours of the day. The kind of a police department St. Louis has is a matter of vital concern to you. It means protection of your property, and, in fact, of your lives. Are you willing to turn this police department over to a political boss?

What Boss Rule Would Mean.

"Nor are you willing to turn over your State Highway Department to the boss. Missouri is proud of its accomplishments in road building. That department has been free from political influence. You are not going to permit a boss to step in and supplant capable engineers and experts with a lot of punch-board pegs from the political organization in Kansas City.

"And so of the State eleemosynary institutions where more than 7000 of the State's unfortunate wards are cared for. And of the penal institutions, and of all the departments of the State Government.

"No, I am not a party bolter. I would be a party savior. I would save the Democratic party from the shame, the disgrace the corruption of boss control.

"If I am elected Governor I will be the Governor. No political boss will have any more influence with me than will any other citizen of the State.

"Keep in mind that bosses do not support candidates they cannot control as officials. Vote in the primary to repudiate bossism."

Backed Ralph Sewer Law Repeal.

At the opening of his speech, Dearmont replied to a campaign which has been waged against him in St. Louis County. The report has been circulated there that he opposed the repeal of the Ralph sewer law by the last Legislature. Dearmont said he supported the repeal bill both in the committee and on the floor of the Senate and voted for it, and opposed in the committee and on the floor the substitute measure put forward by the friends ofthe sewer law.

"I told Hamp Rothwell of St. Louis County att he very beginning of the session of the Legislature that I would vote for the repeal bill and would support it," Dearmont said, "and I did so in every way possible. I make this statement that you may have from me publicly the facts, and that you may not be misled by false propaganda circulated by representatives of my opponent."

Much of Dearmont's speech was devoted to a discussion of the unbusinesslike organization of the State government. He made a pledge that, if elected Governor, he would devote his best efforts to a reorganization which would put the government on a business basis, eliminate useless boards, bureaus and commissions, and reduce the cost of administration of State affairs.

Women Form Wilson Headquarters Committee.

A Wilson meeting tomorrow night at 4738 Carter avenue will be addressed by William L. Igoe, the Wilson manager in St. Louis; George T. Priest and Bernard F. Dickmann.

He was closing up his affairs here and, it is believed, went to the railroad district near the levee yesterday to see old associates before leaving the city. He lived at 4544 St. Louis avenue with his wife and daughter. Mrs. Leutert was in New Orleans yesterday attending the funeral of a relative.

"LOU HENRY HOOVER TREE"

Planted on Lawn of Girl Scouts' "Little House."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Girl Scouts' "Little House," already rich in mementos of the President's wife, today added to the collection a "Lou Henry Hoover tree" on the front lawn.

It was a California red wood from Fort Bagg, 200 miles north of San Francisco, and three Californians helped in its planting—Mrs. Hoover, Secretary of Interior Wilbur and Mrs. Wilbur. The tree planting was national symbol of spring house cleaning and fixing up the place for all Girl Scoutdom. In 257 Girl cout "little houses," 300,000 girls are preparing for "Better Homes in America Week."

MAN, 72, HELD FOR ALLEGED INJURY CLAIM SWINDLE

Woman Tells of Posing as Another Who Fell From Street Car.

William Cochran, a 72-year-old ex-convict, was held today for the Circuit Court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses after a woman testified at a preliminary hearing that he persuaded her to pose as a woman who fell from a street car, resulting in a $250 settlement from the Public Service Co. The hearing was held before Provisional Judge Albert Schweitzer.

The principal witness, Mrs. Virgie Baker, is the wife of Dewey Baker, who was charged with perjury in October, 1931, for giving false testimony in a damage suit against F. W. Woolworth Co. She testified today that Cochran gave her $62.68 of the settlement, made on Sept. 21, 1931, after fees were deducted, and that he took $72.28. She said that she impersonated a woman she did not know who was seen to fall from a street car at Eighteenth and Hickory streets on May 14, 1929.

Another witness, Charles Lewis of 818 South Eighth street, said he saw the accident and told Cochran about it that day. Later, he testified, Cochran told him he could not find the woman in the accident but had obtained Mrs. Baker to pose as the complainant.

OLD RECORD EXPOSED, QUITS AS DRY AGENT

Prohibition Officer Once Caught Transporting Liquor After Pistol Fight.

Thornton M. Vaughn of St. Joseph, Mo., prohibition agent who had almost finished his six-month probation period with which all agents must start their service, has resigned following disclosure that he was arrested when transporting four gallons of liquor after a fight with prohibition agents five years ago.

Vaughn, who has been active as an "under-cover man" in St. Louis, was in Jefferson City two weeks ago when a number of raids were conducted in that city and in Columbia, following activity of under-cover agents there. In the course of the raids he met Doris Roderick, also of St. Joseph, who is attached to the Kansas City office of the department.

Roderick, on returning to Kansas City, informed his superiors of his acquaintance with Vaughn. The young agent's record was examined. It was shown that after his arrest, he and his father were indicted for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, and his father pleaded guilty, saying the son, then 18 years old, had been acting under his orders when he transported the liquor. The father was sentenced to 18 months in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Vaughn told his superiors here that when he took the Civil Service examinations, which he passed with a high grade, he was asked if he had ever been arrested. He replied that he had, he said, and the examiners pursued the matter no further.

When Vaughn was arrested in 1927, after the chase in which shots were fired, he was alone in his father's automobile. The four one-gallon jugs had been broken, but a small quantity of liquor remained in the broken pottery.

MORE GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS NEEDED, SAYS GOV. LA FOLLETTE

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 28.—America's greatest need today is not less but more Government in business and the question confronting industry is what kind of government of the economic structure the country shall have, Gov. Philip F. La Follette of Wisconsin said here last night.

Speaking at the semi-annual dinner of the Associated Traffic Clubs of America, La Follette criticised those who blame any one class or group for the business depression and appealed for "a factual approach to the problems of one of the gravest domestic crises in the history of our country."

La Follette asserted the fact of the depression was proof of the need for more order and organization in the economic structure and urged that industry take the first steps in that direction itself rather than delay until some autocratic system of regulation is forced on it.

Comedian Files Counter Suit.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Max Dill of the comedy team of Kolb and Dill, has filed a counter suit to the divorce petition of his show girl wife, Mrs. Josephine Clark Dill. Mrs. Dill, who was 20 years old at the time she married the comedian, then 38, in Los Angeles, in 1916, charged cruelty, specifically accusing her husband of undue jealousy. In his counter suit, Dill alleged an actor named "Buddy" Lauer, had supplanted him in the affections of his wife.

Kress Traded for Campbell And Hadley in First Step To Strengthen the Browns

Making their first definite move to strengthen the team, the Browns have traded Infielder Ralph Kress to the Chicago White Sox in exchange for Pitcher Irving Hadley, for several previous years with Washington, and Bruce Campbell, a promising outfielder who came up with a fine record from Little Rock in the Southern Association.

Kress has had a rather turbulent career with the Browns. For two years he has appeared dissatisfied with conditions. This spring he was a holdout and missed the spring training period altogether, finally signing a contract for $8000 after an exchange of rather "personal" telegrams with President Phil Ball.

The deal is sure to help the Browns, who have been needing a

ALLISON WINS FIRST DAVIS CUP MATCH FOR U. S.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—A straight-set victory by Wilmer Allison over Marcel Rainville sent the United States Davis cup team off to a winning start against Canada in the opening round of American zone competition here this afternoon. The scores were 6—2, 6—4, 6—4.

A colorful gallery of 1500, including Washington officials and members of capital society, watched the play on the sun-flooded Chevy Chase Country Club court.

Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Cal., met Dr. Jack Wright in the second encounter, which brought together the singles champions of the United States and Canada, and marked young Vines' Davis Cup debut.

Vines won the first set at 8—6, Wright the second at 6—3, and Vines the third at 6—4.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 28.—Albert Marvin, right-handed pitcher, yesterday was obtained by St. Paul of the American Association from the New York Yankees. The deal completes payment for Jack Saltzgaver, infielder.

Marvin has been with the Newark International League team for three years. The Newark franchise is owned by the Yankees.

Auto Driver Hurt.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 28.—Babe Stapp, Indianapolis racing driver, was seriously injured when catapulted from his automobile as it crashed into the railing at the Ascot track last night. In the qualifying heat for the 25-mile main event, Stapp's automobile skidded on a turn. The racer suffered a possible fracture of the skull, a broken pelvis and numerous cuts and abrasions

CONDESCEND IS WINNER AGAIN IN FIELD OF THREE

By the Associated Press.

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, April 28.—The Long Beach Claiming Handicap of a mile and 70 yards attracted only three starters here this afternoon and Frank E. Brown's colt Condescend, now in the best form of its career, scored a hollow victory over J. H. Louchheim's A La Carte and C. V. Whitney's Rideaway. Six lengths separated the winner and second horse, while Rideaway was beaten an additional five lengths for the place.

Condescend and A La Carte were split choices at 13 to 10, but when it came to racing, there was no comparison between the pair. The winner ran the distance in the fast time of 1:42 3-5, under perfect handling by Hank Mills. This was Condescend's third straight triumph of the meeting, his two previous successes having been in sprint affairs.

Ford Released Unconditionally

CHICAGO, April 28.—Reserve Infielder Horace Ford, whom the Cardinals purchased from Cincinnati as insurance against possible holdout tactics by Charley Gelbert, was given his unconditional release today. Ford was made a free agent and now may sell his services to the highest bidder.

Ford is the second Cardinal player to be released, Pitcher Tony Kaufmann having been sent to Rochester yesterday. This cuts the Cardinal squad to 29 players, six more than the number the team will be permitted to carry after June 15.

The release of Ford was something of a surprise and apparently means that the club plans to keep either Lee Cunningham or Harvey Hendrick as a utility player.

Wray's Column

Try This on Your Concrete.

TOO long have members of the Boston press acted as buffers for the roly-poly boys of the wrestling circuses.

On complaint of the sports writers, the management of the Boston Garden has removed the press row eight feet back from the ring. Now, if wrestlers leave the ring on the fly, they must crash into the concrete floor instead of a well-upholstered sports scribe.

This plan has been adopted in several big arenas, among them the Chicago Stadium.

A still better plan is the one used by Gabe Kauffman at Convention Hall, Kansas City, where the floor of the ring is extended three feet or more beyond the ropes.

In case of too violent acrobatics the athletes fall no farther than the canvas, whether in the ring or out of it.

Laugh, Tom, Laugh!

THE following tidbit from the New Orleans Times-Picayune ought to lighten the gloom of these depression days:

"John E. Wray of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch is a great booster for wrestling and he points out how far wrestling lays over boxing," etc.

Wouldn't that discourage a guy, after all these years of hammering on the anvil?

Chicago Likes Walker Better.

ONE of the strange aspects of the Levinsky-Walker bout at the Chicago Stadium, tomorrow night, as pointed out by Manager "Doc" Kearns himself, is the fact that Walker is a better drawing card in Chicago than Levinsky, although the Windy City is home for the Kingfish.

Walker has appeared in eight Chicago fights, while Levinsky has fought there 13 times. Yet Walker's "gates" totaled $512,585 to Levinsky's $426,129. Mickey

FREY AND HAINES POUNDED IN SEVENTH

By J. Roy Stockton.

CHICAGO, April 28.—The world champion Cardinals were defeated by the Chicago Cubs this afternoon in the first game of a series of four.

The score was 12 to 7.

It was "Overflow" ladies' day and about 6000 women, who could not be accommodated with tickets for tomorrow, were admitted free. There were about 10,000 cash customers.

Rigler, Donnelly and Quigley were the umpires.

Branch Rickey, vice president and business manager, was in Chicago today, probably to arrange for the transfer or trade of extra Cardinal players.

The game:

FIRST INNING — CARDINALS—Adams singled to right. Watkins forced Adams, Jurges to Herman. Watkins went to second on a balk. Frisch flied to D. Taylor, Watkins taking third. Jurges threw out Bottomley on a grounder that caromed off Smith's glove.

CUBS—Hack lined a single past Dean. Hack was out stealing, Wilson to Gelbert. Herman flied to Watkins. Frisch threw out Richbourg.

SECOND — CARDINALS—Collins lined to Richbourg. Orsatti doubled to left center. Wilson was safe on Hack's low throw, Orsatti holding second. Gelbert sent a long fly to D. Taylor. Dean tapped to Smith.

CUBS—Orsatti made a shoestring catch of D. Taylor's liner. Stephenson struck out. Hartnett also struck out.

THIRD —CARDINALS—Adams popped to Herman. Watkins beat out a grounder to Herman. Watkins stole second. Frisch struck out. Hack threw out Bottomley.

CUBS—Grimm flied to Orsatti. Frisch went into right field for Jurges' pop fly. Adams made a good stop and threw out Smith.

FOURTH—CARDINALS — Collins flied to Stephenson. Orsatti grounded to Grimm, Smith covering first. Wilson walked. Gelbert was safe when D. Taylor missed his line drive, Wilson taking third. Dean forced Gelbert, Jurges to Herman.

CUBS—Hack singled to right. Herman beat out a bunt to Bottomley and when Frisch, who took the throw, threw the ball in the air as a protest against the decision, Hack went to third. Frisch was charged with an error. Richbourg singled to right, scoring Hack and sending Herman to third. D. Taylor singled to left, scoring Herman, Richbourg stopping at second. Stephenson hit a home run over the left-field fence, scoring behind Richbourg and D. Taylor. Hartnett was called out on strikes. Grimm walked. Jurges flied to Watkins. Smith forced Grimm, Gelbert to Frisch. FIVE RUNS.

SIXTH—CARDINALS — Orsatti flied to D. Taylor. Wilson singled to left. Gelbert doubled against the left-field wall, Wilson stopping at third. Hendrick batted for Dean and popped to Jurges. Adams singled to center, scoring Wilson and Gelbert. Watkins beat out a grounder to Grimm, Adams stopping at second. Frisch tripled to right center, scoring Adams and Watkins. Smith was taken out and Root went in to pitch for the Cubs. Bottomley was safe on Herman's fumble, Frisch scoring with the tying run. Collins walked. Orsatti also walked, filling the bases. Wilson flied to D. Taylor. FIVE RUNS.

CUBS—Frey went in to pitch for the Cardinals. Hartnett lined to Watkins. Grimm grounded to Gelbert. Jurges was out the same way.

SEVENTH—CARDINALS — Gelbert bunted and was thrown out by Hack. Frey was called out on strikes. Adams walked. Watkins singled to right, Adams stopping at second. It was Watkins' fourth straight hit. Frisch walked, filling the bases. Bottomley popped to Herman.

CUBS—Root fouled to Wilson. Hack walked. Herman's drive down the left-field line hit a post in the fence and stopped and before Watkins could retrieve the ball Hack had scored and Herman reached third. The Cardinals protested and the umpires, after a long conference, called the hit a double, sending Herman back to second and Hack to third. The uCbs ran from the dugout and protested against this ruling, but the umpires stuck to their decision. Richbourg doubled to left, scoring Hack and Herman. D. Taylor singled to right, scoring Richbourg, and on Collins' wild throw to the plate D. Taylor went to second. Frey was taken out and Haines went in to pitch for the Cardinals. Stephenson walked. D. University City High School's powerful, well-balanced track team swept through yesterday's preliminaries in the fifth annual district track and field meet at Maplewood High Field, and qualified one-fifth of the athletes who reached the finals, getting 16 out of 80, and placing at least one man in every event.

Two records fell at the same time, the marks for the junior 120-yard low hurdles and the junior 880-yard run being bettered.

The preliminaries will be continued today with the senior broad jump, discus throw, javelin throw, 220-yard low hurdles, 100-yard dash and 440-yard dash, and the junior pole vault, eight-pound shotput, high jump, 60-yard dash, 100-yard dash and 440-yard dash scheduled.

University City qualified eight men in each division. Webster Groves and Soldan tied for second place with 10 qualifiers. The remainder of the field was far down the list in total numbers qualified.

Juniors Break Records.

Outstanding achievements were registered in the junior division, with Edwin Waite of University City running the 120-yard low hurdles in the record-breaking time of 15.2 seconds, two-tenths of a second better than Harkey's mark of 15.4 seconds, made in 1930 while on Webster's championship team. Waite was pressed in both his preliminary and semifinal heats by Skinner of Country Day School.

The other record was set by Frank Wright of Webster in the junior half-mile, Wright leading a large field by more than 20 yards at the finish as he was clocked in 2 minutes 10.9 seconds, bettering the record of George Campbell of Maplewood, who [illegible] it in 2 minutes 12.9 seconds last year.

The records made in the preliminaries will stand only if the winners repeat their victories in the finals. They need only win the race, not equal or better the time. Of course, if the time is bettered, no matter by whom, that will be the new record.

Jimmy Owen, Maplewood dash star, who has been limping with a pulled muscle, decided this afternoon to compete in the preliminaries despite the injury. His leading competitor will be Bob McClure of University City.

By Harold Tuthill.

Cleveland, to remain in the running for the City High School League baseball title, must win from Soldan tomorrow afternoon at the Public Schools Stadium, as another defeat for the Carondelet nine virtually will eliminate it as a contender. The game will start the second round of play.

The usual double-header Saturday will take place with Central opposing McKinley in the first game at 1 o'clock and Roosevelt meeting Beaumont in the second contest. A victory would give Beaumont a first place tie with Roosevelt, which has been undefeated in the first half of play.

There is reason for belief that Beaumont will provide severe competition for the Rough Riders, because John Stiles has been hurling good ball for the second place nine, winning three of his four starts. Ollie Steiner appears to be Roosevelt's best bet, although Coach Lee R. Carlson may hold the left-hander in reserve and start Leroy Suchanek.

Cleveland has lost only two games, so that if it defeats Soldan and Beaumont comes through successfully, the Carondelet school still will have a chance. It is likely that Horace Muchler will be Coach Bert E. Fenenga's choice to pitch, while either Hector Brown or Clarence Johnson will do the throwing for Coach Harry White's Soldan team.

It is possible for McKinley to win its first victory of the season in the game with Central. Coach Louis Maguolo's youngsters have progressed steadily and may surprise the Central team. Pete Chulick will do the pitching and Johnny Goldak the catching, and the battery for Coach Verne Bradburn's nine will be Joe Sadowski and Weiss.

Tomorrow's lineups:

CLEVELAND	SOLDAN.

Stockbarger lf	Butts 1b
Schwinke cf	Post c
Starkloff 1b	Braudrick 2b

Seven Games in County.

Seven games will be played in the St. Louis County League tomorrow afternoon, four of which will be in the football group. The schedule is Webster at Kirkwood, Wellston at Maplewood, Clayton at University City and Ritenour at Normandy. In the non-football division, the second-place Bayless nine will try to make it four victories in five starts, when it acts as host to Eureka. The other contests are Riverview Gardens at Ferguson and Brentwood at Hancock.

Country Day will entertain the Western Military Academy "A" team in the only "ABC" League game of the afternoon and Christian Brothers College will invade Granite City in an inter-conference battle.

BROWNS TRADE KRESS TO WHITE SOX FOR HADLEY AND CAMPBELL

real right fielder ever since the season started and neither Jenkins nor Bettencourt proved the man for the position. Campbell has a great batting record. He joined the White Sox toward the end of the 1931 campaign and has been a regular this year. He is a left-handed hitter and a right-handed thrower. He should fit in nicely with Goslin and Fred Schulte, and if he comes through the Browns' outfield should rank with the best in the league.

Manager Killefer always has been "sweet" on Hadley. Two years ago he attempted a deal with the Washington club for him but the price asked seemed out of reason to Bill and the trade fell through. Hadley is a giant right-hander and can be depended upon to be a regular starter. With Coffman out of action, he will be needed. The present plan is to work Hadley Sunday in the final game with the Detroit Tigers.

Bill Killefer said today he was greatly pleased with the deal. "It gives us what we need," he said, "a real right-fielder and a pitcher who has proven one of the steadiest in the game."

The Mighty Are Fallen.

LEE FOHL, who lifted the Browns to within one game of an American League pennant, is now handling a semi-pro team, The Cleveland Pennzoils.

That's quite a drop for the man who, at different times, managed the Cleveland Indians, the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox. Complaints arose against Fohl in each of the cities where he officiated and his release came when the clubs figured he had not obtained best results from the players supplied him.

Fans charged that but for his break in removing Dixie Davis from the hill in the all-important 1922 "little world series" with the Yanks, near the close of the season, the Browns might have tied, and more probably would have beaten the New York club for the flag.

Fohl, however, was not the real cause of the pennant defeat. The Browns' morale broke. They lost the support of the fans. Although there was ample time to recoup their defeat by the Yanks in the series here, they did not get going again for several games.

Had the team kept its nerve it would have won the flag, as the Yanks finished with a margin of only one game.

The only blame due Fohl was his failure to inspire his men to battle it out at top speed, to the very end of the season.

A "Limited" Opportunity.

ONCE more the Three D. stable of the Waggoner Brothers is "down" with plenty "grand" on their Derby candidate, Liberty Limited.

The weight of their cash at one time bore the Derby hope's future odds from 60 down to 8 to 1.

This is the second time the Waggoners have had a "Limited" candidate, the previous one being Broadway Limited—a horse that cost $60,000 as a juvenile and died a "maiden"—without ever having won a race.

Liberty Limited however, has the same strain as Gallant Fox in his veins, having been sired by Sir Gallahad III, a real stake horse. The Waggoners deserve a break, having put thousands upon thousands of dollars into the racing game without having received anything much out of it except the big "kick" of owning some costly failures.

It Ought to Work.

RECENTLY, in England, a starting gate for athletes was used in a sprint race. A barrier of webbing, that moved outward and up, when released, restrained the eager sprinters from beating the gate.

But it couldn't restrain human nature. One of the young men, tense from nervousness, broke too soon and wrecked the device.

That doesn't mean it has no merit. A rubber barrier could be used in place of webbing and while it would not restrain the runners, its premature release would show which athlete had tried to beat the getaway and would result in a new and fairer start.

Dead Heats Can't Be Run Off.

BECAUSE of the unwillingness of owners to founder their thoroughbreds, dead heats no longer will be run off, as was permitted under old rules. The Jockey Club recently amended the old regulation and henceforth the participants in a dead heat, no matter what their number, will pool their total winnings and divide them equally.

Thus, if the first two horses run a dead heat, the moneys going to first and second horses must be added together and divided equally.

St. Henrys 11, Catholic High 10

The St. Henrys Junior College nine of Belleville defeated the East St. Louis Central Catholic High School team, yesterday afternoon, at Belleville field by the score of 11 to 10. This was the second meeting of the two teams, the East St. Louisans having won the first game.

The East St. Louisans lost but two games this season, one to the Columbia (Ill.), high nine and the other to St. Henrys, yesterday. They have defeated the Chaminade, Cathedral High, St. Henrys, and the Columbia High in previous games.

WASHINGTON U. WINS 6-5 GAME FROM CONCORDIA

Working under a five-run handicap which Concordia obtained in the first two innings, the Washington University baseball team came back in later innings to beat the Preachers, 6 to 5, for its sixth straight victory of the season yesterday afternoon at Liggett Field. The city series now stands even up, as Concordia was the one team to defeat the Bears this year.

After Concordia made a four-run splurge in the first frame and added a single score in the second, Don Vesper, with the help of Lou Jordan in the last two innings of the game, stopped the scoring.

Late in starting, the Bears, on the other hand, tied the score in the seventh inning and pushed across the winning run in the eighth. Jordan, in his first trip to the plate in this inning, singled, and after Vesper also hit safely, George Grueninger smashed a single to left field to score Jordan.

Gallant Sir, Biggest Horse in The 1932 Derby, Showed Real Class in Victory at Tanforan

Well-Played Candidate, Comes of Fine Strain Being by Sir Galahad II —Sun Spot, by Omar Khayyam.

NO. 18. DERBY ENTRIES.

By Harry McKanna.

At Churchill Downs, Louisville, where Gallant Sir is training for the Kentucky Derby a week from next Saturday, they are calling him Phar-Lap, not on his record, however, but on account of his size. He stands 17 hands high and is the biggest horse entered in the blue ribbon turf event.

Gallant Sir, who is a son of Sir Gallahad III, the imported stallion and sire of Gallant Fox, the 1930 Derby winner, reached the Downs this week from San Francisco, where he was campaigned at the Tanforan track. He comes of Derby stock through his dam, Sun Spot, which was sired by the imported Omar Khayyam.

He has started three times as a three-year-old, all in distance races, his best showing being in the Bay Area Handicap, April 16, his last race on the coast, in which he beat a field of 11, including three-year-olds and older horses. Among the horses he defeated were Dr. Freeland, Seth's Hope, Ervast, Bahamas, Joe Flores, Jim Dandy and Sidney Grant. Jim Dandy was the 100-to-1 shot which defeated Gallant Fox and Whichone in the Travers Handicap.

Got a Late Start.

As a two-year-old, Gallant Sir was not raced until Oct. 10, when he started in the Autumn Junior Handicap at six and one-half furlongs at Hawthorne, Chicago. He didn't appear to like the sloppy track and finished ninth and last to Suntica.

After running seventh to Flag Pole and fourth to Senado in sprints at Laurel, improving steadily, Gallant Sir lost a mile race by a head to My Fergus at Laurel. He was in front of the field at the half, but was steered wide through the final half, lost considerable ground, but continued gamely under punishment.

Hygro, the good western colt, beat him by five lengths in the Helpful Stakes at Pimlico. He finished resolutely, making up much ground after running fourth in the stretch.

He ran against Top Flight in the Pimlico Futurity, finishing ninth, 11 lengths back of the unbeaten Whitney filly. He was bumped by Tick On near the half-mile mark, was knocked off his stride and could not recover thereafter. But he finished ahead of Lucky Tom, Hygro and Semaphone.

Gallant Sir scored his only two-year-old victory Dec. 2 after being shipped to Pacific coast track, where he won a sprint over a sloppy course by five lengths. In his next out, 24 days later, he was badly outrun and finished sixth to Whizz James.

Rested for two months, he made his first three-year-old start at Tanforan, finishing third, back of Bahamas and Scimitar, March 31. He finished fifth to Scimitar in a mile and sixteenth feature, and then came back on April 16 and defeated the same field, with the exception of Scimitar, in the Bay Area Handicap at a mile and 70 yards.

the first golf shoe

to help you pivot

Spalding--convinced that shoes could be improved in design, just as clubs and balls have been improved--took the thing in hand. The result is a definite advance in golf shoe construction--the new Spalding Full-Swing Shoe.

This shoe actually helps you to pivot correctly. The inside edges of the sole are beveled to facilitate an uninterrupted roll, and the wider heels act as sway checks.

Notice the flange on the outer edge of the heel as indicated by the shaded portion. On the right foot this flange stabilizes the back swing and encourages a fuller movement because balance is better. On the left foot it adds firmness against the force of the blow and tends to correct the premature sway of the body.

Compare the inside edge of the sole of the ordinary golf shoe (indicated by the shaded portion) with "Full Swing." The sharp-cornered extending edge of the ordinary sole may be likened to a brake on the free, easy roll of the foot. The Full-Swing actually promotes and accelerates the proper foot movement.

This new Spalding Shoe comes in the four most popular golf shoe styles—and asks no premium for its pivoting features. $10 and $12

TOP FLIGHT,

FILLY IS TOO LIGHT, MASTER OF IDLE HOUR FARM DECLARES

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 28.—In the opinion of Col. E. R. Bradley, master of Idle Hour farm, whose entries twice have won the Kentucky Derby, Top Flight, winter book favorite for the $50,000 classic to be run at Louisville May 7, won't even finish in the money.

And the Blue Grass turfman said he has $20,000 to bet against $10,000 to back up his prediction.

"Top Flight will be beaten in the Derby," Bradley said. "I am willing to bet $20,000 to $10,000 she does not finish among the first three. It's open to the world."

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 28.—In the opinion of Col. E. R. Bradley, master of Idle Hour farm, whose entries twice have won the Kentucky Derby, Top Flight, winter book favorite for the $50,000 classic to be run at Louisville May 7, won't even finish in the money.

And the Blue Grass turfman said he has $20,000 to bet against $10,000 to back up his prediction.

"Top Flight will be beaten in the Derby," Bradley said. "I am willing to bet $20,000 to $10,000 she does not finish among the first three. It's open to the world."

BRADLEY.

Derby Favorite Too Light.

Bradley, who has five of his own thoroughbreds eligible for the classic, bases his assertions about Top Flight on his belief the C. V. Whitney filly is "too much of the light or effeminate filly type to do what Regret did."

Regret, he recalled, was the only filly ever to win the Derby. She came in in front of a field of 16 in the 1915 renewal of the classic.

"I concede that Top Flight was our champion two-year-old last year," Bradley said, "but I can't see her winning the Derby."

The owner of Behave Yourself and Bubbling Over, Derby winners in 1921 and 1926 respectively, believes Tick On, Mrs. L. G. Kaufman's colt, will be the horse to beat this year.

"Beat Tick On and you'll win the race," he said. "Burning Blaze is a good one, too," he added.

Bradley Likes His Own Entry.

Bradley believes he has a good chance to win the 1932 renewal of the Derby and thereby become the only owner to win three of the big races.

"My colts are doing well, and if nothing happens should come up to the race at their best," he said.

Chief of Bradley's entries are Brother Joe and Burgoo King. Besides them he has Bubble Up, Battering Ram and Bert John on the eligible list.

Top Flight and Tick On Equal Derby Choices

AS a result of Tick On's showing in his first start as a three-year-old, in which he finished second after a bad ride, his Derby odds today were cut to 4 to 1 to win, making him an equal price with the winter book favorite, Top Flight.

According to Tom Kearney's quotations today, other odds against these rivals are 3 to 1 to place and 2 to 1 to show, indicating the belief that if they fail to win they will finish out of the money.

Burning Blaze continues third choice at 6 to 1. Faireno, a dark horse much talked of, is still at 30 to 1. Bradley's ace, Burgoo King, was dropped to 15 to 1.

Twenty Grand Has Injured Tendon; Retired for Year

NEW YORK, April 28.—Twenty Grand, three-year-old champion last year has been retired from racing for this season and may never run again. The middle tendon he ruptured while training at Havre de Grace last fall has weakened and Mrs. Payne Whitney has ordered him sent to her Kentucky farm and turned out for a year.

Twenty Grand won the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes, the Wood Memorial and the Saratoga Cup last year and was figured to lead the handicap division this year if in shape.

The son of St. Germans and Bonus had wintered well and was brought to Belmont Park for training but his leg was seen to be paining him and his trainer, Willie Brennan finally decided he could not be prepared for the races.

Stake races in which he was expected to start included the Jockey Club Gold Cup, the Arlington Cup and the Saratoga Cup.

Maj. Louis Beard, general manager of Mrs. Whitney's Greentree Stable, was still hopeful this morning that Twenty Grand would get to the races this fall.

"He is in no condition to stand training now," said Maj. Beard, "but we have hopes his injured leg may respond to treatment."

In 24th Season.

Clarence Mitchell of the Giants has started his twenty-fourth season on the mound.

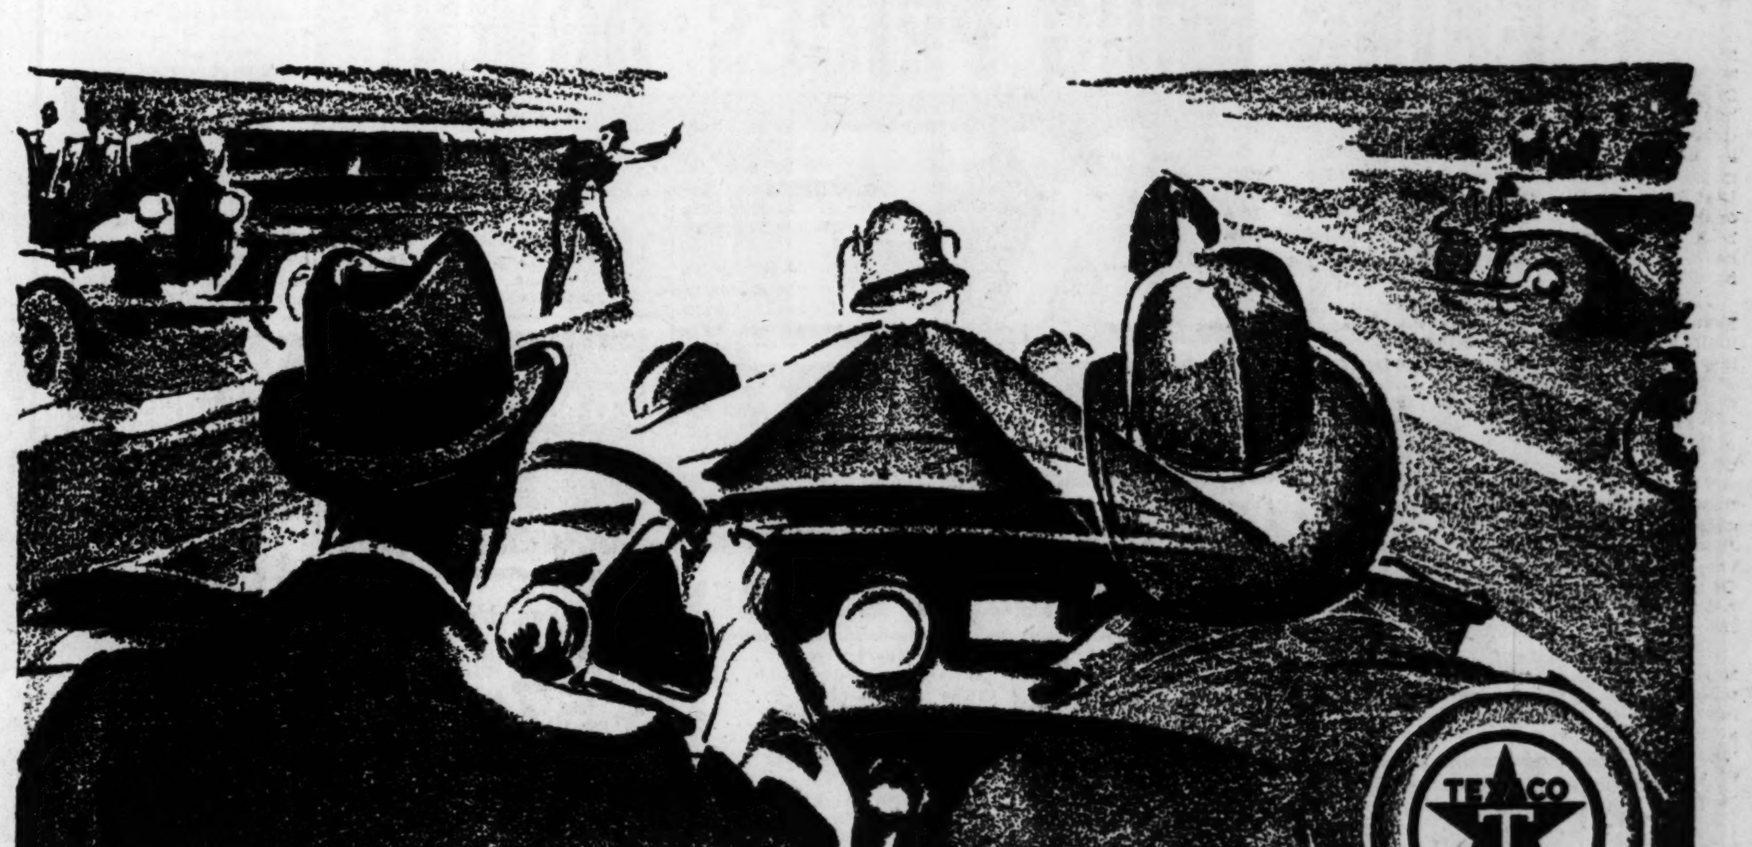
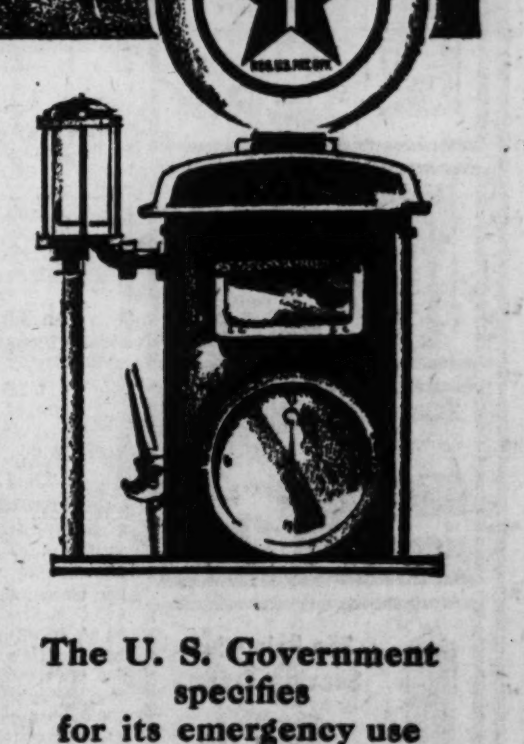
TEXACO FIRE-CHIEF
GASOLINE





Shrieking sirens—the roar of a powerful engine—a red streak flashes by and she's on her way! There's power for you—real honest-to-goodness power—the kind of power you'd like to have right under your own accelerator!

Today you can have it. Not the fire engine, of course, nor the siren nor the bell—but the very same power-gasoline which surpasses federal specifications for use in U. S. Government emergency equipment.

Here's what Uncle Sam uses this type of gasoline for . . . "ambulances, fire-engines and emergency vehicles." What the Government uses for emergency equipment—you can now have for your own every-day use at no extra price.

Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline is an anti-knock gasoline with an octane rating that is outstanding. And remember Texaco Fire-Chief plus Ethyl equals Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline.

The U. S. Government specifies for its emergency use

". . . . a grade of motor fuel which is suitable for ambulances, fire-engines, emergency vehicles, military and naval equipment."

Kansas Farmer Tells of Will Made by Man Whom He Saved From Bull.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., April 28. — Joseph Hejny, a grain farmer from Otis, Kan., in court yesterday to answer the divorce suit of his wife, Mary, said a Maxine Brown offered him $50,000 "if I would part with my wife and go to her." He said he met Miss Brown after saving her father from being gored by a bull near Great Bend, Kan., in 1923. After the father's death, it was learned he had willed Hejny between $50,000 and $75,000 as a reward with the provision that he marry Miss Brown, Hejny asserted. His testimony did not definitely clear up the identity of Miss Brown and Mrs. Hejny testified she "never saw the woman."

The Hejny's were married here Nov. 17, 1926, and have three small children. Mrs. Hejny testified she was forced to leave her husband's farm and return to Cleveland, where she lives with her parents, to work.

BILLS FOR CHICAGO TAX RELIEF BEATEN IN ILLINOIS SENATE

Measures Fail One After Another—'Kill Them All, Let's Go Home,' Says One Member.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The Chicago tax relief bills were defeated, one after another, in the State Senate this morning.

"Kill them all and let's go home," was the advice of Senator Richard J. Barr, Republican, Joliet.

First the Gunning bill, to put teeth in the personal property tax law was killed by a vote of nine to four, with six present and not voting.

Next the Key bill of the Chicago relief program, providing that circuit courts may order complete or partial revision of assessments, was killed. This bill drew a vote of 23 to 5, but it needed 26 votes for passage.

The next bill of the series got one more vote, 24 to 8, but was killed. It provided that county governments may issue bonds without referendum during reassessment periods.

The Senate later voted to adjourn sine die next Thursday, after six other bills requested by J. L. Jacobs, Cook County Assessor, were passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

Fearing an additional direct tax on property downstate, the Senate yesterday defeated bills to appropriate another $20,000,000 for unemployment relief in Illinois.

The Legislature already has appropriated $20,000,000 for relief of the jobless and unless a bond issue for the initial amount is approved at the fall election, the State tax rate will be increased about 30 cents. The bonds would be retired from the gasoline tax.

The first measure of the salary reduction program, which would cut compensation of executive and administrative officers of the civil code departments, went to the Governor yesterday.

The bill reduces from $7000 to $6000 a year the salaries of the directions of finance, agriculture, labor, mines and minerals, public works and buildings, purchases and construction; public welfare; trade and commerce; registration and education and conservation. All assistant directors and employes would receive corresponding reductions.

Other State officials and their salaries that are affected include: Superintendent of Highways, $6000 to $5100; State purchasing agent, $6000 to $5100; superintendent of printing, $5000 to $4300; superintendent of prisons, $6000 to $5100; Fire Marshal, $5000 to $4300; Commerce Commissioners, $7000 to $6000, and secretary of Commerce Commission, $6000 to $5100.

This bill was passed by the House by 82 to 2. It will not affect present office holders.

The House also passed a bill to reduce salaries of State's Attorneys of all counties excepting Cook. Under the scale, salaries would range from $1500 annually in counties of less than 25,000 inhabitants to $6000 in counties between 105,000 and 250,000 population. The Senate must concur in House amendments before this bill goes to the Governor.

The House killed a Senate bill to reduce salaries of county Judges, but passed a series of House bills that would reduce the salaries of Assistant Commerce Commissioners, Justices of the Court of Claims and Commissioners of the Supreme Court. Bills to cut Judges of the Supreme Court, Athletic Commissioners and county superintendents were killed.

Representative Robert Whitely (Rep.), Carlinville, tried to revive a bill to cut the salaries of members of the General Assembly from $3500 to $2500 for the biennium, but the House refused to permit him to put it on the calendar. The vote was 67 to 9 against the bill.

A resolution memorializing Congress to give states power to adopt laws permitting sale of light wines and beer was adopted by a 63 to 31 vote. It was introduced by Joseph Rategan (Dem.), Chicago. The House killed a bill offered by Representative Ralph Church (Rep.), Evanston, which would have levied a tax on light wines, beer and malt syrup should sale be permitted by the Federal Government.

The House also killed a bill to reduce vehicle license fees on pleasure automobiles 50 per cent.

MEYER SAYS ALL BANKS SHOULD BE IN U. S. CONTROL

Governor of Reserve Board Makes Statement to House Committee in Arguing Against Bonus Bill

'COMPETITION IN LAXITY' ASSAILED

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, in testimony today before the House Ways and Means Committee, amplified his statement of yesterday in favor of a single, Federalized system of banking in place of the present dual system of State and national banks.

The committee again had under consideration the Patman bonus-payment bill, to which Meyer expressed vigorous opposition.

He linked his statement on banking to the matter under discussion by saying that a sound, strong banking system was essential to the preservation of a proper credit structure.

Meyer, in reply to questions, agreed that it was a bad practice, in general, for bankers to recommend to customers the purchase of stocks.

Meyer said he proposed a "unified" rather than a "centralized" banking system on the European plan. He believed the states should be stripped of their bank-chartering powers and the whole banking system of the country brought under one regulatory power—the Federal Government. A recommendation to this effect, he said, had been submitted by him to the Banking and Currency Committee of the Senate, with the unanimous approval of the Federal Reserve Board.

The Growth of Bank Checks.

As to the rights of the states, Meyer said they ought to be nourished to the fullest extent possible, but he pointed to the change in conditions since the framing of the Constitution. Certain functions, such as the handling of the mails, could best be carried on under Federal control, and he believed the same was true of banking.

"Banking ," he said, "is one of the things that have become national in scope. The use of bank checks has reached a scale that the fathers never dreamed of. Over 90 per cent of the business of the country is carried on by checks. It is vital that there should be no more question about the soundness of a bank check than about the soundness of other forms of our currency.

The dual system of banking, Meyer said, had bred competition between the state and national banks, and as a result there had been a weakening of safeguards. For example, he said, some states permitted their banks to own corporation stocks — a practice forbidden, except in special cases, to national banks. Some states permitted practically unlimited branch banking, and so on.

"Competition in Laxity."

"Nothing could be more disastrous," he declared, "than a competition in laxity."

He said that bankers in general had shown but little interest in proposals of unified control, the reason being, as he believed, that they saw an advantage to themselves in being able to "play one system against the other." In other words, he explained, a bank could now threaten to change over from one system to the other if it didn't like the regulations of the system it was in.

Meyer was asked whether it might not be desirable to except from his plan those states which now have adequate banking regulations.

He replied that he did not see how exceptions would be possible under a unified control. There would be no guaranty, he said, against a change in regulations through a change in political control in a state.

"The banking system of the country," he said, "should be as independent of politics as the judiciary."

Meyer said the Federal Reserve Board had sufficient power under the law to increase the amount of currency and credit to meet business demands. He voiced strenuous opposition to the Patman bill to inflate the currency by $2,000,000,000 to pay the remainder outstanding on the soldiers' bonus.

Meyer estimated the amount of hoarded money at $1,000,000,000. Before the anti-hoarding drive, he said, this figure was $1,500,000,000.

The Federal Reserve System is capbale under the reserve act of expanding credit by an amount estimated at $3,5000,000,000." he said. "This was not changed by the Glass-Steagall law."

He replied that he did not see how exceptions would be possible under a unified control. There would be no guaranty, he said, against a change in regulations through a change in political control in a state.

"The banking system of the country," he said, "should be as independent of politics as the judiciary."

Meyer said the Federal Reserve Board had sufficient power under the law to increase the amount of currency and credit to meet business demands. He voiced strenuous opposition to the Patman bill to inflate the currency by $2,000,000,000 to pay the remainder outstanding on the soldiers' bonus.

Meyer estimated the amount of hoarded money at $1,000,000,000. Before the anti-hoarding drive, he said, this figure was $1,500,000,000.

"The Federal Reserve System is capable under the reserve act of expanding credit by an amount estimated at $3,5000,000,000." he said. "This was not changed by the Glass-Steagall law."

$450,000,000 TREASURY ISSUE IS OVERSUBSCRIBED, 10 TO 1

Officials Attach No Unusual Significance to Situation; Bankers Expected Larger Issue.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Efforts of financial interests to obtain a share of the $225,000,000 3 per cent loans to be sold next week by the Treasury brought an oversubscription of 10 times the total sought.

Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced last night that total subscription of the 3 per cent two-year notes which will be dated May 1 was $2,496,428,700 and that the subscription for the $225,000,000 of 2 per cent one-year Treasury certificates was $1,699,868,000. The total of the two issues to be sold May 2 as the part of the Treasury $1,500,000,000 borrowing program for the current fiscal year was $4,196,296,700.

The huge oversubscription was not regarded as unusually significant by officials, because it was known that many financial interests seeking to obtain a part of the unexpectedly small total of the two issues had padded their subscriptions several times to get the amount they wished.

The conditions which made notes and certificates popular were first their comparatively short term and second the fact that Federal Reserve banks now are buying securities, releasing cash for which investment was sought.

LABORITES TO BACK DE VALERA BILL TO ABOLISH ALLEGIANCE

Additional Strength Virtually Assures Passage of Measure Against Oath to England.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 28.—William Hogan, leader of the Irish Laborite group, tonight announced that the Laborites would support President Eamon de Valera's bill abolishing the oath of allegiance to the English crown, thus virtually assuring the passage of the measure in the Dail Eireann.

J. F. O'Hanlon, a Farmers' Deputy, declared at resumption of debate on second reading that "no amount of legal quibbling will convince me what we are engaged in today is either economic, honorable or patriotic."

Prof. J. M. O'Sullivan, former Minister of Education in the Cosgrave Cabinet, said the measure would bring "a maximum of trouble and dishonor with a minimum of advantage."

TO ORGANIZE DROSHKY DRIVERS

Moscow Transport Union Decrees Commercial Group.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 28.—The Moscow Transport Union decreed yesterday that the 1400 droshky drivers in the capital must be formed into organizations communal in type. Each will profit equally in the joint earnings and each must bear an equal share of the operating expenses.

Until now the old Muscovite cabbies, who have been an institution in Russia for generations, have profited handsomely by the inadequate transportation facilities of Moscow. They have demanded—and received—the most exorbitant fees from clients who had no time to wait for overcrowded tramcars or for the extremely scarce taxicabs. Under the decree the droshky drivers will be compelled to charge fixed rates.

FARM GROUPS SUBMIT RELIEF PLAN TO SENATE COMMITTEE

Program Including Equalization Fee and Export Debenture Urged to Aid Agriculture.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—A broad program to relieve agriculture, containing the controversial equalization fee and export debenture plan, was put before the Senate Agriculture Committee today by Chester Gray of the American Farm Bureau Federation for the Federation, the National Farmers' Union and the National Grange.

The program also calls for an allotment plan to handle that portion of the crops needed for domestic consumption, as provided in the pending bill of Senator Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma. This measure stipulates that the price the farmer receives for produce needed for domestic consumption shall be equal to the cost of production. The remainder of the crops would be withheld from the domestic market, but could be exported for less than the price fixed for domestic sales.

The measure provides that the Farm Board may bar imports when the flow affects the domestic market sufficiently to hamper sales at the cost of production price.

GEN. MAH CHANG-SHAN SEEKS PROTECTION OF THE LEAGUE

Appeals Through Pu-Yi for Safe Conduct Out of Manchuria.

By the Associated Press.

PEIPING, China, April 28.—Chinese press dispatches said today that Gen. Mah Chan-shan, whose loyalties have switched three times between China and Japan during the past six months, had telegraphed Henry Pu-yi, theoretical head of the Manchoukuo Government, advising him to request that the League of Nations investigating commission give him safe conduct out of Manchuria.

The dispatches quoted the General as saying that when he visited Changchun for Pu-yi's inauguration last March, the former Boy Emperor of China grasped him by the hand and said with tears in his eyes, "I am now in the mouth of the tiger. I can do nothing. Every day I want to die, but I cannot."

TURKISH PREMIER IN MOSCOW

MOSCOW, April 28. — Ismet Pasha, Premier of Turkey, accompanied by 34 Turkish dignitaries arrived here today on a visit of good will.

The visitors were met at the station by Premier Molotoff and other high Soviet officials who welcomed them with an impressive military ceremony. The party was then driven in official automobiles through several miles of streets lined with Soviet citizens.

REVERSING SELF, COMMITTEE KILLS OIL, COAL TARIFF

Senate Group Also Eliminates Coke and Copper Duties From House Revenue Bill.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Senate Finance Committee today reversed itself and eliminated the oil and coal tariffs from the House revenue bill.

The committee then struck out a copper duty from the revenue bill in reversing itself completely on tariffs.

The decisions were made after heated argument in executive session. Previously the committee by narrow margins had voted to retain the coal and oil duties and to add an import tax on copper.

Refusal of the committee to include a tariff on lumber is believed to have had an influence in knocking out the oil and coal levies.

The 10 per cent levy on cosmetics and toilet articles was retained by the committee although it agreed to exclude tooth pastes, mouth washes and toilet soaps from the tax. The exemptions were estimated to cut $8,000,000 from the $20,000,000 originally expected to be produced from this tax.

Taking up the jewelry tax, the committee agreed to exempt flat tableware, both sterling and plate, but it declined to lift the tax applying to eyeglass and spectacle frames. A final decision on jewelry went over until the afternoon.

The committee accepted the House automobile tax.

It retained also the House rates of 3 per cent on passenger automobiles, 2 per cent on trucks and 1 per cent on accessories.

The committee decided to levy an income tax on the salaries of the President of the United States and the Federal Judges late yesterday, after a drastic upward revision of the income tax schedules, from top to bottom. President Hoover is not affected, nor are Judges now serving, but all who hereafter step into these offices will, if the clause is approved by the whole Congress, bear a share of the cost of Government.

War compensation payments to veterans also were placed among taxable items.

The committee has worked so rapidly that it is predicted it may report the bill to the Senate tomorrow. By virtue of the increases adopted yesterday the Senators hoped today to be able to reduce or eliminate several special taxes voted by the House which are particularly opposed by business interests and by Secretary Mills.

Peru Fears Copper Tariff Will Throw Miners Out of Work.

LIMA, PERU, April 28.—The decision of the United States Finance Committee to include copper imports in the tariff measure now under consideration is bitterly attacked in the press here. "The United States is stubbornly asphyxiating the production of countries south of the Rio Grande," declared El Comercio. This newspaper pointed out that the copper industry in Peru was for the most part in the hands of Americans, who would be great sufferers under any tariff regulation, and that the imposition of duties would throw 60,000 miners out of work.

WOMEN URGE DRY PLANKS

DETROIT, Mich., April 28.—Members of the Woman's American Baptist Home and Foreign Mission societies from Michigan, Illinois and Missouri, in session here yesterday adopted a resolution demanding that the National Party conventions support planks calling for enforcement of prohibition.

Mrs. Sylvester Schiele, Chicago, was elected president; Mrs A. B. Crow, Detroit, secretary, and Miss Florence Grant, Birmingham, Mich., home missions vice president.

SCIENTIST EXPLAINS LIGHT IN SKY ON MOONLESS NIGHTS

It Is, in Part, Akin to Auroral Display, Lowell Observatory Director Says.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., April 28. — The dim, faintly luminous light in the sky on moonless nights has been found to be in part akin to the light of the auroral display, Dr. V. M. Slipher, director of the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., said yesterday at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Southwestern division.

Dr. Slipher said he had determined that the green or spectrum line, long regarded as typical of auroral displays, is at all times present in the spectrum of all parts of the night sky.

Special apparatus was designed by Dr. Slipher in his study of the light and by its use he was able to establish that the spectrum line is weakest at the zenith and brightest toward the horizon—more intense in the west in the evening and in the east in the morning, that is, most intense in the sky toward the sun.

"The presence of the line was not at all dependent upon auroral displays," he said. "It may not even be intensified during some auroral displays, as was true of that of Oct. 18, 1928."

UNION OPPOSES DOOR-TO-DOOR COLLECTION OF PARCEL POST

Brotherhood of Rail and Steamship Employes Protests Against Proposed Change.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., April 28.—Opposition to door-to-door collection of parcel post packages, as proposed in Congress, was expressed today by the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employes. A letter containing the protest was sent to James M. Mead, chairman of the House Postoffice Committee, by George N. Harrison, president of the brotherhood.

Harrison said the brotherhood contends that institution of such service will place the Government in competition to private package-handling agencies, crippling private enterprise, causing further unemployment, and contribution to the postal deficit.

RAIL UNION OPPOSES MERGER

Counsel for Trainmen Says It Will Add to Unemployment.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Railway workers through their attorney, J. A. Farquaharson, urged the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday to turn down the plan for a four-system consolidation of Eastern railroads.

Farquaharson, arguing before the entire commission against the proposal of the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Baltimore & Ohio, the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad, asserted railway consolidation at this time would add to unemployment. He said the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen had a normal membership of 180,000 to 195,000 and that it once reached 200,000. Today the membership had dropped to 155,000, he said, of which 40,000 were idle or working only four or five days a month.

PUBLISHERS CRITICISE CONTEMPT DECISION

Declare Ruling in Aberdeen, S. D., Case Encroaches on Press Freedom.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—American newspaper publishers yesterday adopted a resolution condemning recent court action in the Aberdeen (S. D.) American-News case as "an encroachment upon freedom of the press."

The committee on freedom of the press presented the resolution. It commended the expressed intention of the publishers of the American-News to "carry the case to the highest court in order to maintain unimpaired the right of fair comment upon a judicial decision."

The paper was held in contempt by Circuit Judge J. H. Bottum for comment on a decision following exposure of alleged graft among local politicians.

The paper commented adversely on the court decision in a case which ended in a suspended sentence, it was stated. The Judge held the newspaper and publisher in contempt, saying that because the sentence was suspended, the case still rested with the Court and therefore was not subject to comment.

The Publishers Association, at its annual meeting at the Waldorf Astoria today, received from its Special Standing Committee, a report criticizing the printing trades unions for failure to co-operate in necessary readjustments. The report advocated economies, either through wage cuts of from 20 to 25 per cent or by "abolition of all wasteful and costly rules enforced by printing trades unions." The report was accepted, but no immediate action was taken.

RAIL EXTENSIONS FAVORED

Examiner Makes Recommendation if Sale of Line Is Refused.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Examiner R. R. Molster today recommended that the Interstate Commerce Commission authorize the Gulf & West Texas Railway to construct a 29-mile line from Fredericksburg to Fredericksburg Junction, Tex., if the Fredericksburg & Northern Railroad refuses to sell its line for $227,000. The Gulf & West Texas is a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Efforts have been made by the Southern Pacific to buy the Fredericksburg & Northern in order to extend its lines from San Angelo, Tex., to Brady, Tex., on to Fredericksburg.

STIMSON CHANGES MIND, STAYS ON IN GENEVA AWHILE

Secretary to Remain Until Saturday or Later but Is Expected to Sail for U. S. Wednesday.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Switzerland, April 28.—Secretary of State Stimson decided today to postpone his departure from Geneva until Saturday "or later." Stimson conferred with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain and Chancellor Bruening of Germany, and later lunched with the United States delegation to the World Disarmament Conference.

It was not immediately apparent why Stimson decided to delay leaving Geneva, nor was it disclosed whether or not he had also postponed his sailing for the United States, which was arranged yesterday for Wednesday, May 4, from Cannes, France, on the liner Vulcania.

It was assumed, however, that he would adhere to his sailing schedule.

"Big Five" Parley Off.

Hope for the early conciliation of the differences between France and Germany collapsed yesterday when Premier Tardieu of France telegraphed that an attack of laryngitis made it impossible for him to attend the "Big Five" conference, called for tomorrow.

As soon as his message arrived, arrangements to go home were made by Stimson, MacDonald and Bruening.

Stimson is known to be greatly disappointed at the outcome of his European trip. He had hoped to be able to assist in a Franco-German agreement that would remove the most serious obstacle in the path of real progress in disarmament.

French Elections Sunday.

The cancellation of the Friday meeting caused a shock of surprise, despite the fact that few informed persons had expected anything remarkable to result from it.

It was recognized that Tardieu was helpless, on the very eve of the French Chamber of Deputy elections next Sunday, to make any new engagements abroad. More-

For Retention of the Psychiatric Clinic.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE papers inform us that the city is entertaining some "penny-wise and pound-foolish" ideas of economy. I refer to the proposed closing of the psychiatric clinic.

As I see it, that clinic stands for scientific study in the treatment of human beings. It stands for the best science has to offer in the care of problem children, delinquent youths and criminal adults. It stands for the most advanced thought in home adjustment, parental education and child development. To it are brought children of some of the best citizens in our city, as well as children of ignorant and irresponsible parents and children of no parents at all. All are given the best that trained social, psychological and medical workers are able to give.

As I see it, too, the clinic is an expression of the city's desire to be more to its citizenry than a policing and tax-gathering agency. Its social function is to effect individual readjustment toward law-abiding and adequate living; its practical function is to reach the socially maladjusted and the prospective criminal and impose remedial treatment before he becomes a full-grown drain upon public funds.

Even if nothing mattered but dollars (and we have about a cent and a half per year per capita invested in the clinic) it would be illogical to continue to budget institutions to administer ancient and admittedly inadequate laws and fail to support an agency whose business is to get at the root of human maladjustments and to apply treatment when and where treatment might be beneficial. If our present economic paralysis has anything to teach, it is that sheer mechanical and materialistic efficiency is not enough and that we have sinned miserably in leaving out the human element. Now that private social agencies have been forced to retrench by the limitations set by the Community Fund, a greater burden than ever is placed upon the clinic. Is the city to fail the people whom the clinic serves?

Let's knock off a block of pavement if necessary, or shut off a fountain or two, but as a city let's not add to our neglect of little children who are the victims of awkward parents, soulless commerce and an economically sick society.

THEO. F. LENTZ JR.

Who Is the Culprit?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

FOR the love of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (R. F. C. to you), who devises the summer round-trip railroad rate schedules between here and the East? Could it be the man who names the Pullmans? He's so quaint, I mean.

Rates are to be reduced 45 per cent if—and, boy, is that a big if!—one can manage to leave here on a Friday and start back the following Monday night. Picture a vacation trip to New York City. Leave St. Louis "at or after" noon Friday; arrive New York "at or after" noon Saturday. That gives one Saturday night, Sunday and the daylight hours of Monday to drink in the sights of Grand Central or Pennsylvania Station, as preferred, leaving Judge Seabury and the subsidized Wall Street reporters to blush unseen.

HERMIT.

The Loss of Purchasing Power.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

QUOTING Mr. Lionberger: "Prices, however, are declining and have declined 20 per cent. The result is that the purchasing power of the average income of the nation is gradually increasing—not in the money in which values are measured, but in the commodities it will buy, and as in the course of time a small income will buy more as prices decline, more will be spent; the demand for goods will increase; the factories will be put at work, men will again be engaged and receive wages and so become spenders."

This view is undoubtedly orthodox economic theory; but let us examine the facts. While prices have declined 20 per cent, we must balance against this decline the well-nigh destroyed purchasing power of the six to eight million unemployed, and the reduced purchasing power of those fortunate enough to be employed. In the past a period of falling prices always benefited those with a fixed income, such as teachers, a certain class of office workers and the many city, state and government employes. But today we find that even this class is being forced to a lower wage scale and consequently lower purchasing power, be it in the way of salary reductions, week-end holidays or staggering of work.

Weighing, therefore, the 20 per cent price decline against the loss of purchasing power among the unemployed and those employed at reduced incomes, I am certain that there has been no gradual increase in real income. I should like to have Mr. Lionberger explain how there will be any increase in the real income of the nation until we can put three or four million unemployed back to work—even though at greatly reduced pay.

H. S. SCHUCART.

REDUCING THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

"All of us are struggling to reduce the cost of government," President Hoover told the conference of Governors yesterday.

At the same time, the new tax bill now being debated in Congress is designed to raise more than a billion dollars in additional revenue to close the gap between income and outgo.

It is ground for serious consideration that up to this time new taxes are playing so large a part in the budget-balancing operation and economies so small a role.

The Government, as we have already pointed out, cannot consistently increase the taxes upon others without also taxing itself.

The budget now under discussion, $4,112,000,000, is only about $249,000,000 smaller than the estimated expenditures of 1931-32, which will result in a deficit now estimated at $2,500,000,000. In addition, other economies totaling about $200,000,000 are on the agenda, for a total saving, if all are enacted, of about 9 per cent. It is to make up for the difference between the fall in revenue and this 9 per cent saving that the additional billion in revenue is necessary.

Federal expenditures have been increasing at a terrific rate in the last two decades. Had they kept up with the increase in population in that interval, the budget now would be only a billion dollars instead of four times that amount. Had expenditures increased in proportion to the gain in national wealth, the budget now would be only $1,400,000,000. Here is the reason for the unbalanced budget, for the new tax program and for the efforts now being made to achieve economy.

Virtually every household and every business in the land is confronted by the same necessity. All had expanded their activities and expenditures during the days of plenty, and most of them now face the need for retrenchment. It is difficult for those who have dined on prosperity fare to adjust their palates to depression rations, but it is being done all over the country. The activities of Federal Government should be no exception.

Hence the great importance of the fight for economy now being waged. Greater savings than are now being discussed should be possible. It would be well to seize the occasion to check the growth of bureaucracy, which encroaches on the liberties of the people as well as running them into debt.

Payments on the public debt and the obligations to veterans are fixed charges, but in the bureau field are great opportunities for checking waste and saving money. As Mr. Hoover said yesterday, "We are clearly absorbing too great a portion of the national income for the conduct of our various branches of government."

An instance is the Department of Agriculture, which cost $19,916,000 in 1911 and $296,866,000 in 1931, without including the estimated $191,894,000 expenditure of the Farm Board.

Government is like an orchard. Unless it is regularly pruned, it becomes topheavy.

The great political orchard on the Potomac needs pruning. It is not a fair answer to say that to prune it will increase unemployment by throwing Federal employes out of work. It is the business of government to promote employment for the people, but building up a great bureau class is not the way to do it.

A GREAT NEWSPAPER'S MISFORTUNE.

When Charles Prestwich Scott, veteran director of the Manchester Guardian, died at 86 recently, journalism the world over took consolation in the fact that his son, Edward Taylor Scott, active editor since 1929, was continuing the high standard by which the father had made the Guardian justly famous. Now the son's life has come to an untimely end by drowning in Wordsworth's beautiful Lake Windermere. The Guardian has thus been doubly hit, and that at a time when England never needed it more. Her recent shift to a tariff policy when the ill effects of mounting tariffs afflict all trade, only demonstrates how deeply the Guardian's country has use for its reasoned counsel. The associates of the Scotts, who necessarily have had an important part in establishing the Guardian's good name, will do their tasks well if they keep the light of the father and son burning.

ARE GIFTS OPERATING EXPENSES?

The question of whether gifts to charity by common carriers may be included in operating expenses or should be drawn from surplus will be the subject of a hearing next month before the Interstate Commerce Commission. We trust that body will agree with the New York State Public Service Commission, which recently ordered the New York Telephone Co. to charge its philanthropic impulses to surplus in future. The company in the last three years had charged $233,000 worth of gifts to its overhead costs.

It is impossible to fathom how a contribution to charity can be considered legitimately as an operating expense. Since operating costs are the basis of rates, the practice in effect imposes a charity tax on the customers of the company. While the generous spirit in giving to charity is commendable, the customers probably would prefer to make their donations directly.

CREDIT TO THE PRINTERS.

The Post-Dispatch takes professional pride in the fact that in the Ayer Awards competition, it has been adjudged one of the 10 best newspapers, typographically, in the United States. First place among the 1476 entries went to the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, a newspaper of about 40,000 circulation, founded in 1764, the year young Auguste Chouteau began the erection of log houses for Laclede's trading post. The Courant has long been known for its typographical cleanliness and pleasing appearance. The others in the first 10 were: the Herald Tribune, the American and the Times in New York; the Baltimore Sun, the Newark Evening News, the Detroit Free Press, the Philadelphia Public Ledger and the Christian Science Monitor. It will be noted that eight of the 10 are in cities along the Atlantic seaboard, with St. Louis the only city west of Detroit represented. Printing and publishing received a workmanlike, if inauspicious, start here in 1808 at the hands of Joseph Charless, self-styled "printer to the territory," and we take this occasion to pay homage to the local craftsmen who through the years have followed him at the type case and the press.

LIGHT AND POWER.

The city-owned electric plant at Springfield, Ill., has announced a reduction in rates which will save its customers $25,000 a year, and the small consumer will be the principal beneficiary of the cut. How the company has prospered is told by Commissioner Spaulding, in charge of the plant. When the city entered the commercial field, the average per capita consumption was 275 kilowatt hours. Now it is 900, a gain of more than 200 per cent, and with the new rates an increase is looked for both in the number of customers and consumption, which, it is believed, will maintain the income of the business.

The well-being of this Springfield plant is in striking contrast with the distress of the Insull properties, and the explanation is obvious. It was given in a striking sentence by an officer of the Insull organization in the Post-Dispatch on Sunday. "The dollar gets weary," he said, "traveling from the bottom to the top. It has too many places to go."

That Insull dollar, as was shown, had to climb the Alpine heights of holding companies, piled one above the other. In Springfield the customer's light-and-power dollar goes direct to the company's treasury, pays the company's bills, and what is left is profit. The Springfield customer's dollar does not have to pay fantastic prices for the vague, so-called expert service of the holding companies. It does not have to carry on its back a crushing burden of interest charges. It does not have to make contributions to both political parties. It did not have to elect Col. Frank Smith to the United States Senate, as the Insull dollars did.

The business of the Springfield company is the production and distribution of light and power. Ostensibly that was the business of the Insull organization, but in reality it was up to its ears in the security business and over its ears in politics. It cracked under the load, and investors in its voluminous and various issues are today counting their losses.

The light and power business, conducted capably as such, is a fine, profitable business. Its future is ahead of it in dimensions of gain and public service that cannot be foretold. But light and power cannot maintain the printing presses, the politics and the piracy of the holding company, the extinction of which public policy will, we believe, ultimately demand.

It is not radicals who are driving Springfield and thousands of other communities into public ownership of utilities. It is the greedy manipulators of utility securities who are doing it.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The result of the Republican senatorial contest in Pennsylvania was necessarily disappointing. The contestants were Senator Davis and Gen. Smedley D. Butler, the dryest marine that ever reefed a tops'l. The General was beaten. That may have been too bad, but not a whit worse than the defeat of Senator Davis would have been. It was one of those battles that had to end in a Waterloo.

And what a cheap, impecunious row it was, compared with that "golden primary" of '26, when the friends of George Wharton Pepper and William S. Vare carpeted the Keystone State with dollars and splashed the ridges of the Alleghenies with silver and gold. There were millions in that tourney, and never before or since were the "watchers" at the polls so handsomely remunerated. That was the occasion when, as Mr. Mellon put it, subscribing to the Pepper fund was "like giving money to the church." "Them were the days."

Things are not what they used to be in Pennsylvania politics—or anywhere else.

MR. BECKER, THEN AND NOW.

As candidate for Governor, Charles U. Becker stands firmly for economy in government. In a letter to G. O. P. committeemen throughout the State, Becker says Missouri's biennial budget should be cut to $18,000,000, the 1913-14 level.

As Secretary of State, however, Becker has wasted State funds in a prodigal manner. We refer to his awards of State printing, which he has used to build up a political organization of rural editors, not to mention such things as his refusal to award the automobile license contract to the lowest bidder and his opposition to remodeling the State Government in the interest of economy and efficiency.

The law requires the publication of the text of proposed constitutional amendments and initiative propositions in one newspaper of each county, and prescribes a maximum rate of $1 an inch for the first insertion and 50 cents an inch for the next four publications.

It has been Becker's practice to make the awards at the maximum rate, which is in many instances twice as high as the regular advertising rates of the papers employed. These contracts are made even more profitable by printing the amendments in wholesale lots and making them available to newspapers at less cost than if the typesetting and printing were done by the contract holder.

In 1930, $68,310 was distributed in this manner to Becker's friends among the editors, but the bill has often mounted much higher. In 1926 it was $206,655.

All efforts, both in the Legislature and in the courts, to curb this extravagance and force Becker to award contracts to lowest bidders have been futile. The Secretary of State has always held his political organization above the interest of the State.

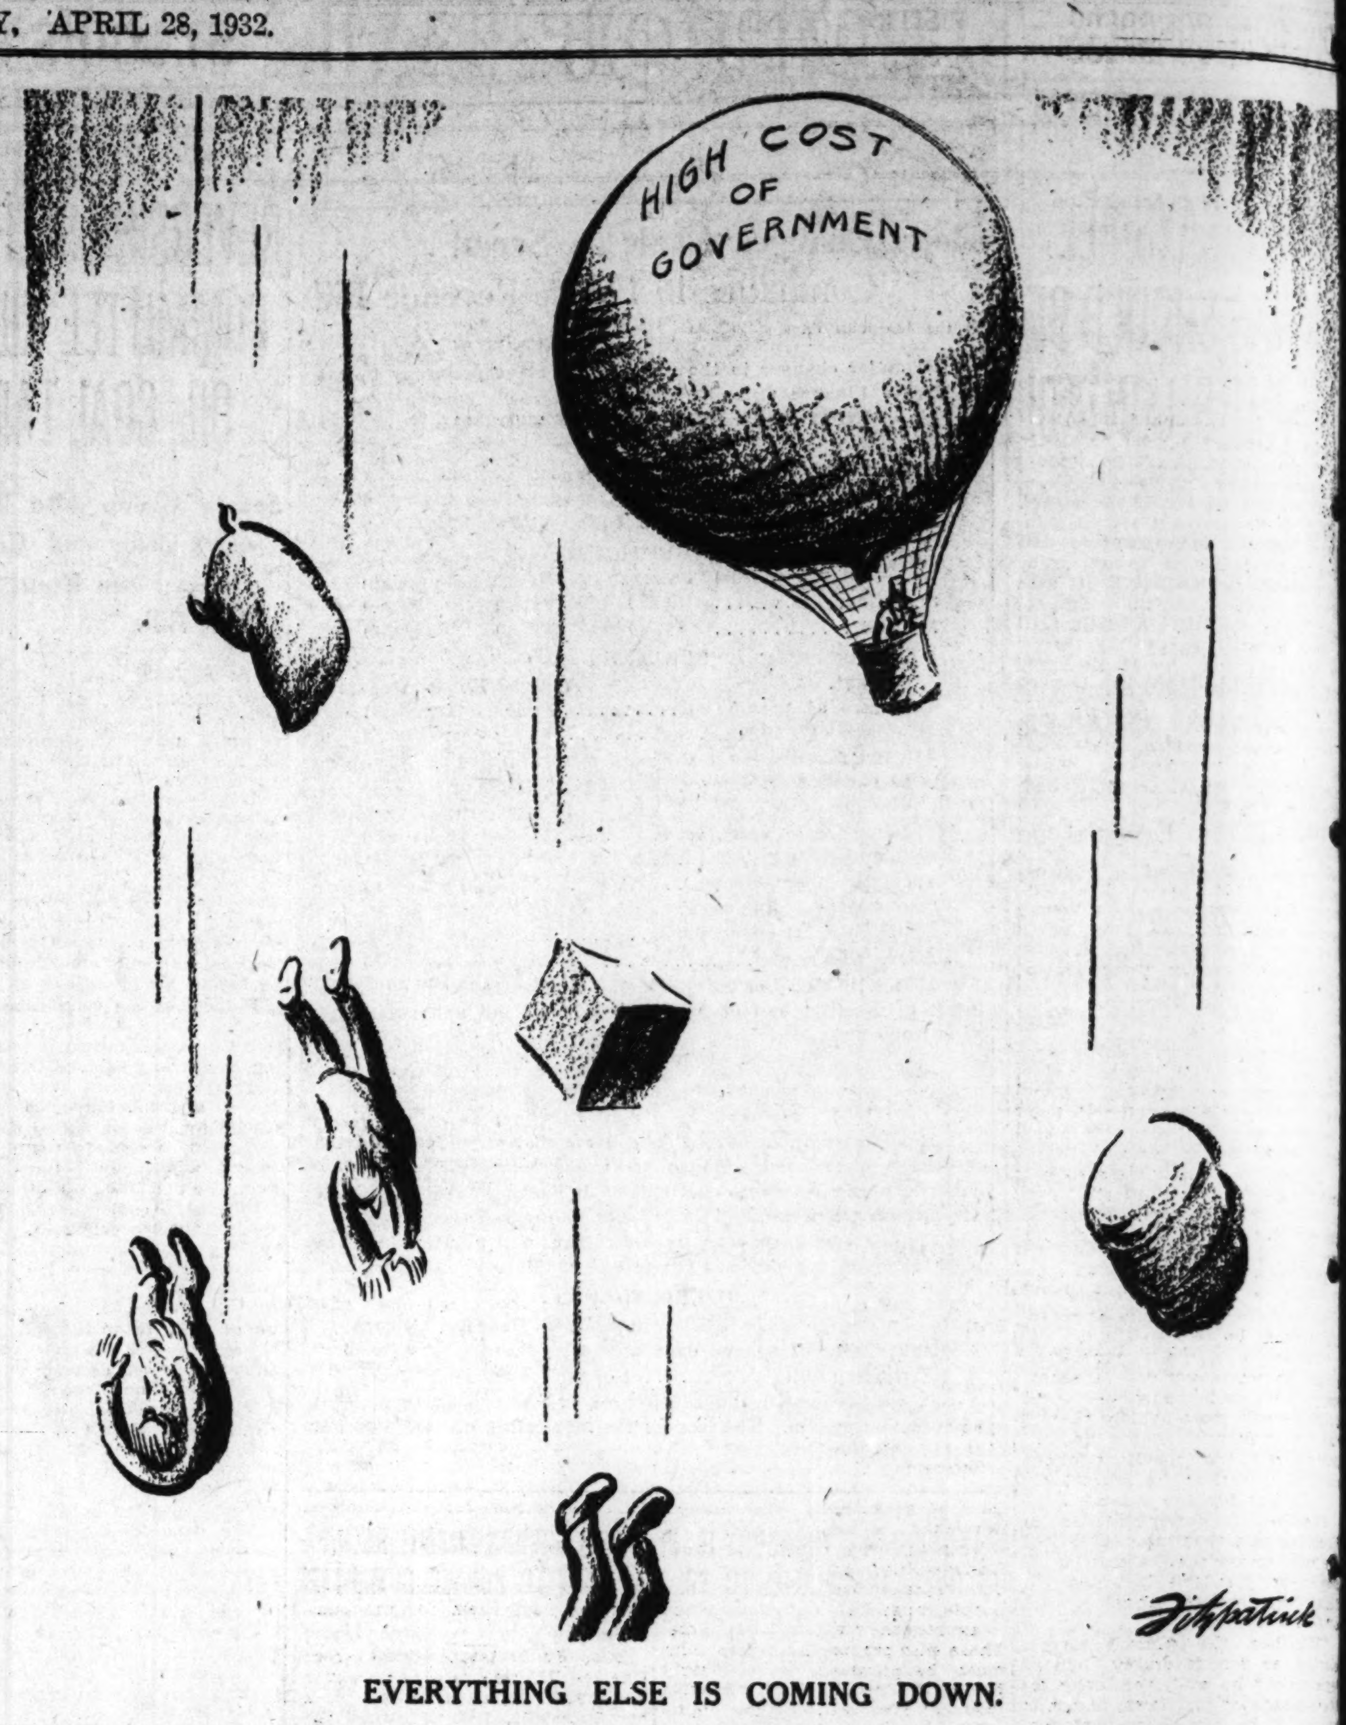
ADDING INSULT TO INJURY.

If the outcome of the Illinois primary left any doubt about the depths to which the Republican party of that State has fallen, that doubt need no longer exist. Frank L. Smith, twice refused a seat in the United States Senate because he accepted vast campaign contributions from Samuel Insull, has been chosen chairman of the Republican State convention. Thus, selfish factional interests are not satisfied with injuring the party by nominating the thoroughly discredited Len Small. They turn around and insult it by giving the honor place in the State convention to the equally discredited Mr. Smith. Illinois Republicans have two alternatives if they would lift their party from the mire in which it has sunk. They will ignore the Small candidacy either by bringing out an independent Republican candidate in whom they can place their confidence or they will vote against it in the November election.



EVERYTHING ELSE IS COMING DOWN.

Press Opinion on the Mooney Decision

FAR FROM SETTLED.

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.

THE fact remains that every important witness against Mooney has admitted that he swore falsely; that the Judge who presided believes that Mooney was not fairly tried; that the jury that convicted him believes that it convicted him on false testimony, and that literally dozens of impartial investigators who have combed the evidence believe that the conviction was obtained on testimony that was perjured. If the Mooney report was of a piece with the Sacco-Vanzetti report, then, far from having heard the last of the Mooney case, California has merely made her own record blacker by this fourth refusal to do justice to the man.

FAIR TRIAL STILL A QUESTION.

From the Kansas City Times.

WHETHER or not Mooney and Billings actually are guilty, many intelligent persons in this country will continue to feel that they did not have a fair trial, and that their guilt has never been satisfactorily proved in a court of law. There can be no stronger testimony on that point than that of the presiding Judge in Mooney's trial.

From the Chicago Daily Tribune.

THE American people are sensitive to the appeal of real innocence, but they will review the long record and they will not miss its real significance. Mooney has had the benefit of the intervention of many responsible officials, from a President down. The latest review of the claims for him has taken place years after the public indignation created by the San Francisco outrage has abated. Its findings will not move prejudice, but will and ought to impress the non-partisan mind of the nation. It should direct attention to the influences at work in this country to discredit the agencies of justice whenever they deal with radical violence.

From the Philadelphia Record.

WHEN Gov. Rolph sends Mooney back to hopelessness, he acts on an antediluvian principle—if your side is hurt, hit anybody on the other side, it doesn't matter which one. Feud-fighting Kentucky families obey the same ancient code. So do young boys who travel in gangs. Though Mooney rots in jail and dies in a cell, the principle of individual responsibility as opposed to clan responsibility must win out if our civilization is to survive.

From the Houston (Tex.) Post.

IF the people could be polled, we believe it would be found that a considerable majority would reply that Mooney is not guilty as charged. Revelations made since the trial, indicating that perjury was committed by State's witnesses, and that the prosecution of the agitator was a frameup, lead many to the conclusion that Mooney is innocent of the bombing crime. The Post is frank to say that a thorough reading of the testimony offered in the attempt to secure a pardon for the former labor leader convinced it that a reasonable doubt exists as to his guilt.

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS.

From the Portland (Me.) Evening News.

REACTIONARIES will say, as they have said for 16 years, that the Mooney case is California's business in which no individual has any right to interfere. It is California's business; but if California is incapable of dealing fairly with it, the Mooney case becomes also the world's business. Justice knows no state lines; unless the world is to betray the principles of civilization, it must hold up the hands of justice anywhere, everywhere, whenever liberty is endangered.

INNOCENT UNTIL PROVED GUILTY.

From the New York Times.

FEAR that Mooney was improperly convicted has led to repeated inquiries into his case. The Wickersham Commission felt bound to look into it, but did not go much beyond deploring the "shocking" technicalities of the law in California which seemed to prevent Judges and Governors from going directly and deeply into the merits of the plea made in Mooney's behalf.

Gov. Rolph still protests that his mind is open, provided new evidence of the prisoner's innocence is laid before him. For that it is now apparently too late. But it is not too late to express the hope that the California authorities may yet find a way to appease the anxieties which this notorious case has aroused. Mooney may have been a very dangerous person to leave at large; his previous reputation as a remorseless dynamiter may have been justified; his views about anarchy and his apparent readiness to act upon them may have been abhorrent; but he was entitled to the usual presumption of innocence at his trial until satisfactorily proved to be guilty.

From the Arkansas Democrat.

LEADING members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce have no doubt about Mooney's guilt. A reporter asked them if Mooney was proved innocent of the Preparedness day bombing would they believe in finding a way to keep him in jail permanently. To that question they answered: "We've got a way. He's there." And that tells the whole story of California justice.

SYMBOL OF CLASS CONFLICT.

From the Washington Evening Star.

THE Mooney case has undoubtedly been more political than legal. It has entered into every phase of California life during the nearly 16 years of its continuance. It is likely to continue thus to affect partisanship in a manner and degree wholly apart from the merits of the issue of guilt or innocence. Mooney, denied a pardon, becomes even more than ever a symbol of class conflict in this country. This was undoubtedly well known to those who shared in the responsibility for the refusal of clemency, and the fact is perhaps to be regarded as evidence of the sincerity of Gov. Rolph and his advisers in their final course.

GOV. ROLPH DID HIS DUTY.

From the New York Evening Post.

WE are sorry for the old man behind "the gray walls of San Quentin prison." But we are also sorry for the 10 persons in whose death by bombing Mooney was implicated. Of Gov. Rolph, his State and country may well be proud. He did his duty cleanly and bravely. We are glad that he had the dignity to ignore utterly the intrusion of the carpet-bagging little flibbertigibbet from New York's City Hall.

CAUSE FOR REGRET.

From the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

THE very nature of Gov. Rolph's statement and report shows the extent to which judgment was swayed by prejudice. The decision will be regretted throughout the world. Outside of California, where the matter is political, there will be few to applaud it. In its broader aspects, the Mooney case will take on larger significance in the light of this latest refusal of California's Governor to free the man so generally believed to be the victim of perjured testimony.

SITUATION DEMANDS NEW TRIAL.

From the Milwaukee Journal.

WE have no patience with the spurious, propagandized plea of the professional agitators that Mooney is "the symbol of labor." He is nothing of the kind. He is an individual who is either guilty or innocent of a terrible crime. We do not for a moment maintain that he is innocent. We do not know. What we say is that when disclosures of perjury shook faith in his conviction, he should have had a new trial. California should not rest until its court procedure is liberalized to the point where this is possible.

From the Cleveland Press.

THE facts about Mooney's trial are known to millions of people, already stirred with bitter thoughts about the double standard of our justice. Gov. Rolph's ill-considered decision will matter not so much to Mooney. He expected the decision. It matters mightily to the United States, for it will spread social unrest. It proves that in one state, at least, justice is not available for a working man. The fight for Mooney's pardon must go on. And it will go on until California elects a just and fearless man as its Governor.

REASONABLE DOUBT REMOVED.

From the Boston Evening Transcript.

HAD there appeared reasonable doubt of the man's guilt, it is hardly conceivable that it would not have been brought out to the satisfaction of court or Governor at some stage of the successive appeals for clemency. Thoughtful people will not ignore the repeated decisions in the case as removing any reasonable doubt of the correctness of the verdict.

CASE NOT ENDED.

From the Chicago Daily News.

THE Mooney case is not ended. Sooner or later the crucial issue ignored by Gov. Rolph will have to be faced squarely and determined candidly. If the witnesses who testified that they had seen him on the scene of the crime, and as an active participant in the crime, were guilty of perjury, the verdict was contrary to law and justice, and Mooney's pardon is dictated by the most elementary considerations of civic duty and civic righteousness.

SUCH JUSTICE DEPLORED.

From the New York Herald Tribune.

GOV. ROLPH'S decision strengthens the impression that California believes "the right man has been convicted on the wrong evidence." If California so believes after 16 years—during which revelations of perjury, the doubts of nine jurymen and of the Judge who tried the case and the investigation of two presidential commissions have caused the rest of the world to suspect a judicial scandal—then there is very little that the rest of the world can do about it, except to deplore that brand of justice.

EPISCOPAL CONGRESS DEBATES ON PACIFISM

Ohio Bishop Says Arms Policy of Nations Is Built on Falsehoods.

By the Associated Press.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 28.—Pleas by Bishop Henry W. Hobson of the Southern Ohio Diocese and the Rev. Arthur L. Kinsolving of Boston for Christians to accept pacifism aroused opposition last night from three clergymen attending the National Episcopal Congress.

Bishop Hobson, a Major in the 356th Infantry and wearer of the Distinguished Service Cross, said the present armament policy of nations is built on a foundation of lies.

"The greatest danger," he said, "is that so many honorable men and women think they are telling the truth when they support our present war system. On the contrary, they are shouting a lie—a lie which because it comes from them takes root in the minds of the unthinking crowd."

Charges Propaganda in Schools.

Opposing their arguments were the Rev. Samuel M. Dorrance of Brooklyn, the Rev. Richard T. Henshaw of Rye, N. Y., a World War chaplain; and the Rev. William Smith of Worcester, Mass.

"If I felt the cause were right," Smith said, "I would do all I can to down the enemy. I preach peace. But if my country should ever call, I would enlist."

RUTH BRYAN OWEN NOT AGAINST DRY REFERENDUM

MIAMI, Fla., April 28.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, seeking re-election as Representative in Congress from the Fourth Florida District, yesterday defined her stand on the prohibition question as not being opposed to a referendum on a change in present laws.

She said: "The referendum is a basic right under the American form of government, and I never have, and do not now, oppose a referendum on any public question. However, in event that a referendum is taken on prohibition, the people must be given the chance to express their will by direct vote. Those who propose the referendum must be prepared to set clearly before the people the alternative they offer in place of the eighteenth amendment."

ARCHBISHOP GLENNON 29 YEARS IN OFFICE

Anniversary Celebration Attended by Mission Crusade Members.

Several thousand members of Catholic Students' Mission Crusade attended a solemn pontifical mass celebrated in the New Cathedral yesterday by Archbishop Glennon on the twenty-ninth anniversary of his appointment as head of the St. Louis archdiocese.

His anniversary day was chosen for the annual assembly of the Crusade, with which students of all Catholic schools in the archdiocese are affiliated. Representative groups from each school filled the Cathedral.

The Rev. Dr. Martin O'Malley of Kenrick Seminary delivered the sermon, paying tribute to the Archbishop.

"He has placed the cross high above the city streets," Father O'Malley said. "All this has been done without any noise, without any tumult, without any vain display or swift sensational ventures to gain him celebrity."

In a brief response the Archbishop congratulated the students on their activities in behalf of the missions. A meeting such as he addressed, he said, would have been impossible when he was first appointed Archbishop. "There were no student mission crusaders then," he said. "St. Louis himself was about the only crusader. And as for the young women, we had no colleges for Catholic young women. Now we have more colleges than we had high schools 29 years ago."

BONDED PENNZOIL DEALERS REMOVE HAZARDS OF OIL SUBSTITUTION

Warn of motor damage caused by "bootleg" oils and offer new protection to motorists of Greater St. Louis

Reliable dealers are winning their fight against oil substitution. Substitute oils, "bootleg" oils—one of the most common sources of motor trouble—are on the way out. The city's motorists are flocking to support the dealers who have bonded themselves in a drive on inferior "long-profit" oils.

Now—a group of the city's leading dealers have joined with the Pennzoil Company to offer a new, positive protection against oil substitution. They are dealers of integrity and good standing. They guarantee in writing that when you ask for Pennzoil you will get pure Pennzoil—and not an inferior substitute. And to back up this guarantee each of them has posted a $1,000 bond.

Every dealer who displays this sign has posted a $1,000 bond against Oil Substitution. This bond is your protection against inferior, "bootleg" oils. It assures your getting the oil you pay for.

You can identify these dealers by the "Bonded Pennzoil Dealer" sign. It identifies the city's best dealers. Make it your guide to safe oil and dependable service.

All bonded dealers recommend Pennzoil for the safest lubrication. It is made from only the highest grade pure Pennsylvania crude by the special Pennzoil process. This process refines the crude not once but twice! Double refining gives a richer, tougher oil that resists the heat and friction of modern, high speed motors. Pennzoil will give your motor greater power, cut gas consumption, prevent many needless repairs. It's guaranteed to run hundreds of miles longer between fillings than ordinary oils.

Look for the "Bonded Pennzoil Dealer" sign whenever you need oil or gas. It is displayed only by dealers pledged to protect you against substitution.

Only reliable dealers display the black and yellow "Bonded Pennzoil Dealer" sign . . . Look for it when buying oil or gas over, there was a disposition here to question the authority of Bruening, in view of the success of Adolf Hitler's opposition National Socialist party in the German diet elections last Sunday, from which it emerged the most powerful single party in the Reich, although it failed to obtain a majority in the Prussian Legislature.

With the "Big Five" meeting definitely off, Geneva turned its eyes toward France to watch Sunday's voting for possible effects on the progress of disarmament.

Stimson will leave Europe without again conferring with Tardieu. The Secretary of State took the lead in arranging the Friday conference, the participants in which were to have been himself, Tardieu, MacDonald, Bruening and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy.

Deadlock Unbroken.

The departure of Stimson will leave the deadlock over the French and American disarmament plans unbroken.

MacDonald was greatly disappointed over the latest development in the disarmament conference and over the failure of efforts to induce France and Italy to accept the London naval treaty of 1930. It is understood Great Britain has become apprehensive that it may become necessary to evoke the "escalator' clause in that treaty. This clause was designed to protect the United States, Great Britain and Japan against possible competitive naval building by nations that did not sign the tripartite agreement. Under the clause, a signatory power, may, if its building program is threatened by non-signatory powers, build to a higher level than the pact provides. At the same time the levels of the other two signatories would rise.

On high authority it was learned that Britain will continue to advocate security by disarmament. This means a continuation of British opposition to the French thesis, which centers about making the League of Nations an international police force.

Tardieu Receives Message of Sympathy from Stimson.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 28. — Premier Andre Tardieu's physician informed him today that he must not go to Belfort on Sunday to vote in the election. He ordered the Premier to spend three or four more days indoors although the laryngitis from which he is suffering was no worse this morning.

A message from Secretary of State Stimson, expressing sympathy at Tardieu's indisposition and regret at not being able to see him again to continue their conversations, was delivered to the Premier by Ambassador Edge.

Stimson said his own health made it necessary for him to leave Geneva as soon as possible and return to the United States. He assured the French Premier that the American delegation would do everything possible to continue the work of the disarmament conference at Geneva in the same cordial spirit as in the past.

Edouard Herriot, principal opponent of Tardieu in the campaign for the lection of deputies to the French Parliament next Sunday, was quoted in Le Journal as saying that if he were asked to form a radical government with socialist support, as he did in 1924, he would not accept.

Former Premier Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, is leader of the opposition radical Socialist group in the Chamber of Deputies. His party is more nearly liberal than radical or socialist, in the American sense. The Socialist party in France, a strong faction in Parliament, is led by Leon Blum. Both Premier Tardieu and Blum have made overtures to the radical Socialists in an effort to gain their support.

DEMONSTRATION BY JOBLESS

COPPER HILL, Tenn., April 28. —Disappointed job hunters stormed a house yesterday and threatened violence to Charles Grimwood, accused of inserting false advertisements in newspapers over the country, saying there was plenty of work in Copper Hill.

One man in the crowd tore Grimwood's shirt. The crowd dispersed before police arrived.

Chief of Police Ledford said Grimwood, who calls himself an architect, inserted advertisements in papers calling for carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers, electricians, mill men, steel riggers, timekeepers and bookkeepers. About 1000 men have come to Copper Hill, the center of the copper mining industry in Southeastern Tennessee. No jobs are available here and many of the men are destitute.

GET RID OF INDIGESTION IN A FEW MINUTES, OR

Get Your Money Back

"Bi-carb" and milk of magnesia only make your indigestion worse in most cases, for they weaken the digestive acid in your stomach, so it cannot digest your food properly.

Pepto-Bismol does not upset your stomach. It relieves indigestion gently in a few minutes by stopping the souring of food in your stomach and the decay of food in your bowels. The medicines in Pepto-Bismol which stop souring and decay, are four of the finest medicines known to physicians. Read them on the bottle.

Also, Pepto-Bismol is not a patent medicine. It is a prescription by The Norwich Pharmacal Company, whose Unguentine and other fine medicines have held the respect of physicians, surgeons, hospitals, nurses and druggists for nearly 50 years.

If Pepto-Bismol does not get rid of your indigestion, distress after eating, heartburn and sour, acid stomach, in a few minutes, get your money back from your druggist. Delicious Pepto-Bismol is harmless. Price 50c.

But don't be absent-minded and merely ask your druggist for "something for indigestion". Ask him for Pepto-Bismol by name. Look for the name Pepto-Bismol on the bottle. Refuse the unfair offer of "something just as good" which may hinder, instead of help your digestion. Ask for Pepto-Bismol by name and get what you ask for.

H. McClachlan & Co., Inc., filed the action on a claim of $30,000, attributing the concern's plight to "adverse conditions in trade and the financial condition of the country." Sarnoff-Irving admitted inability to meet current obligations because of frozen assets. Liabilities were estimated at $500,000 and assets at $1,000,000.

FRANCE ABANDONS TAX ON U.S. BUSINESS THERE

Edge and Tardieu Sign Accord —One Company Had $50,000,000 at Stake.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 28.—An agreement by which American corporations doing business in France will save millions of dollars in taxes was signed yesterday by Ambassador Edge for the United States and Premier Tardieu for France.

The agreement wipes out the double taxation imposed since 1926 on American houses with branches in France. All foreign corporations doing business in France have been assessed from 16 to 18 per cent on the part of their dividends ascribed to French operations.

Numerous American organizations will be affected, among them the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., General Motors, Ford Motors, the Guaranty Trust, the National City Bank, the Chase National Bank and the Boston Blacking Co. Few American houses have paid the French tax this year, awaiting the outcome of protests made by the United States Government. One United States business organization is said to have $50,000,000 involved and another $30,000,000.

"The imposition of double taxation has been an outstanding source of irritation and misunderstanding between France and the United States for a number of years, and I am particularly gratified with the agreement," said Ambassador Edge after the agreement was signed. "This friendly action will do much toward improving Franco-American relations during this difficult economic period."

The agreement, which is retroactive to May 1, 1930, must be ratified by the United States Congress and the French Parliament.

Similar accords are pending between France and Great Britain, Italy, Germany and Belgium.

CLEVELAND POET REPORTED MISSING FROM SHIP AT SEA

Relatives of Hartley Crane Receive Message From Steamer Orizaba, New York-Bound.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., April 28. — A wireless message saying Hart Crane, 33 years old, Cleveland imagist poet, had been lost at sea, was received last night by relatives. The line's New York office received this report: "Hart Crane went overboard at noon today. Body not recovered."

Crane, who won a Guggenheim Foundation prize last year, sailed from Vera Cruz Saturday after spending nearly a year in Mexico. Officers of the Ward Line wirelessed the captain of the Orizaba for verification, but a reply has not been received. The ship is due at New York Friday.

Crane was the author of "White Buildings" and "The Bridge." and had gone to Mexico to carry on a work in creative poetry as provided by the $2500 Guggenheim prize. He was born in Garrettsville, O. His father, Clarence Crane, who died last summer, was a candy manufacturer.

CONGRESSMAN DYER FAVORS BEER PARADE IN ST. LOUIS

Thinks Organizations That Oppose It Overlook Chance to Get 2.75 Per Cent Drink.

Congressman Dyer still believes that Congress would be impressed by a beer parade in St. Louis May 14, and that it might even be persuaded to legalize "nonintoxicating" beer. He thinks that local officials and organizations, in their indifference or opposition to the parade plan, are overlookiing a chance to get "nonintoxicating" beer at an early day.

Dyer, in Washington Wednesday, asked whether it were true that Mayor Miller, John S. Leahy, president of the Bar Association, and others opposing the parade were "against a nonintoxicating beer, and are chiefly concerned with repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the return of hard liquor."

"One," he added, "can't get drunk on 2.75 per cent beer.

"Shall I inform Congress," he asked, "that the people of St. Louis do not want a nonintoxicating beer which can be obtained readily and quickly?"

He said that while the Volstead law could be modified by vote of Congress, repeal of the eighteenth amendment would take years. The Board of Aldermen, by a 15-11 vote, indorsed the parade plan last week. It originated with Mayor Walker of New York.

LAND WORTH MILLIONS AWARDED TO PEASANTS

Forty Families Share in Former Baron's Estate in Italy Under Court Decision.

By the Associated Press.

MESSINA, Sicily, April 28.—Forty families, mostly of humble means, have been recognized as heirs to one of Italy's most valuable states, square miles of farming and hunting lands, and the Government has offered them millions for permanent title to the property.

The payment would make millionaires in Italian currency of peasants, blacksmiths, postal clerks and others who now labor for a meager existence. Some of them knew nothing about their good fortune until their names were published in the papers.

Baron Antonio Trombetti built up the estate in the early part of the eighteenth century. It covers much of the toe of the Italian "Boot," in the Calabria region adjoining Sicily, and boasts two immense old castles, complete with their original furniture.

Of a religious bent and having no children, the Baron left the estate to a church order, but in 1867 a law was passed abolishing ecclesiastical estates and the property was taken over by the Government. Even though in later years religious estates again were allowed, the Government remained in possession of it and administers it today.

Three families, descendants of the Baron's two brothers, took the case to court 65 years ago, and a final decision was just recently reached. The court action disclosed that 37 other families had equal claim to the fortune.

A unanimous decision is required to accept the Government's offer, and the heads of the families involved have been meeting in an effort to reach an accord. Some of them hold that the offer is too low.

Bevier Depositor Wins Preference.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MACON, Mo., Apri 28.—Judge Drain decided in the suit of John O. Jones against the State Bank of Bevier, closed Feb. 25, 1930, that the wrongful diversion of a man's deposit entitled him to preference. Jones was allowed a common claim for $2500 he had on deposit. He sued for preference on the ground that one of the officers of the bank, who is now serving time in the penitentiary, had diverted $2000 of his deposit and applied it on another account.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the flavor of CHESTERFIELDS—something about the blending and cross-blending of fine tobaccos—that gets to you, every time.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about their mildness, too. It is the mildness that comes from the ripest, sweetest, mellowest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. There is no bitterness in them . . . no harshness.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the taste. It is that good, pleasing taste that comes from the right kind of tobacco, cured in the right way—cured for two years or more. It means that to make CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes, millions of dollars are tied up in tobacco leaf—but it's worth it.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about CHESTERFIELDS—THEY'RE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY!

DR. POLING CALLS ON WETS FOR ALTERNATIVE

Says He Then Will Do Best to Get It Before People, but Will Oppose It.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, head of the Allied Forces for Prohibition, addressed a youth dinner at the Y. M. C. A. and a meeting in East St. Louis last night, ending two days of dry rallies here. In his midday address at the Orpheum Theater yesterday, before an audience of 1500, Dr. Poling spoke on repeal and resubmission proposals.

"When our friends on the other side propose repeal," he said, "we have the right to ask them what alternative they have to offer. It is unfair to propose mere destruction, with no alternative. And when they have an alternative to propose, I will do my best to see that the alternative gets a chance before the American people. When the alternative is offered, I will fight it in the open, because I believe in the eighteenth amendment.

"It is chargd, and we must meet the charge, that we are holding on to the eighteenth amendment like dogs in the manger, and trying to prevent any further expression on the subject. That is not the position of the Allied Forces for Prohibition. We believe every person and every group has a right to be heard.

"Those who believed in the eighteenth amendment went out and got it under the Constitution, without trying to abrogate the provisions of the Constitution Those who oppose the amendment should do the same. Under the Constitution, there can be no binding popular vote on national questions. There is no way to have it without changing Article V. I am not in favor of amending Article V merely to permit a beer referendum. If it is amended, the change should apply to any question that might be raised, including those of personal and property rights."

Dr. Poling reiterated his former declarations that "prohibition at its worst is better than license at its best." He said the way to deal with present abuses was "not to retreat, modify or repeal, but to forward-march and finish the work that we have reasonably well begun."

He expressed opposition to proposals for repeal of state enforcement laws, told of a campaign of this character now being waged in Oregon, and argued that such repeal would be "selective nullification" of the Constitution. and would be in the nature of secession from the Union. He said the Portland Oregonian, which is not a supporter of the eighteenth amendment, expressed agreement with him in this position.

Dr. Poling reviewed the history of liquor legislation to show that "regulation did not regulate," because of refusal of liquor dealers to obey all regulatory laws. This lawlessness, he said, is inherent in the nature of the liquor business, which thrives on the harmful overindulgence of its patrons. He said that prohibition was "put over" not by the drys, but by the liquor dealers. He said that, since his speech here a few months ago, more than 1,000,000 men and women had been enrolled in the Allied Forces, and that the meetings had "made the front page" of newspapers in most cities, including New York.

GARY MURDER VICTIM SAID TO HAVE BEEN EXTORTIONIST

Failure of Plot Caused Killing of Alleged Pay-Off Man, Police Think.

By the Associated Press.

GARY, Ind., April 28.—An extortion plot that failed is thought by police to be the cause of the killing of Joseph F. Leslie, Chicago, whose body was found early Tuesday on railroad tracks in East Gary.

Four men are under arrest here and one, police said, named Leslie as the contact and pay-off man for a gang of extortionists preying on theater owners in the Calumet district of Northern Indiana.

The statement and a report by Nicholas Bikos, owner of two independent Gary theaters, that a gang attempted to kidnap and slug him late Monday night caused police to direct their investigation to determine whether Leslie was a member of the gang.

UNIVERSITY CITY FEUD AIRED IN NOISY SESSION

Opposing interests in University City politics came to grips last night at the third regular meeting of the new Board of Aldermen. After three hours largely devoted to charges and counter-charges between members of opposing factions, the sides were deadlocked on all controversial matters.

More than 250 citizens gathered at City Hall to see what would happen when the three new board members, elected April 5 on a platform opposing the policies of Mayor Ruth, and the three old members attempted to revive the widely-discussed issue growing out of the dismissal several months ago of the Police Commissioner, George Ward.

Most of the spectators were definitely aligned against the administration party and did not fail to manifest their partisanship by loudly applauding utterances of their favorites and booing the remarks of administration adherents. On one occasion, when the clamor drowned out the voices of the Aldermen, Mayor Ruth was obliged to hammer for order and appealed for the audience to refrain from any manifestation of "hoodlumism."

New Appointments Up.

Interest also centered on the board's attitude on appointments of a new City Attorney and Building Commissioner, offices left vacant last week by resignations. The Mayor had submitted for approval of the board the names of Henry N. Eversole for City Attorney and Joseph P. Sullivan for Building Commissioner, appointing them in acting capacities in the meantime.

In a discussion of the qualifications of the candidates, the new members admitted they had nothing against the "character and ability" of the men. Dr. Leo P. FitzGerald, a new member, who moved that the appointment of Eversole be rejected, told the Mayor he thought no explanation was necessary but added, "I will say I think it is a political appointment."

The three new members voted for rejection and the old members for approval. As a result of the deadlock, the incumbents continue in office—Joseph H. Grand as City Attorney and Arthur H. Kuhlmann as Building Commissioner. Mayor Ruth said he had not decided whether he would make new appointments or resubmit the names of those rejected.

The Ward controversy was brought to a head with the presentation by Alderman Fogerty, of the anti-administration faction of five bills, which, if passed would repeal ordinances approved in December, 1930, placing a Director of Public Safety in charge of the Police and Fire Departments; would place both departments virtually on the old basis, reinstating Ward, who is Marshal by election, as Chief of Police, and would recompense Ward for salary lost since his dismissal.

Seeks Quick Vote on Bills.

After each bill was read, Alderman FitzGerald moved that the rules be suspended and that the bill be read a second time, so that a vote might be had at once. Alderman Fogarty declared the purpose of the bills was to reinstate a "man who has served the city a great number of years and who has served it well." Ward was dismissed on charges of insubordination after he made newspaper statements charging the Mayor and the board were trying to "get" him because he was too strong politically. His dismissal as Police Commissioner left him as Marshal at a salary of $1 a year.

Administration aldermen opposed immediate action on the bills, protesting that the matters were too important for hasty consideration, but FitzGerald replied that the old aldermen knew what the bill called for as they were duplicates of the ordinances formerly in effect.

Alderman Ebbs, an old member, said, "If you new men knew all the facts in this case you would not feel as you do and you don't know the facts because I have the transcript of the case and you've never asked me for it."

"Suppose you give us all the facts right now," retorted Dr. Arthur O. Ozment, new member.

"It is not incumbent on me to do that," replied Ebbs, sitting down amidst booing from the spectators.

FitzGerald's motion for an immediate vote was then defeated, the Mayor casting the deciding ballot. The bills were referred to the City Hall Committee of the board, in which the old members have two representatives and the new one.

Inspection by Postal Officials.

After conferences with Postmaster Michener and Postoffice Inspector Fred W. Reuter, they will depart tonight to visit other Midwestern cities.

HEAD OF CATHOLIC DRY GROUP DEFENDS PROHIBITION LAW

Patrick Callahan in Chattanooga Address Says It Conserves Manhood of Nation.

By the Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 28.—Prohibition was defended as "a plan to conserve the manhood of the nation" by Patrick Callahan of Louisville, Ky., secretary of the Association of Catholics favoring Prohibition, before the Institute of Justice at the University of Chattanooga last night.

He estimated the dry law has saved more than 169,000 lives in decreasing fatalities from alcoholism, cirrhosis of the liver and Bright's disease and said "no movement ever initiated for human welfare can show, in such a short length of time, results so satisfactory as those achieved by prohibition."

"It has had its disappointments," he said, "and the disappointment of the day is what might be termed neo-paganism, as we have too many people whose efforts are confined to seeking power, profit and pleasure, and we lack that idealism of the early days of our republic."

KINSEY FEARS FOR FUTURE OF MAJOR STREET PROGRAM

Faults in the assessment of benefits for widening major streets do not constitute a reason for scrapping the major street plan. President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service told the Chamber of Commerce Civic Development Committee yesterday.

Kinsey referred to a "species of hysteria" resulting from dissatisfaction with the findings of condemnation commissioners on benefits, which has led to the repeal of several improvement plans. Unless the people wake up and correct this condition, Kinsey asserted, more of the city street plan will be scrapped. Provisions of the charter for assessing benefits are fair and sound, if followed correctly, Kinsey asserted, adding: "But that isn't the way it is working out at present."

He conceded that the application of the procedure, as made, had worked repeated injustices on property owners. No city has a better street plan or a better reputation for sound public improvements than St. Louis, Kinsey declared.

NOBLE TIMECLOCK PUNCHER

PARIS, April 28.—Alfonso d'Orleans, first cousin of former King Alfonso of Spain, punched a time clock in Henry Ford's factory outside Paris yesterday. He is on the payroll as "Mr. Orleans." Some time ago he wrote to Henry Ford asking for a job in Detroit. Ford gave him a place in his French assembling plant.

Orleans, who is 45 years old, started as a clerk, but in two weeks he will have a working permit and will be transferred to the factory. His hours are from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and he lunches in the workmen's canteen.

MISSOURIAN WHO WORKED FOR SOVIET DIES IN BERLIN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOBERLY, Mo., April 28.—George Breckenridge, 47 years old, Huntsville (Mo.) mining engineer, who had been working for the last two and one-half years in Siberia for the Russian Government, died yesterday of pneumonia in Berlin.

Breckenridge was en route home to visit his wife and three children. Relatives at Huntsville said he had been suffering from pneumonia since early last month. He had planned to go direct to Huntsville from New York and visit his mother, Mrs. John Breckenridge, and his sister, Mrs. Frank Raine. Then he planned to go to California, where his wife and children are visiting.

Breckenridge went to Siberia in January, 1930, under a three-year contract with the Soviet Government to aid in the development of large coal mines. He was one of 16 American engineers who signed contracts at this time.

The body will be taken to Huntsville for burial.

Restrictions on Foreign Exchange.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, April 28. — All purchases of foreign exchange except by Government permit were stopped yesterday by the Federal Commission which has control of exchange operations so that it might regulate more closely the exportation of funds. Heretofore it was possible to transfer up to 200 pesos ($50) into foreign money daily without a permit. The commission said permits would be obtainable henceforth for all valid requests.

NURSE NAMED IN SUIT ADMITS PART IN BABY-SUBSTITUTION

Detroit Woman Says Infant Involved Is Not Hers, but That of Another Patient.

By the Associated Press.

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., April 28.—Edith Crebbe, a Detroit nurse, whose name was mentioned in a suit alleging a baby substitution, has given police her version of the case. Miss Crebbe, with Albert Lacher of Philadelphia, was arrested here last week in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, but was later absolved.

"A girl was born to me at St. Vincent's Hospital, Philadelphia, last October," Miss Crebbe said, "and a few days later a heavily veiled woman who called herself Mrs. Hardy visited me and said she wanted to care for my baby. She told me a story of having lost two sons, and I agreed to let her take my baby, but later refused to keep my promise. I went with Mrs. Hardy to another hospital, where a woman of Williamsport, Pa., agreed to let Mrs. Hardy take her baby."

Euston A. Sullivan of Merion, Pa., yesterday filed an equity action in Dauphin County Court asking that the record of the birth of Grace May Sullivan, to his wife, Helen Blair Sullivan, be stricken from the vital statistics of the State. Sullivan said the child belonged to Miss Crebbe. He said the substitution was made to claim an inheritance.

DIDN'T KNOW SHE WAS MARRIED, GETS ANNULLMENT

Young Woman Says She Did Not Realize Drinks Contained Alcohol.

The marriage of Jack F. Benson, a filling station attendant, to Elizabeth Weidener, 6621 Idaho avenue, was annulled today.

The wife testified she went out with Benson, was served some drinks which she did not realize contained alcohol, and was not aware she had been married until she awakened next morning, to find a marriage license in her purse. She testified further she remembered nothing after becoming ill in a roadhouse, until she awakened the next day.

Benson was not in court, but was represented by counsel. He is 23 years old, Miss Weidener is 24. The marriage took place April 13, two weeks after Benson and Miss Weidener met.

DAUGHTER OF ALFONSO SAID TO HAVE ENDED ENGAGEMENT

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 28.—Princess Beatrice, the eldest daughter of former King Alfonso X111 of Spain, is reported to have broken her engagement to her second cousin, Don Antonio Alvaro d'Orleans.

Spanish royalists here said the Duke of Spoleto, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, was again seeking her hand. The Princess is reported to have ended her engagement with Alcaro because she considered it unwise to marry him now. He has two more years in the Zurich (Switzerland) engineering school.

ANDEAN RAILWAY TO RESUME

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, April 28.—A representative of the Trans-Andean Railway, which was abandoned last week because of failure of Chile and Argentina to agree on tariff rates affecting inter-country freight shipments, informed the Foreign Minister today that instructions were received from the directors in London regarding resuming service.

It was said traffic would begin provisionally this week pending new negotiations for a settlement of the tariff difficulties.

Declines Come After Market Tries With Meager Success to Advance for 4 Successive Sessions — Late Tone Is Weak.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The stock market flopped back wearily today, after trying with meager success to advance for four successive sessions. The turnover was only about 1,000,000 shares, but there were numerous losses of 2 to 4 points or more, and the late tone was weak.

Holders of stocks apparently were discouraged over the lack of buying power during the gradual advance which started last Saturday. The list showed little resistance to fresh liquidation. A drop in the wheat market, and a slump in some rail bonds, were adverse influences in the share market.

Auburn was a soft spot, dropping 7 points. Weakness was first notable in Alaska Juneau, which slipped off more than 2 points, going under 9. U. S. Steel lost only a point, and General Motors, while actively traded, was little changed. Losses of 2 to 4 points, however, appeared in American Telephone, American Can, American Water Works, Eastman, Union Carbide, Coca-Cola, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas, Safeway Stores and others. Bethlehem Steel declined a major fraction, in advance of the quarterly directors' meeting.

The wheat market broke 2¾@3 cents a bushel. Bar silver was also heavy.

In foreign exchanges, the dollar was firm against leading continental gold currencies, notably the French franc and the Dutch florin, both of which were a shade lower. The pound sterling was barely changed during most of the day. The Shanghai tael was somewhat depressed by the decline in silver.

Publication of the Federal Reserve Board's monthly report showed total volume of Reserve Bank credit outstanding increased $115,000,000 in the first three weeks of April. This gain was accompanied by a substantial growth in member bank reserves.

The Bank of England statement showed further improvement with circulation reduced moderately and the reserve ratio moving up to 37.3 against 36.1 last week. There was no change in the bank rate.

The Bank of India rate was reduced to 5 per cent.

Sales, closing price and net change of the 10 most active stocks today follow: General Motors, 50,600, 11⅛, no change; Standard Oil of N. FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 28. — Trading was quiet and irregular although better reports from Wall Street helped American issues. Gilt-edged securities benefited by cheaper money but others declined. Royal Dutch shares recovered on denial of rumor Sir Henri Deterding's retirement as director general of Royal Dutch. Argentine rails were weak. The closing was undecided.

PARIS, April 28.—Heavy selling of Royal Dutch shares by foreign holders forced a general decline on the Bourse and the closing was heavy.

BERLIN, April 28.—The upward movement of prices continued on the Boerse today although the closing was hesitant.

No Change in Rediscount.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The New York Federal Reserve Bank made no announcement today regarding a change in the rediscount rate of 3 per cent.

Failure of the reserve directors to take action today caused no particular surprise in financial quarters.

The present rediscount rate of three per cent is hardly in line with current open market rates for money and bankers acceptances.

Import Quotas Exhausted.

PARIS, April 28. — Official French import quotas for impression machines, spare parts and machines of chrome or nickel based metals, tools with or without handles, blades and metal shears are exhausted until May 30, the official journal announced today.

India's Bank Rate Lowered.

BOMBAY, April 28.—The Imperial Bank of India reduced its discount rate today from 6 to 5 per cent.

New York Central Report.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The New York Central Railroad Co. reported net railway operating income for March of $3,209,700, compared with $3,908,665 in March, 1931. Gross revenues totaled $28,424,442, a decrease of $6,153,[illegible]

BETHLEHEM VOTES PREFERRED DIVIDEND

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Bethlehem Steel Corporation declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the preferred stock. The common dividend was omitted three months ago.

The company had an operating deficit, after interest charges and depletion and depreciation allowance, of $3,685,769 in the first quarter compared with a loss of $1,776,938 in the last quarter of 1931 and net income of $1,941,942, equal to 6 cents a share on the common, in the first three months of 1931.

The corporation's first quarter income before charges was $1,431,657, compared with earnings of $3,485,700 three months ago and $7,551,977 a year ago.

Operations averaged 23.4 per cent of capacity in the first 1932 quarter against 30 per cent during the fourth quarter last year and 50.8 per cent in the first three months of 1931.

Orders on hand March 31 were valued at $35,372,318, against $41,514,877 on Dec. 31 and $65,803,609 on March 31, 1931.

Bethlehem omitted its common dividend in January of this year.

Eugene G. Grace, president, said in regard to present business prospects, "It appears that the downward trend has been decidedly checked, and that business now is practically stationary. I don't like the term 'hitting the bottom,' but it appears at the moment that business is no longer falling."

New business and operations this month, he explained, were at about the same rate as in March. "Prices are holding very well. In fact, this is one of the encouraging features in the present situation."

Asked as to further wage reductions, Grace declined to comment beyond saying that the question has been discussed and that the Bethlehem executives were still discussing it.

"We are trying to keep as many workers at work as possible," he said, "but it can be seen that the situation is thin in many cases when we are operating at 20 to 22 per cent of capacity." Grace added that he did not think it would be proper for the steel consumer to anticipate any benefit from further wage adjustments.

Grace took occasion to point out that foreign steel was coming into this country in large quantities and being sold at prices "much below the cost of production."

"I hope that the authorities are getting wise to this dumping situation. For instance, tinplate bars and structural steel is being dumped in this country without any objection. This is taking the work out of the hands of America's workers. We are maintaining a relatively fine wage rate in this country. This foreign influx means a complete shutting down of many departments of the steel mills."

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 10 TO 12 POINTS LOWER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Trading in cotton was comparatively quiet today with a somewhat irregular opening followed by a gradual decline under some local and commission house selling which appeared to be promoted by the easier ruling of the stock and wheat markets.

July contracts worked down from 6.25c to 6.16c with the mid-afternoon market barely steady at net declines of about 6 to 8 points.

Futures closed barely steady, 10 to 12 lower. May, 5.97c; July, 6.12@13c; Oct., 6.36c; Dec., 6.52c; Jan., 6.60c; March, 6.75c. Spot quiet; middling, 6.15c.

Cotton opened steady today, 1 point up to 1 point off. There was some Southern selling which was absorbed by some buying orders. Trading was comparatively quiet with July selling at 6.24c.

According to early reports, eight May notices were issued, and there was some further switching from May to later deliveries. Otherwise there was no special trading feature and the market at this time seemed to be awaiting further developments as prices fluctuated within a range of 2 or 3 points.

Reports of rains in Texas were considered favorable but there was some comment on low temperatures in the Northwest. Liverpool cables reported liquidation and hedge selling with a limited offtake in that market and complained of a poor demand for cotton cloths and yarns in Manchester.

Trading remained quiet, with prices sagging slightly, under some liquidation or selling promoted by declines in wheat and talk of the heavier tone in the stock market. July worked off from 6.25c to 6.18c, with the general market showing net losses of about 4 to 6 points at midday.

TRADE NOTES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—World production of zinc in March totaled 81,305 short tons compared with 75,842 in February and 80,609 in January, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics.

The 12.3 per cent decline in electric power output for the week ended April 23 is the largest reported since weekly figures have been published, but it reflects weather conditions rather than any further marked drop in industrial activity, according to public utility interests. In the 1931 week output increased sharply as a result of unseasonably cold weather over the Eastern half of the country.

Business in the machine tool field continues dormant, according to the "American Machinist."

STOCK EXCHANGE TOPICS

NEW YORK, April 28.—Steel shares were not noticeably affected by renewal of reports that negotiations looking toward consolidation of five leading independents in the industry were under way. The companies mentioned are the same as have been reported contemplating such a step on more than one occasion in the past, only to have several of them issue blunt denials. Though it was reported that the proposed consolidation plan has been laid before Department of Justice officials, the overnight reports aroused were met with quick denial by officials of several of the companies mentioned.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, April 28.—Wheat futures had sharp setback today closing down 3¼ points on May and 2⅞ on July. Corn lost ¾@1⅜c.

SHARP DECLINE IN GRAINS AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Successive rushes of stop loss selling swept wheat and corn prices rapidly downward today, wheat about 3 cents and corn to the lowest level since 1898.

Wheat plunged to almost the quotations of April 8 before the Government issued its sensational domestic winter crop estimate of 458,000,000 bushels for 1932. It was contended in one quarter that as a result of rains the yield would be in excess of the Government's April figure.

With moisture reported where needed by domestic crops, grain prices underwent material setbacks early today.

The lowest prices of the day in wheat were made during the final transactions. Even at the extreme decline, there was little evidence of export business in wheat from the United States, although 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was estimated to have been taken for shipment overseas. A better shipping demand here for corn was more than offset by large rural sales of corn to arrive in Chicago.

Wheat closed unstable at the day's low, 2⅝@3⅛c under yesterday's finish; corn, 1⅜@1⅞c down; oats, ⅝@⅞c off, and provisions showing 10@20c decline.

Besides, Liverpool wheat quotations were lower than expected.

Opening ¼@1c lower, wheat afterward declined further. Corn started ⅛@⅞c off and continued to decline, equaling the season's low price record.

General selling carried wheat quickly down 2 cents a bushel and then tumbled all deliveries of corn to fresh bottom prices outdoing the record for many years back. A contributing factor was report of an increase of wheat acreage in France, with comment of prospects that the French crop would exceed requirements. Much of the selling of wheat futures came from houses with Eastern connections, and ran the market into stop loss orders.

Advices from some drouth areas of domestic winter crop territory said generous rains had been beneficial to wheat that was not beyond recovery, and that additional moisture tonight appeared probable. Reports from spring wheat districts were also of favorable kind.

Estimates of Argentine wheat exports this week put the total at 5,327,000 bushels, about 1,000,000 more than either the week previous or a year ago. Corn and oats prices faded with wheat.

Provisions went lower, influenced by downturns of hog values and of grain.

Figure Only $5,000,000 in Year Before, Says Report of President.

A net loss of $27,008,310 for 1931, as compared to a loss totaling $5,095,674 during the preceding year, is reported in the annual statement of J. C. Van Eck, president of the Shell Union Oil Corporation. Shell Union Oil Corporation is the parent organization for the Shell Petroleum Corporation.

The 1931 net loss total provides $45,344,100 for depreciation, depletion, intangible drilling cost and surrendered leases. In addition, the company provided out of its cash resources $16,605,880 in 1931 for current capital development and investment.

Current assets on Dec. 31 last, according to the report, were $93,521,578, with liabilities totaling $23,240,379. The year's operations reduced the surplus from $18,821,200 to a deficit of $12,501,109. However, cash, short term and demand loans and United States Treasury short-term obligations on Dec. 31, 1931, amounted to $36,850,913.96, as compared with $25,399,656.36 at the end of 1930.

"While Shell Union has suffered from the bad conditions existing in the industry," Van Eck states, "it has co-operated in every possible way to bring about stabilized conditions and has concentrated its effort upon conserving its cash resources, so as to emerge from the depression with its working capital and strong position unimpaired."

The practice of valuing inventories of crude oil and its products at lower than cost or market values has been maintained, the report indicates, with the notation a total of $31,084,489 was charged for depreciation in 1931, considerably more than the net loss.

Besides Federal income taxes, the report states, Shell Union's operating companies paid $4,590,895 in property and franchise taxes, besides $32,274,990 for state, county and city gasoline taxes. The company's total crude oil production in 1931, according to the report, was 35,766,325 barrels, besides 28,455,000 barrels which were purchased. Total intake of the company's refineries in 1931 was 62,072,243 barrels, compared to 67,299,895 barrels during the preceding year.

In 1931, according to the report, the company completed 117 wells in its East Texas field, comprising 5800 acres.

SHARP SETBACK TO WHEAT PRICE ON LOCAL BOARD

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, April 28.—Wheat futures had sharp setback today closing down 3¼ points on May and 2⅞ on July. Corn lost ¾@1⅜c.

The setback was credited to report of moisture at some points where needed and lower than expected Liverpool market. One cable was ⅞@1d lower. The close was 1¼d lower. Further rains were expected tonight in belt. Argentine shipments for week were estimated at increase over week ago and last year.

Winnipeg closed 2@2⅛c net lower.

May wheat opened at 54⅞ and July wheat 57⅜c. May corn opened at 30¼c and July corn 33¼c.

Local wheat receipts, which were 57,400 bushels, compared with 81,200 a week ago and 57,400 a year ago, included 27 cars local and 14 through. Corn receipts, which were 47,600 bushels, compared with 39,200 a week ago and 77,000 a year ago, included 34 cars local. Oats receipts, which were 1200 bushels, compared with 8800 a week ago and 44,000 through. Hay receipts were one car local.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

Sales of cash grain made on the floor of the exchange today were as follows:

SHARP DECLINE IN GRAINS AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Successive rushes of stop loss selling swept wheat and corn prices rapidly downward today, wheat about 3 cents and corn to the lowest level since 1898.

Wheat plunged to almost the quotations of April 8 before the Government issued its sensational domestic winter crop estimate of 458,000,000 bushels for 1932. It was contended in one quarter that as a result of rains the yield would be in excess of the Government's April figure.

With moisture reported where needed by domestic crops, grain prices underwent material setbacks early today.

The lowest prices of the day in wheat were made during the final transactions. Even at the extreme decline, there was little evidence of export business in wheat from the United Stats, although 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was estimated to have been taken for shipment oversets.

A better shipping demand here for corn was more than offset by large rural sales of corn to arrive in Chicago.

Wheat closed unstable at the day's low, 2⅝@3¼c under yesterday's finish; corn, 1½@1¾c down; oats, ⅝@¾c off, and provisions showing 10@20c decline.

Besides, Liverpool wheat quotations were lower than expected.

Opening ¼@1c lower, wheat afterward declined further. Corn started ¼@½c off and continued to decline, equaling the season's low price record.

General selling carried wheat quickly down 2 cents a bushel and then tumbled all deliveries of corn to fresh bottom prices outdoing the record for many years back. A contributing factor was report of an increase of wheat acreage in France, with comment of prospects that the French crop would exceed requirements. Much of the selling of wheat futures came from houses with Eastern connections, and ran the market into stop loss orders.

Advices from some drouth areas of domestic winter crop territory said generous rains had been beneficial to wheat that was not beyond recovery, and that additional moisture tonight appeared probable. Reports from spring wheat districts were also of favorable kind.

Estimates of Argentine wheat exports this week put the total at 5,327,000 bushels, about 1,000,000 more than either the week previous or a year ago. Corn and oats prices faded with wheat.

Provisions went lower, influenced by downturns of hog values and of grain.

Figure Only $5,000,000 in Year Before, Says Report of President.

A net loss of $27,008,310 for 1931, as compared to a loss totaling $5,095,574 during the preceding year, is reported in the annual statement of J. C. Van Eck, president of the Shell Union Oil Corporation. Shell Union Oil Corporation is the parent organization for the Shell Petroleum Corporation.

The 1931 net loss total provides $45,344,100 for depreciation, depletion, intangible drilling cost and surrendered leases. In addition, the company provided out of its cash resources $16,605,880 in 1931 for current capital development and investment.

Current assets on Dec. 31 last, according to the report, were $93,521,578, with liabilities totaling $23,240,379. The year's operations reduced the surplus from $18,821,200 to a deficit of $12,501,109. However, cash, short term and demand loans and United States Treasury short-term obligations on Dec. 31, 1931, amounted to $36,850,913.96, as compared with $25,399,656.36 at the end of 1930.

"While Shell Union has suffered from the bad conditions existing in the industry," Van Eck states, "it has co-operated in every possible way to bring about stabilized conditions and has concentrated its effort upon conserving its cash resources, so as to emerge from the depression with its working capital and strong position unimpaired."

The practice of valuing inventories of crude oil and its products at lower than cost or market values has been maintained, the report indicates, with the notation a total of $31,084,489 was charged for depreciation in 1931, considerably more than the net loss.

Besides Federal income taxes, the report states, Shell Union's operating companies paid $4,590,895 in property and franchise taxes, besides $32,274,990 for state, county and city gasoline taxes. The company's total crude oil production in 1931, according to the report, was 35,766,325 barrels, besides 28,455,000 barrels which were purchased. Total intake of the company's refineries in 1931 was 62,072,243 barrels, compared to 67,299,895 barrels during the preceding year.

BOND LIST UNSETTLED BY SOME RAIL ISSUES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—A sharp decline in some rail bonds today unsettled the loans market. While various issues lowered their prices, many securities of the "first class" maintained a relatively steady tone and some even recorded modest gains.

Among the transportation issues that dropped from 1 to around 5 points were some liens of Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Northwestern, Erie, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Nickel Plate, Pennsylvania, Frisco and Southern Pacific.

Bonds that withstood pressure included Atchison 4s and 4½s, Canadian Pacific debenture 4s, Northern Pacific 4s, American Telephone 5s and 4½s, Cincinnati Gas 4s and Columbia Gas 5s.

The United States Government list, after holding firm most of the session, gave way moderately in the last hour. The declines in this section, however, were moderate.

Utilities and industrials that declined included International Telephone debenture 5s and 4½s, Kansas Gas 4½s, Pacific Gas 5s, Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron 6s, Shell Union Oil 5s, U. S. Rubber 5s and Western Union 5s.

Foreign obligations were mixed. The Argentines firmed, as did the Belgians and the Japanese. French loans eased, along with the Germans and Austrians. Kreuger & Toll 5s were heavy.

The Wrong Wife

by Arthur Somers Roche

CHAPTER TEN.

HE watched her go, inwardly amused. Love, apparently, had no rules. One knew a person for 10 minutes—and loved that person. One knew a person for 10 years—and loved that person. The same little god that had been cavorting about Lake Warumkeg last week-end had bustled down to Manhattan and shot an arrow into the heart of Miss Searles. And, because his stenographer was a nice girl, Cordova hoped that Cupid had also hit Fred Grady of the Banner.

He lunched again at the little Italian place, but decided, in mid-afternoon, that what was good for the employe was also good for the employer, and locked his desk and took a taxi uptown.

It was too late, he thought, to start for any of the beaches. There were half a dozen places on Long Island where he knew he would be welcome, but one had to pay a price for using people's pools or private beaches. One had to enter into the spirit of the occasion; one had to be polite to one's hostess and cordial to her other guests. The Mallet pool, indoors and a trifle stuffy it might be, was better than anything else.

He found Ted Quinton there, played squash for half an hour, and then, streaming with perspiration and limp with fatigue, he plunged into the pool. Half an hour of lazy floating and soaking and he felt a new man. He played a few games of backgammon, declined the usual invitations of the lonesome husbands to make merry, and taxied to his apartment.

He had changed to pajamas and dressing gown and, seated directly in front of a fan, was reading the evening papers as he waited for Webbing to announce the evening meal, when his telephone rang.

"Mr. Cordova? This is Frank Grenfell speaking. Booked for dinner?"

"Why—er—no—I was just waiting for it to be served here," said Cordova.

"Then perhaps you'll come over and relieve my loneliness," suggested Grenfell.

For a moment Cordova hesitated. Dinner was almost ready. He was almost cool and as comfortable as any one could hope to be on this sultry evening. The exertion of clothing himself would be annoying. But Grenfell and Martine and Carmichael had paid him a high compliment. Civility to an older man was a slight return for what they promised to give to him.

"Why, yes," he said. "I'd be delighted."

There was the further fact that Grenfell would probably discuss the political situation and his own recent entrance into it.

"Good," said Grenfell. "The Hadley Chambers, on Fifth avenue. Know where it is?"

CORDOVA smiled slightly. He owned the building.

"I think so," he replied.

"As soon as convenient, then. Don't bother to dress," said Grenfell.

Grenfell's was as superbly furnished an apartment as Cordova had ever seen. The paintings, the tapestries, the color schemes — he wondered, as he awaited his host in a living room to which a servant had ushered him, if the shrieking furniture and decorations of Carmichael's camp ever grated on Grenfell's nerves. But he had little time to wonder, for his host did not keep him waiting long.

He entered the room, bustling of movement, bird-like of eye, and incisive of voice.

"Good of you to come over," he greeted Cordova. "Just got in this afternoon. Stayed over in Boston last night. Lucky to catch you disengaged."

"My good fortune," said Cordova politely.

A man offered cocktails. Cordova shook his head. Grenfell took one.

"Don't touch the stuff?" he asked.

Cordova colored.

"Not while—while I hold office."

Grenfell sipped his drink and nodded approval.

"Sorry. Have some Chablis I thought you might like. Well, I'll drink for two."

But Cordova, noting that Grenfell's glass was returned to the tray only half-consumed, doubted this.

Dinner was simple, but perfect. The jellied consomme, the filet of sole, the green salad, the strawberries smothered in whipped cream—it was exactly the sort of a dinner one ought to eat on so hot a night and if Cordova mistrusted the white blobs of cream, he chanced their after effect.

With coffee, served in a library, Grenfell shifted the talk from generalities to matters more specific. During the meal, his crisp sentences had taken in continents in monosyllables. He spoke, with a familiarity that indicated personal participation, of the Boer War, the panic of 1907, Roosevelt's African hunt—of a score of unrelated matters.

But now, the servants dismissed, he shifted to personalities.

"Well, you've been thinking over our conversation at the camp, Mr. Cordova."

It was not a question; it was an assertion.

"Naturally," admitted Cordova.

"Looked like a bigger job, when you came back here, than it did down in Maine, eh? Scare you?"

"Somewhat," said Cordova.

"The big job—or getting it a big job?"

"Well, both," laughed Cordova.

"You're not far wrong, either way," said Grenfell. "Well, what do your friends say?"

> SYNOPSIS.
> Down the sloping lawn of Carmichael's Maine camp came the loveliest girl that Cordova had ever seen. He was an Assistant District Attorney summoned to Maine for a conference with the great Carmichael, former Senator and political boss. To Cordova, Del Carmichael, the politician's niece, appeared as a girl with the soul of a saint. "That," he said to himself, "is the girl I'm going to marry."
> And through a window another niece of Carmichael's stared at Cordova. She had, technically, no beauty; but the discerning would have known that the gray eyes could never hold anything of dissembling. "That," she said, "is the man I am going to marry."
> At dinner Cordova met two of Carmichael's associates, Martine and Grenfell, and Carmichael proceeded to enlighten him on the purpose of his invitation.
> "You're handling the prosecution of the Drovers and Builders Investment Trust. Think you'll get a conviction?"
> "I know I will," he said, emphatically.
> Well, if you do, Cordova, how would you like to be Mayor of New York?"
> Cordova left camp in love with Del Carmichael, but Deb had been so genuinely interested in his acceptance of her uncle's suggestion that she helped Cordova keep his political self-respect When he got back to New York he found Grady, of the Banner, intent on getting the news of his trip to see Carmichael.
> The same evening he wrote a formal letter to his hostess at the Maine camp, and then impulsively inclosed a love note to "Dearest Del." But when the letter was received at the camp, thanks to his uncertain penmanship, it was delivered by the butler to Miss "Deb" Carmichael instead of to her older cousin.

"My friends?" Cordova's voice was quite honestly mystified.

GRENFELL'S birdlike eyes stared at him. Then he nodded, sparrowlike, in quick approval.

"Never knew Daniel to be wrong. Might have known."

"Known what?" asked Cordova.

"That he'd be right. He said you'd keep your own counsel—and take it. Said you wouldn't talk it over with anyone. Right?"

"Well, yes, he is," assented Cordova.

"Smart lad. The lad that keeps his mouth shut doesn't have to do a lot of explaining. How's the Drovers and Builders' case coming on?"

Grenfell nodded.

"That's fair enough. Not my business. Only with myself and Fred Martine and Daniel backing you—well, it does, in a way, become our business. However—well, anything that's on your mind—Daniel thought it a good idea for us to become better acquainted. I thought so, too. And I've been here and there and other places for a long time, Mr. Cordova. Any time you want a little advice—no one wants it—but if you think you need some, if only to disregard it"——

"I'll remember," said Cordova, laughing. He eyed his host. "The Banner knew I was visiting the Senator," he said.

"Yes," Grenfell was politely interested.

"Sent a reporter around to see me yesterday—day before."

"I read yesterday's Banner last night, in Boston," said Grenfell. "Didn't see anything about you."

"I said nothing," said Cordova "And—Ganley—Mr. Grenfell, I do need advice, I guess. Ganley—of the Drovers and Builders—telephoned me, wanting a private meeting."

Grenfell leaned forward quickly.

"You saw him?"

Cordova shook his head.

"I didn't make an appointment. But—this morning, he was waiting at my door. He insisted on talking to me. Acted half mad. Hinted that politics were behind his prosecution. Begged me to see him privately. I refused again."

"Quite right," said Grenfell.

He leaned back in his chair, and lighted a slim cigar.

"DANIEL wants you to come down again soon."

"I'd love it," said Cordova.

"Great man, Daniel," said Grenfell. "Bachelor all his life. Devoted to his nieces."

"I noticed that," said Cordova. "They seem devoted to him, too."

"Nice girls," said Grenfell.

"Delightful," said Cordova.

"Remarkable pair," said Grenfell. "Delmar has as keen a mind as any man."

"She seemed to," agreed Cordova. "So has the other girl."

"Of course," said Grenfell. "But Del—well, she's brilliant."

"And beautiful," said Cordova.

"Perfect," said Grenfell. "If I were a younger man—she told me, if I saw you, to say that she hoped you'd be down again soon."

"Did she really say that?" asked Cordova, eagerly.

Grenfell's eyes flickered faintly.

"Yes. Maybe we can get down together."

"I hope so," said Cordova.

The telephone rang and Grenfell answered it.

"Why, y-e-s," he said reluctantly. "But can't it be postponed until tomorrow? W-e-l-l, if you must."

He hung up and turned apologetically to Cordova.

"Man wants to see me; important business"——

"Why, of course," said Cordova. "Kind of you to ask me over, Mr. Grenfell."

"Nice of you to come," said the older man. "I'll keep in touch with you, Mr. Cordova. Perhaps in a couple of days we could dine together again."

"I hope so," said Cordova. He shook hands with his host and was ushered out of the apartment. As the door closed behind him, Grenfell picked up the telephone. Although he had hung up, this was evidently an extension, for a servant spoke to him.

"Senator Carmichael is still on the wire, sir."

"Connect him," said Grenfell. Then, "Oh, Dan, Cordova was here. Just left. Ganley's trying to get to him privately. But the young sap won't see him privately. And, oh—the Banner is on to something. Sent someone to interview him about his visit to you. He didn't talk. That's all. Except that he agrees with me that Delmar is the loveliest of her sex. She might want to know. So long, Dan."

He hung up, smiling, went to his desk, and occupied himself with his affairs. But for an hour the smile lingered on his lips.

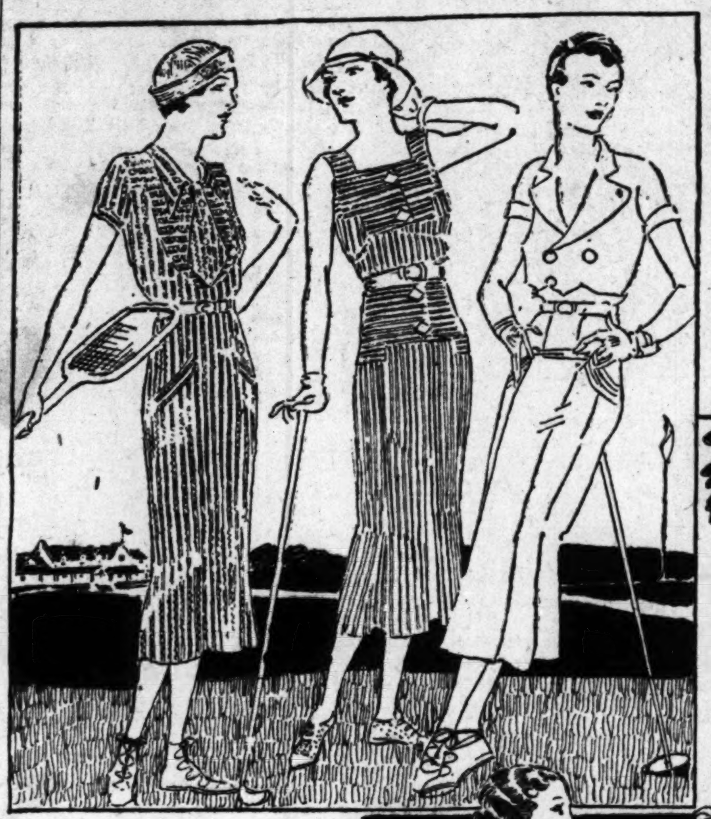
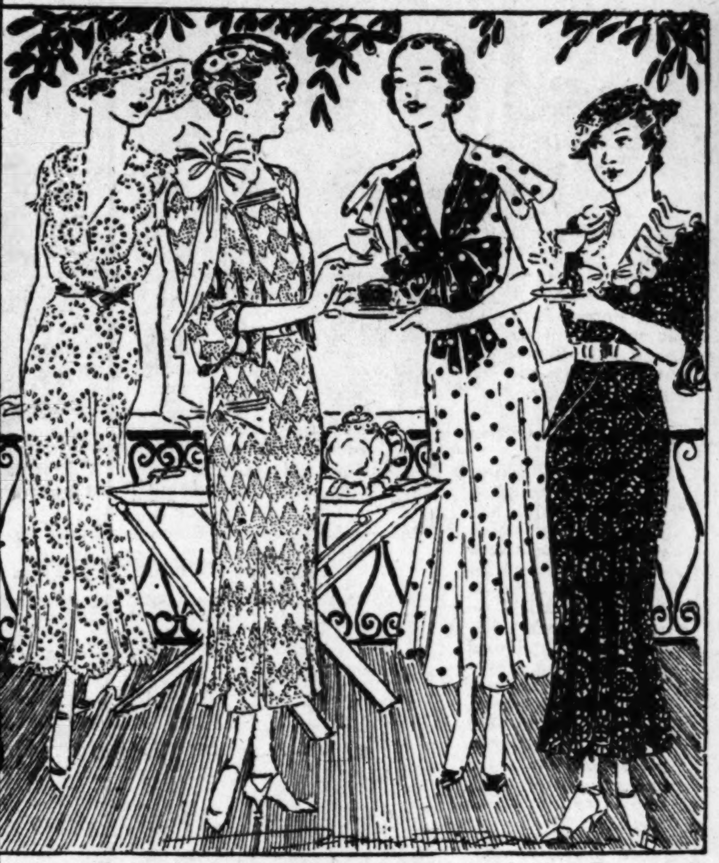
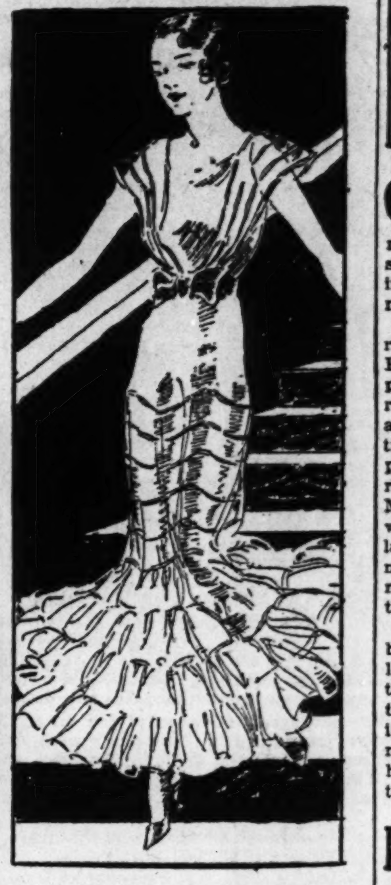
Cotton Comes Into Its Own Again

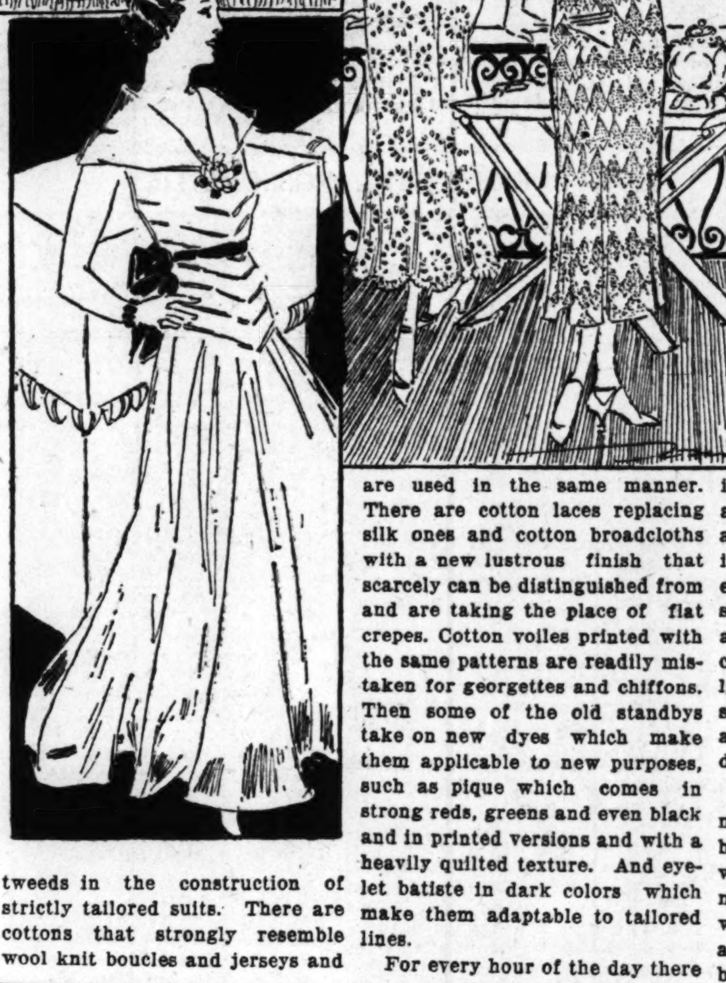
It Is Fashionable for Day and Night Wear—Mesh Makes Stylish Clothes for Sports—Some Cottons Resemble Tweeds.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.









WEAR cotton every hour of the day and night and be smartly dressed. This is not propaganda for our cotton planting neighbors, not an answer to their plea, "Use more cotton." It is a question of fashion, not economics. It just happens that Fashion in one of her capricious moods, is giving the cotton growers a break. However, Fashion seldom is to be suspected of a worthy motive and so it also happens that while her list of smart summer fabrics includes such old, almost forgotten names as sateen, percale, dimity, seersucker, gingham, calico, batiste, lawn, pique and organdie it embraces other materials not of cotton derivation such as linen, crash and rayon. Anything washable would be a broader and more accurate classification of the new mode. After many summers of garments that had to be sent to the dry cleaners instead of to the laundress, the change is radical enough to convince us that Fashion has a hand in it. Then, many new weaves of cotton and many new applications are further evidence that Fashion is in earnest about the vogue of cotton.

There are cottons that look exactly like tweed and are used like tweeds in the construction of strictly tailored suits. There are cottons that strongly resemble wool knit boucles and jerseys and are used in the same manner. There are cotton laces replacing silk ones and cotton broadcloths with a new lustrous finish that scarcely can be distinguished from and are taking the place of flat crepes. Cotton voiles printed with the same patterns are readily mistaken for georgettes and chiffons. Then some of the old standbys take on new dyes which make them applicable to new purposes, such as pique which comes in strong reds, greens and even black and in printed versions and with a heavily quilted texture. And eyelet batiste in dark colors which make them adaptable to tailored lines.

For every hour of the day there is a cotton frock. For morning and sports wear three examples are sketched, one in cotton mesh in a pastel shade, one in seersucker, one in pique. The striped seersuckers, rough and ready as they are and simply tailored, are fit companions to the utilitarian easily laundered suits that have been so popular with the men. They are, in fact, being called "buddies."

In the second sketch, for afternoon, two versions of the eyelet batiste frock are pictured, one in white, the other in dark blue made with a coat and frilled white blouse. Eyelet batiste is a hangover from last year's modes but destined to continue popular in its many new shades, dark blues, browns, reds, greens and purples added to white and pastel colors.

Spun rayon, having a broche pattern against a lacy background makes the bolero suit in this group and dotted dimity, blue with white dots combined with red with white dots, the other.

THE evenings frocks sketched are of organdie, one white with cherry red velvet belt and bow, the other nile green with green peau de soie belt and pippings, but they might have been of dotted swiss, eyelet embroidered organdie, cotton lace, fine muslin, lawn or some other of the cottons being used for evening.

Not only openly in the day but underneath and by night has cotton come into its own. Cotton dimity and printed lawn step-ins and bandeaux are offered alongside silk and rayon underthings and outrivaling them in daintiness, freshness, colorfulness as well as novelty and inexpensiveness. Batiste is particularly adaptable to the new tailored styles in night gowns with their bindings and appliques in contrasting pastel shades. And of course there is no limit to the adaptability of cotton materials to pajamas.

Impure Water.

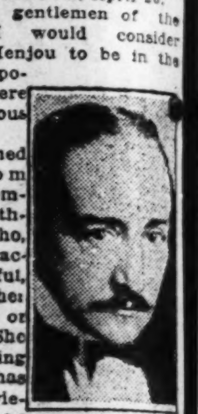
When the water in the cistern seems impure, dissolve one pound of alum in one quart of water and pour this into the cistern, stirring thoroughly with a long pole. Repeat the process in 12 hours and then allow 12 hours more to settle. The water will then be clear and fit for use.

Behind the Screens

by Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD, April 25.

OF all the gentlemen of the cinema I would consider Adolphe Menjou to be in the most enviable position if one were in an envious mood.



ADOLPHE MENJOU

Menjou returned recently from Europe, in company with Kathryn Carver, who, although attractive and beautiful, plays no other role than that of Mrs. Menjou. She was his leading lady once, but has not been movie-minded since their marriage.

He was at work on "Fancy-Free" before he had been in town very long. On the set the other day he talked casually about his plans, although he says he doesn't believe in making plans. In England he made a couple of pictures, and now he has three to make in Hollywood this summer.

IN the autumn he may go to New York to do a stage play—but that depends on the material offered. He is inclined to be choosy. After that, or before in case the play doesn't suit him, he may go back to Europe to work for one of the film companies there a while—again in response to offers.

There are no contracts to tie him. He can travel, or stay home in Hollywood, and find new parts anywhere. He is, in fact, the perfect "citizen of the world" among film actors. And the bank account grows all the while. He has no villa or "country home" abroad to drain it.

THE same linquistic ability that makes him feel at home in the countries of Europe is his passport to film opportunities in all of them.

Excepting Charles Chaplin and Mickey Mouse, Menjou is the nearest approach to an "international star" the screen has. He speaks English, French, Spanish, German and Italian.

Garbo has made pictures in German and Swedish, Ramon Novarro has done Spanish and French versions. Douglas Fairbanks Jr., a French version or two—but Menjou almost "covers the world."

If you ask My Opinion

by Martha Carr

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: At last I am coming to you with my problem. I've tried to work it out myself and just can't. I am in my third year at high school and get good grades, I am considered good looking and love to watch and take part in sports. I like to dance and last, but I hope not least, I am a "nice" girl—do not smoke, drink, "pet" or swear. These, you see, are what I believe to be my assets. But people always think I am angry—just my natural facial expression. I have been told about this so many times that now I am always conscious of it and try terribly hard to "look pleasant," which results, I suppose, in something terrible to look at. But really I am in the best of humor. And, Mrs. Carr, how can I get acquainted with the fellows I want to know? There are some in my class I'd love to know, but I never look at them or smile for fear they will think I'm flirting. Do fellows think that, if a girl smiles and starts talking to them? Right now there is a boy I'd like to know but he is bashful or something. Honestly, it's worse than it seems and I need and want your advice so much.

NOT A FLIRT.

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," may not apply to you; but it is likely to apply well to many persons who wear an excellent description of their natures on their faces. A kindly feeling and a "funny bone"—can't you concentrate upon these sometimes? If you haven't any jokes inside of you, get some, even if it must be slapstick comedy to start with. Cultivate sympathy with the unfortunate any time, anywhere; if it is only with a dog who is yelping along. He's as scared as anything in the world could be. Smile, even if it is sickly at first. You'll get the habit.

As to the boys in class. Usually there is no necessity for extreme formality; at the same time boys haven't a great deal of respect for a girl who is "fresh." You needn't speak first, better let them do that; but then—there is no law against smiling a little, even if, most of the time, it seems to be directed (but doesn't fool him) right over his head.

DEAR MARTHA CARR: I see so many of your letters in the Post-Dispatch and just had to write you. I have been bedfast over a year and though I am getting better I cannot work at all. My mother who is in another city, also is very poor, but is willing to keep me if I can get there. The train fare would be around $18. Can you tell me if there is some way I can get there through a charity association? I would be glad to pay it back if ever I am able to work.

P. F. W.

The Provident Association and the St. Vincent de Paul Society sometimes help in such cases. Write the former at 2221 Locust street and the other at 111 North Sixteenth. The latter is a Catholic organization.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 20 years old and in love with a girl two years my senior. Do you think it advisable for a fellow to marry so young? I think we would match perfectly. Do you think we could get along on $22.50 a week?

A WONDERER.

It has been done, of course, that young and with that amount of money. But I don't think you need rush, because if you are just "cut out" for each other a little delay will not hurt. By the way, have you anything saved from that amount? If not, better put by (try and see if you can) a little in a savings account before you get married.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Will it be all right to wear a dotted swiss dress to an informal dance to be given at a hotel the latter part of May? Do you think it will look cheap? What wrap would you suggest I wear? I have heard that some of the girls are going to wear sport dresses.

CO.

If the evening is warm, the dotted swiss will look all right; quite fresh and pretty. One of the little short velvet or taffeta jackets will be all that is necessary unless you are going on a street car, in that case a longer coat would be better.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I have a friend who puzzles me. When we get out of his car he hurries out on his side and comes around to my side, opens the door and helps me out. Sometimes I forget and beat him to it. Don't you think this habit is a bit troublesome, or shall I let him do it?

YOUR FRIEND.

I think the young man knows what is the polite custom and has been trained in good manners. I hope you haven't embarrassed him by misunderstanding. If you have, don't do it again and expose your ignorance.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: If you will put me in touch with the girl who signed herself "C. B." in Saturday's column I can be of assistance to her in making her garden. In spite of soot, boys and dogs, I have kept up a very creditable garden, and have found out a good bit by experimenting. And also I have iris and a number of perennials, which will be helpful in the always difficult start of a garden.

E. B.

"If "C. B." will send me her address, I shall be glad to give it to this reader who has offered her generous help. Knowing as I do, just what this means, I am as pleased, as the young gardener will be, with the suggestion.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Is it proper to sign a personal picture given to girls who attend school with me; aunts in distant cities; a young man I have known over two years and date occasionally, who has many times asked for one?

"DIZ."

Your own feelings and taste should suggest the specific way in which you would sign these pictures, though I can tell you that a signed photograph always seems a little more of a compliment and a little more interesting, than one sent unsigned. "To my friend (or pal), Mary, from Alixe;" "Dearest Aunt Marie from Alixe" or "with love from Alixe." The last you could sign "Alixe."

DEAR MRS. CARR: Would you please tell me where I could obtain information concerning a position as librarian in St. Louis? Would a person who has lived away from St. Louis four years be allowed to enter the vocational school conducted by the School Board? I attended St. Louis schools and my parents are still taxpayers here.

F. L. R.

Write to the St. Louis Public Library, Thirteenth and Olive and the Hadley Vocational School at 3419 Bell, St. Louis.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Is it all right for girls to attend parties at bachelor apartments unchaperoned? There are always at least three couples and the parties last until about 2 a. m. The girls know the boys well and are all over 21 years old. My mother objects seriously, but told me to ask your opinion.

ANXIOUS.

It certainly is most unconventional, to say the least. I should not like a daughter of mine to subject herself to the comments which that sort of indifference to social customs might bring upon her. It is not worth it.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

North American Animals

"A FEW animals await you Don't be long. Your friend, Surprises, the Magic Maker."

Peggy and John found this note on top of their toy box, and they hurried down to the magic path where they saw Surprises, the Magic Maker, waiting for them.

"Hello," he called.

"Hello," shouted John and Peggy.

"You haven't seen any of the animals in Asia, Europe or South America as yet," he said, "but you have, in the past, visited many of the North American ones. There are a few you missed that are anxious to see you."

"Oh, let's see them," John said. "We've seen the members of the Walrus family and polar bears and seals and reindeer up North and we've seen the moose down around New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and caribou and bears in the Northwestern mountains, and prairie dogs in the West and opossums in the South."

"Mercy me, mercy me, mercy me," said Surprises, the Magic Maker, "what a lot of geography you do know!"

"Well," hesitated John, "maybe —when it's about animals!"

First they went to call on some muskrats.

"Look, Surprises," said John, "they build tunnels right under the water which lead into their homes in the river banks."

They visited porcupines next, and one porcupine said to Peggy:

"None of our family can endure zoo life. If a dog comes too near our quills stick into him because they will come out very easily but we can't 'throw' them, as is sometimes said."

And then the porcupines squealed their goodbyes, such friendly, pleasant little squeals.

If you are blessed with an electric refrigerator be sure to wipe off the unit and tray and dry it thoroughly each time the box is defrosted.

I. C. C. APPROVES FRISCO LOAN BUT CRITICISES ROAD'S CAPITALIZATION

Compared With Commission's Valuation, It Says Line's Liabilities Exceed Its Assets by $191,124,391.

ADVISES CUTTING OF FIXED CHARGES

Does Not Think Company Can Otherwise Operate Successfully — Part of $1,800,000 Lent Is to Pay Taxes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 29. — The Interstate Commerce Commission announced today that it had approved a loan of $1,800,000 by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway.

The major portion of the loan is to be used to pay taxes in Missouri, Kansas and Alabama. The remainder will be used to pay equipment trust obligations due during May.

In February the Frisco applied to the commission for a loan of $12,717,814 from the Reconstruction Corporation to cover its needs during 1932. Following its practice of approving from time to time only loans to cover immediate needs, the commission on Feb. 24 approved a loan of $2,805,175.

The two loans, which total $4,605,175, run for three years. The security required by the commission for the first loan was $4,014,000 of the railroad company's bonds and for the second $3,679,000 of bonds.

Says Road Is Overcapitalized.

In granting the St. Louis-San Francisco loan, the commission said the company was "over-capitalized" and that the commission does "not believe that this carrier can operate successfully in the future without a reduction of its fixed charges."

The commission, in valuing the common carrier property of the road, fixed its worth at $288,383,902 as of Jan. 31, 1932, by adding to its valuation as of June 30, 1918, the worth of properties taken into the system since that time and additions and betterments to the line. There are some properties not included which the commission held were not being used for common carrier purposes.

The book value placed on the property by its officers is $421,304,029, with other investments aggregating $11,957,537. Against this as liabilities was $114,701,526 of capital stock and $292,806,767 of unmatured funded debt, leaving a surplus of $13,795,736 in capitalizable assets over capital liabilities. Current liabilities, exclusive of cash and material and supplies, were fixed at $13,800,000.

Puts Debts Higher Than Assets.

The report pointed out that by comparison with the commission valuation, the road's capital liabilities were $119,124,391 in excess of assets.

"However," the report added, "we do not suggest that the sum of $288,383,902 necessarily represents the present value of the property or measures the amount of capitalizable assets."

Attention was called to previous criticisms along the same line.

"In all of these cases," the commission continues, "our conclusions were influenced by the fact that the applicant is overcapitalized. The same fact was in mind when we authorized the issue and pledge of certain securities upon the express condition that upon their final release from pledge and repledge under the authority of our orders and such subsequent orders as we might enter, these securities should forthwith be canceled and destroyed.

Too Many Bonds.

"In addition to the condition of overcapitalization the proportion of bonds to capital stock is excessive. We do not believe that this carrier can operate successfully in the future without a reduction of its fixed charges.

"Therefore, in connection with the approval of a further loan herein, we shall impose the condition that the applicant agree to submit for our approval prior to July 1, 1932, a plan which will result in such a reduction."

Says Capone Got Rid of Scar.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 29.—C. Ray Hansen, former Chicago prosecutor, today told the Lancaster Rotary Club "Scarface" Al Capone has had a plastic surgeon remove the scar from his cheek since he has been in jail in Chicago.
